LEWIS' 3D TERM BLAST LINKED TO FEAR FOR CIO

Acts to Still Demand for Labor Peace.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The story behind recent fulminations of John L. Lewis, dictator of the Congress of Industrial organizations, against the Roosevelt administration was revealed today by independent union sources which are on terms of amity and neutrality with both the C. I. O. and the American Federation of Labor.

John L. Lewis.

Lewis' implied threat to oppose President Roosevelt for a third term in 1940 has only one purpose, these authoritative sources declare, and that is to force Mr. Roosevelt to cease his demands for peace between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. The New Dealers want peace between the labor organizations because they fear, with good reason, that the A. F. of L. will go Republican, and hope to avert this by tempering the A. F. of L. with the pro-third term membership of the C. I. O.

Lewis, however, does not want the A. F. of L. to swallow the C. I. O. because his position in the combined organization would be subordinate to that of President William Green. In fact, he would be president of the United Mine Workers, and nothing else.

C. I. O. Unions Disrupted.

The C. I. O. is a bankrupt organization, rapidly disintegrating and facing collapse. Its domination by the communist party, established officially by the Dies committee on un-American activities, has disrupted its unions to such an extent that it now has no more than 1,250,000 dues paying members.

It began in November, 1935, with seven A. F. of L. unions and a dues paying membership of 1,000,000. Two years later, responsible labor economists granted it more than 3,000,000 members, altho many of them never paid dues. The A. F. of L. has gained not only a million members to compensate for the C. I. O. defection, but an additional million, giving it a present dues paying membership of approximately 4,000,000.

Lewis' presidential report to the C. I. O. convention, held in October at San Francisco, Cal., mentioned neither finances nor membership.

Miners Put Up $500,000.

The only financially powerful union in the C. I. O. is Lewis' United Mine Workers, which has been forced not only to contribute its proportionate support to the national organization, but to pay the way of the many C. I. O. "paper" unions—organizations with fantastic membership claims but no dues coming in.

Since the beginning of the C. I. O. organization drive in 1936, the mine workers have contributed more than [illegible],000,000 to the national organization in per capita taxes, loans, and gifts. They put up $500,000 of the more than $600,000 raised by Lewis for President Roosevelt's re-election in 1936.

Only yesterday, Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the mine workers, announced the imposition of two additional $1 special assessments on the [illegible],000 members, which will raise [illegible],000. These additional burdens are being placed upon the mine workers because the C. I. O. revenue from per capita taxes is not sufficient to meet operating expenses.

Cease Distributing Report.

The last published report of the mine workers showed that during the period from June 1, 1938, to Dec. 1, 1938, Lewis' C. I. O. took a total of [illegible],377 from their treasury, in addition to the per capita taxes of [illegible],000. Kennedy formerly sent the semi-annual financial reports to all members of the mine workers' union, but this practice has been discontinued because of the volume of complaints against the draining of their treasury for other C. I. O. unions.

At previous peace negotiations between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., A. F. of L. leaders demanded that Lewis permit a certified public accountant to audit the membership.

Gang of 13 Escapes St. Charles

ATTACK GUARD, FLEE UNWALLED STATE SCHOOL

Police Radio Squads Block Roads.

Thirteen inmates of the St. Charles School for Boys, described as among the oldest and most dangerous of the young criminals in the institution, escaped last night by overpowering a husky guard in the recreation hall of one of the school cottages.

76

A state police radio blockade extending as far south as Pontiac was set up immediately. Squads of deputy sheriffs from surrounding counties joined school attendants and guards in the search. Early this morning none of the fugitives had been captured.

The wholesale escape was the largest in the five years in which William T. Harmon has been superintendent at St. Charles. It raised from 63 to 76 the number of inmates who have escaped this year.

Eleven Are Parole Violators.

Ages of the fugitives ranged from 17 to 20 years. There were three Negroes among them. Eleven of the thirteen had been paroled one or more times and returned to the school for violation of parole. Supt. Harmon refused to disclose the nature of the crimes for which the young men were committed, but assured anxious residents of the Fox River valley there were no sex offenders among them.

Supt. Harmon warned Sheriff Marcus A. Damisch of Kane county and other law officers to use caution in approaching any of the fugitives.

"They're tough and will fight," said Supt. Harmon.

Sheriff Damisch and Capt. Herman Nofs of the state police began searching farm houses near the school where it was believed some of the inmates would seek shelter.

Twenty inmates were in the basement recreation room of Cleveland cottage, one of the thirteen cottages on the grounds, when the signal for the escape was given shortly after the supper hour.

Beat Guard, Steal Key.

While seven inmates who refused to join in the break stood aside, the others ganged Fletcher Thompson, 25 years old, colored, an assistant recreational director. He is 6 feet 2½ inches tall and weighs 180 pounds, but at the hands of some of the more powerful hoodlums he was helpless. They beat him, bore him down into a chair, and took his keys. When they couldn't find the key to an outer basement door, they returned and forced Thompson to open it for them.

Fifteen other inmates, with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Iftner, the house mother and father, were upstairs reading and studying while the escape was in progress. Thompson quickly recovered and informed Supt Harmon. The alarm was sent out. The fleeing inmates disappeared in a southwesterly direction. It was believed they quickly split up into groups of two and three, the better to avoid capture.

All Wear Dark Mackinaws.

The young men were wearing dark gray mackinaws, knitted black caps, and blue overall pants. Their names, ages, homes, and the dates they were first committed to St. Charles follow:

Joseph Sullivan, 19 years old, Belvidere, March 5, 1937.

John Schaney, 20, Freeport, Feb. 23, 1932.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—Naval and coast guard vessels bucked an Atlantic gale tonight to search for a British freighter which last night flashed word she had been attacked by a submarine about 680 miles from New York.

The scene of the attack as reported by the freighter Coulmore, a 352 foot collier, was 62.31 degrees west of Greenwich, 100 miles inside the Pan-American neutrality zone fixed at the recent Panama conference.

Official quarters here said that if it were established that a submarine had fired a torpedo within the neutral zone the United States would consult immediately with other American republics as to what steps to take.

The diplomatic action probably would result in a protest to the offending power, either by the United States and the other American republics individually or by joint action. At the Panama conference no decision was made as to just what action would be taken if the neutral zone were violated.

Shifts Search to North.

The coast guard cutter Bibb, one of a number of craft searching for the Coulmore, reached her position this morning but found no sign of the 3,670 ton freighter or of survivors. Thirty-four men and the captain's wife were aboard.

The Bibb scoured the surface of the sea in that vicinity and then turned north to search in that direction. It reported a gale blowing from the south.

The bad weather forced two coast guard airplanes which joined the search to turn back to their bases at New York and Cape May, N. J., without reaching the Coulmore's reported position.

The coast guard had the cutters Hamilton, Campbell, Chelan, Argo, and Duane in the search as well as the Bibb. The navy joined the quest with the cryptic comment that its ships were helping in "saving life at sea."

41 Rescued Off Brontë.

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The sinking of the 5,317 ton British steamer Brontë was disclosed today with the arrival in England of her crew aboard a rescue vessel. The crew of forty and one passenger were rescued by a ship which attempted to tow the crippled Brontë to port after it had been attacked by a submarine. The attempt at towing failed, the crew reported, and the Brontë sank.

GERMANS STEER FLINT ON A ZIGZAG COURSE OFF NORWAY'S COAST

BERGEN, Norway, Nov. 1 (AP).—The American freighter City of Flint, expected to pass Bergen tomorrow, was believed tonight to be worming a blockade dodging course southward along the irregular coast of Norway.

Norwegian authorities kept secret any information they might have about the freighter, which is being sailed by a German prize crew, but shipping circles here expressed the belief the ship was nearing waters in the vicinity of Bergen.

The last direct information on the vessel was the report of her being sighted yesterday off Lodingen light, 600 miles north of here, en route from Murmansk, soviet Russian Arctic port, to some port in Germany.

MUSH OVER SNOW WASTES TO SAVE WOMAN AND BABY

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 1 (AP).—Two men mushed a dog team over the snow covered wastes of interior Alaska today in an effort to rescue a mother and her 17 day old baby stranded two nights in a grounded airplane.

Concern was expressed for the health of Mrs. Christian Beckman and her infant daughter after the temperature dropped to 4 degrees above zero last night. With them at the little lake where a snowstorm forced down the plane Monday were Pilot Jimmy Dodson and Ole Blendheim, a passenger.

Progress of the dog team was reported slow because one man had to go ahead on snowshoes to break trail. The rescue party was forced to take an around about course of 25 miles on a river for the 12 mile trip from McGrath to the scene. Additional supplies for the stranded group were dropped from the air today. Mrs. Beckman, about 26, is the wife of a mine operator at Ophir. She was flying home from the Fairbanks hospital.

Congresswoman Fears 'Ghosts' in Arms Ban Vote

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—One of the four women members of the house, Representative Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.], expressed fear tonight that she would become a permanent insomnia victim if she voted to repeal the arms embargo. "I think," she said, "that I should walk the halls at night thereafter, like Lady MacBeth, rubbing blood stains from my hands."

Germans Sink Own Ship to Avoid Capture

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Nov. 1 [Sp[illegible]].—The dramatic story of how a German tanker was sunk by her crew to prevent the ship from being captured by a British cruiser somewhere in the Caribbean was told here today.

The story came from reliable sources after the cruiser Despatch had passed thru the Panama canal into the Pacific yesterday.

Defies Order to Stop.

The Despatch met the tanker Emmy Friederich in the Caribbean on Oct. 24. The German ship was running without lights and announced she was a neutral vessel. The captain, in answer to a query from the cruiser as to why the ship was darkened, replied he was having trouble with the lights.

Ordered to stop, the tanker proceeded on her way. The captain notified the Despatch his ship was having engine trouble, too. At an order from the warship to "stop or else," the tanker halted.

Boarded by an armed party from the cruiser, the Emmy Friederich was found to be carrying a crew of about 40 Germans, who were standing beside the tanker's lifeboats.

Crew Opens Seacocks.

The captain appeared on deck and told a British officer:

"Well, gentlemen, there is nothing you can do. We have opened the seacocks and have smashed the valves so they cannot be closed again. We are sinking, so we had better take to the lifeboats at once."

Members of the boarding party and the tanker's crew left the ship immediately. The Despatch stood by while the vessel sank, carrying with her 40,000 barrels of Mexican oil.

It was indicated that the crew of the tanker was transferred by the Despatch to some other ship or landed somewhere, possibly in Jamaica, for internment.

Poor Dears! They Act Like Two Beasts in Beauty Shop

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP).—Four deer appeared in a thickly populated suburb here today and two leaped thru a beauty parlor's plate glass window. Operator Jeanette Bates ducked behind a dryer. Screaming, her customer, 11 year old Arline Schneider, leaped too—thru a rear door. The deer raced about the shop. One jumped out the smashed window. The second shattered thru another window.

REDS SWAP SUBMARINES FOR HITLER'S CARGO SHIPS

HOLLAND CLAMPS MARTIAL LAW ON NAZI FRONTIER

Tighten Censorship

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Nov. 1.—Netherlands correspondents in Berlin complain of a change in the German attitude toward neutral newspaper men, including stricter control of news, discontinuation of press conferences, restrictions in telephone connections, and postal delays. Some quarters believe the difficulties indicate that an important German action is being prepared.

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Nov. 1 (AP).—A royal decree tonight established martial law in The Netherlands key defense communities, including 500 of the nation's 1,200 smaller towns and villages, to bolster military plans and curb espionage.

Informed circles said the decree, which covered parts of eight of The Netherlands' 11 provinces, was precautionary and did not result from any external threats of violation of the country's neutrality.

[Germany is reported to have massed troops recently along the frontiers of Holland and Belgium. A Paris dispatch last night said British planes had spent the day photographing the concentration areas.]

Most of Areas Face Nazis.

The whole of Utrecht province, except for its capital of the same name, was placed under martial law. This province is in central Netherlands and has a vital rôle in the plans to inundate parts of the country to protect the most populous areas if Holland is invaded.

The towns and villages affected are scattered over all of Holland, but most of them are along the German-Netherlands border, the northern and western seacoast districts, and in the region which would be inundated.

Flood Test Already Made.

A small section of Utrecht already has been flooded to test the water defense line.

The strategic island of Ameland, off the north coast, also was named in the proclamation.

[A dispatch from Paris last night stated that Holland and Belgium, which made tests of water defenses first in September, were renewing them. Holland was said to be testing especially in the vicinity of Amersfoort, south of the Zuider Zee. Altho there were heavy rains in October, it was said sluices were being opened to saturate the soil and make rapid flooding possible. Canals have been maintained almost at full capacity.]

Press Freedom Promised.

Authoritative quarters said the decree was not directed against the liberty of the press and that no action was contemplated toward suppression of any publication.

Premier Jan de Geer threatened yesterday that martial law might be used to prevent circulation of organs of the Netherlands National Socialist party.

The military is empowered by the decree to suspend all civil functions, but officials said military measures would be taken only in case of emergency. Military authorities could forbid entrance to the martial law areas, expel undesirable persons, close cafés and theaters, forbid public meetings and ration food.

Russian Craft to Be Manned by Nazis Under Treaty.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 1.—Germany's fleet of submarines was reported today to have been greatly enlarged under the terms of a secret treaty negotiated by the Moscow and Berlin governments.

The treaty places at the disposal of the German navy a large number of Russian submarines from various flotillas, including those in the Baltic and Black seas and at Murmansk on the Arctic ocean. The soviet government was reported to have agreed to permit German crews to go to Russia to man the soviet submarines.

May Transfer Cargo Ships.

It was further stated that the Nazi government has agreed to transfer to Russia a number of German cargo ships now in soviet ports as payment for this assistance.

[Sigrid Schultz, The Tribune's correspondent in Berlin, said in a dispatch on Tuesday that Russia wants 17 German ships which sought refuge in soviet ports at the beginning of the war. The dispatch asserted that three soviet admirals would visit Berlin in November to perfect "Russian-German naval coöperation."]

Of Russia's total of 150 submarines, 50 were reported to be assigned to the Baltic fleet, another 20 at the port of Alexandrovsk near Murmansk, and the remainder in the Black sea and at Vladivostok in the far east.

The diving boats range in size from 375 to 1,300 tons. Twenty-two of the 375 ton submarines are stationed in the Baltic. The Russians also have developed a special type of minelaying submarine of 600 tons.

German naval engineers are expected at Leningrad and Murmansk shipyards to hasten the completion of other submarines.

INSIST RUSSIA WILL HELP

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Nazi newspapers today described Vyacheslav Molotov, Russian premier and foreign commissar, as Germany's star witness in the reich's argument that England and France are responsible for starting and continuing the war "because they [the empires] want to defend their domination of the world."

German officials insisted they were not disappointed by Molotov's failure to proclaim a military alliance with Germany at this moment in his address before the soviet council [parliament] yesterday.

Expect Military Aid.

"The entire speech makes it most clear that Russia is determined to coöperate most closely with Germany along all lines," these officials asserted. "This would include coöperation on military lines if the necessity develops for such a course in the coming weeks or month."

[Molotov said Britain and France are carrying on the war with Germany not to preserve democracy or to restore Poland but to safeguard their vast colonial possessions and maintain their world supremacy. He declared German and Russian relations are being placed on an increasingly solid and friendly basis.]

Likened to Roosevelt.

"Molotov followed the example of Roosevelt," the Hamburger Fremdenblatt said. "He let the world know that the feelings of the Russian people have chosen the party with which they will side. While the American President sought to inspire sympathy for the allies—altho he restricted it to neutrality—his Russian counterpart made it clear that he finds himself compelled to condemn the English and French as responsible for this imperialistic war."

The newspaper added that Germans and Russians contend "it is impossible to fight or defeat political and social ideologies—or other political creeds—thru war."

Hitler Summons Envoys.

BERLIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Germany started calling the roll of her ambassadors tonight to determine whether the war situation was altered by such developments as the Russian-Finnish negotiations, Russia's outline of her foreign policy, and axis relations with Turkey.

Count Friederich Werner von der Schulenburg, German ambassador to Moscow, was summoned home to make a report which an authorized spokesman said "certainly should be good news." He will fly to Berlin tomorrow.

Hans-Georg Viktor von Mackensen, Nazi ambassador to Italy, already has submitted his observations on the significance of yesterday's shake-up in the Fascist leadership and Premier Mussolini's keen interest in Turkish maneuvers. He arrived from Rome earlier in the week.

Von Papen Returns to Turkey.

As to Turkey herself, Ambassador Franz von Papen has been sent back to Ankara after reporting on the circumstances which drew Turkey into the British-French front after she had declined to make a pact with Russia.

There were indications that the changing political situation in eastern Europe from Finland to the Dardanelles was being watched with closest attention by Adolf Hitler and that he desired precise and direct reports from his diplomatic observers.

300 MILE ZONE OFF AMERICAS HIT BY LANDON

Shenandoah, Ia., Nov. 1 (AP).—Alfred M. Landon tonight criticized the declaration of Panama as setting up a hazy new zone on the high seas that raises many questions full of peril to a neutral position.

In an address before the Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church here the 1936 Republican presidential nominee said enforcement of the declaration would be the greatest job ever assumed by any nation in history.

The declaration, agreed to several weeks ago in a Pan-American conference in Panama, sets out a zone, extending roughly 300 miles off American continental shores, in which belligerent activity by warring nations is prohibited.

The United States does not come near to possessing the ability to enforce the declaration, Landon said. He termed the arrangement an illustration of President Roosevelt's "enthusiasm for new and dramatic things."

EDUCATOR SAYS NAZIS NO PERIL TO SCANDINAVIA

It is unlikely that Germany will ever join Russia in an attack on the Scandinavian nations Dr. Franklin Scott of Northwestern university said yesterday at a meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.

Germany's dependence on Swedish high quality steel and on Scandinavian butter, eggs, fish, and other food products, said Dr. Scott, is a definite safeguard for the Scandinavian countries in their quarrels with Russia.

"Germany would be killing the goose that laid the golden egg," he opined. "If she conquered Scandinavia, those nations would lose many vital supplies from Great Britain and the outside world. Production would be reduced and Germany would certainly lose more than she could have gained."

Crown Princess of Italy Expecting a Third Child

ROME, Nov. 1.—Another prince or princess of the house of Savoy is expected in four months, according to a communique issued today. "The minister of the house of his majesty the king emperor has today circulated the news that her royal highness, the Princess of Piedmont, has happily completed her fifth month of pregnancy," the statement said. The princess of Piedmont, who before her marriage was Princess Marie José of Belgium, is the wife of Crown Prince Umberto, heir to the Italian throne. They already have two children—Maria Pia, born in 1934, and Victor Emmanuel, second in line in succession to the throne, born in 1937.

IF NAZIS SEIZE HOLLAND BRITAIN FACES NEW PERIL

Declaration of martial law in parts of the Netherlands last night again gave rise to reports that Germany is contemplating an invasion, either thru the Netherlands or Belgium, to reach North sea ports which might be of great value to the Nazis as bases for an attack on England.

The map on the back page of today's TRIBUNE shows some of the military advantages that might tempt the Germans to such a drive. It also outlines factors that would make the attack difficult.

A conquered Netherlands would give Germany a much more favorable location of airfields and submarine bases for war against England. The flying distance from Emden, Germany, to London is 340 miles. From Rotterdam to London by air is only 200 miles. From Flushing, a Dutch railroad terminus near the Netherlands' southwestern extremity, to the British capital is only 160 miles.

Half Hour Trip to London.

With bases on the North sea, directl. east of the mouth of the Thames, German flight commanders could lead their squadrons to the south coast of England and attack the naval base at Weymouth and the southern ports with more ease than they can now reach less important northern points from Emden. Bristol, a seaport, is 265 miles from Flushing, and Weymouth a few miles more.

Fast planes based at Rotterdam or possibly at Flushing could reach the Tilbury docks near London in little more than a half hour, since 250 to 300 mile-an-hour speeds are possible in modern military aircraft.

Aid for U-Boats.

Similarly, submarines based at Flushing and Rotterdam might effectively raid the British fleet blockading the strait of Dover thru which troops must pass to reach France. The strait is only 100 miles from Flushing. British shipping in the Thames would be even less safe than at present.

Flushing has many advantages other than mere proximity to England. It is on a deep estuary and possesses shipbuilding yards and steel plants.

The Netherlanders declare themselves prepared to resist any invasion from the east, but their principal reliance is on their traditional friend, the sea. A large area, upward of 20 miles wide, lying south of the Zuider Zee, can be flooded with 2 to 6 feet of salt water to halt invading troops.

Soviet Tanks Enter Vilna After Anti-Jewish Riots

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Nov. 1.—About 40 soviet tanks from Vileika entered Vilna last night. The reason was not known. Two hours earlier Lithuanian troops appeared in the streets after an anti-Jewish demonstration in which more than 50 Jews were badly injured. Attacks on Jews and plundering and wrecking of their shops and residences went on practically the whole day.

TUG TAKES FUEL TO MAROONED PERUVIAN FLYERS

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Nov. 1 (AP).—A relief tug with a supply of fuel was en route today to an island 80 miles southwest of here where two Peruvian brothers ended a projected nonstop airplane flight from New York to Lima—little more than 700 miles from their goal.

The flyers, Commander Humberto Gallino of the Peruvian navy and Capt. Victor Gallino of the Peruvian army, said in a message to authorities yesterday that they were forced down by the loss of 200 gallons of gasoline through a leaky tank.

They said they had flown 26 hours and five minutes after leaving New York Sunday afternoon. They covered 3,300 miles of the intended 4,014 mile flight. News of their landing was brought to Posorja, 20 miles from their landing place on Puna Island, by a peasant.

Caribbean Hurricane Blows Out Over Atlantic

New York, Nov. 1 [Special].—A hurricane which roared out of the Caribbean late yesterday passed over the eastern tip of Cuba today. A fringe of the disturbance caused strong winds and high seas in Jamaica, where it was reported that one man drowned and considerable damage done to crops and shipping. The United States weather bureau reported that the storm was greatly diminishing in intensity and appeared to be dissipating. It was charted as traveling in an east-northeasterly direction, which would carry it well off the Florida coast.

Elevator Operator Strike Ties Up Building an Hour

Elevator service was suspended for an hour yesterday morning in the 16 story Butler building, 162 North State street, when the elevator operators went on a strike. The action was taken in sympathy with a strike by janitors in the same building over the dismissal of Herman Panus. The janitors and the building management came to terms quickly and the tenants were able to ride up and down again.

6 MORE AMERICAN SHIPS HALTED AT SEA; TOTAL IS 27

Empires Pay for Cargoes; French Hold Two.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The state department today announced interference by belligerent warships with the voyages of six American ships, raising to 27 the total challenged, searched, sent into port, or seized since the outbreak of war in Europe.

Some of the six lost a portion of their cargoes, but it is understood here that the seized products were paid for by Britain and France or by their merchants.

"In the main," said the statement, "injury to American vessels destined to European ports has not resulted from their diversion from the high seas to belligerent ports."

List of Ships Halted.

The six cases reported by the state department are:

The I. C. White, a tanker owned by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, challenged by an unidentified cruiser on Sept. 7, when 15 miles off shore near Barranquilla, Colombia.

The Eglantine, owned by the Lykes Brothers Steamship company, ordered to stop Sept. 18 by a German submarine. She was told not to use her radio and to send her papers to the submarine for inspection. After an hour and 20 minutes the vessel was permitted to proceed, but advised not to use her radio for three hours.

The Meanticut, owned by Lykes Brothers, ordered by the British on Oct. 23 to proceed to Oran to discharge certain Italian cargo. She was released Oct. 27.

Two Still Held.

The West Gambo, owned by Lykes Brothers, with 750 bales of carbon black, ordered to shore by the French on Oct. 22. There was no word of her release.

The Endicott, owned by the Lykes Brothers, with 2,276 bars of copper and 1,796 bags of carbon black, ordered to shore by the French on Oct. 22. No word of her release has arrived.

The President Harding, owned by the United States Lines, portion of her cargo seized Sept. 9 by the French, but the ship promptly released.

Plane Observing Norwegian City's First Blackout Falls

TRONDHJEM, Norway, Nov. 2, Thursday (AP).—This city of 500,000 held its first air raid defense blackout last night from 4 p. m. until 5 a. m. One of two patroling planes observing the result crashed into the sea. The crew of two was rescued.

Medinah Club Changes Name to Chicago Towers

The Medinah club of Chicago, at 505 North Michigan avenue, has changed its corporate name to Chicago Towers club. The change, effective at once, was announced yesterday by Hal E. Reading, president of the organization. He said the new designation would prevent confusion of the club with any other similarly named organization.

GERMAN BOMBING OF POLAND TOLD BY CHICAGO GIRL

New York, Nov. 1 [Special].—Two American girls, one a Chicagoan, arrived here today on the United States liner President Roosevelt with stories of their experiences during German air raids over Poland at the opening of the war. The liner brought in 539 passengers from Southampton, 327 of them Americans.

The two girls were Miss Halina Majewski, 25 years old, of 2651 Crystal street, Chicago, and Miss Helen Smolensky, 23, of Cleveland. Miss Majewska was in Posen when German bombers, disguised with the Polish air force insignia, swooped down on one of the first air raids of the war. Miss Smolensky told of traveling from Gdynia at the outbreak of war to Warsaw, where she and 400 others lived for two weeks in the basement of the American embassy.

The two girls met at the embassy, and made their way by hard stages via Koenigsberg, Berlin and Hamburg to Britain and the American liner which brought them home.

GERMAN JOBLESSNESS AS A RESULT OF WAR GAINS MOST IN VIENNA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Unemployment in Germany as a result of turning peacetime industry into war industry and reducing consumer industry to a minimum is greatest in Vienna, Dr. Friedrich Syrup, the Nazi party secretary of labor, said today in the periodical Social Practice. The next biggest unemployment problem is in Hamburg and then in Berlin.

Dr. Syrup belittled the present unemployment in Germany, saying that "at present it is hardly half the unemployment found in October of last year." He issued a warning, however, that "it deserves our attention in view of future developments."

The German labor secretary advised establishment of war industries in centers which are strongholds of peacetime industries to absorb workers who lose their peacetime jobs.

NAZIS PUSH INTO FRENCH VILLAGE, BUT ARE ROUTED

Thousand Beaten Back, Paris Reports.

PARIS, Nov. 1 (AP).—German and French troops today continued scouting activities on the western front following an unsuccessful attempt by 1,000 Nazis to seize a French village.

An artillery bombardment lasting an hour was said to have preceded the attack on the French village yesterday.

The Germans held a cluster of houses for a short time before a battalion of poilus counterattacked and drove them back to their original line, the French reported.

Raids Halted on 3 Sectors.

Military dispatches from the Moselle and the Nied river sectors and from the Warndt forest told of French outposts halting German raids in those areas.

The Germans attacked yesterday in an area extending from west of Saarlouis [Saarlautern] to the Blies river valley, east of Saarbruecken, the dispatches said.

Communiques Tell of Action.

The French general staff's communique this morning stated: "Reduced activity during the night." Following is its night communique: "During the day there was habitual activity by infantry contact elements on both sides at various points of the [western] front."

[The German high command yesterday reported: "In the west local artillery and scouting activity as well as scattered attempts by vanguards at advancing. The number of planes shot down on Oct. 30 on the west front and over the North sea was increased to six, including four British."]

VICEROY TALKS WITH GANDHI ON AID DURING WAR

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 1 (AP).—Lord Linlithgow, the viceroy of India, conferred for an hour today with Mohandas K. Gandhi and two other Indian political leaders in an effort to find a formula which would enlist the various factions in broad cooperation for the duration of the war. Gandhi was accompanied by Rajendra Prasad, president of the Indian National Congress, and M. A. Jinnah, president of the Moslem league.

The conference came at a time when three of eight provincial administrations had tendered the resignations they decided upon as a protest against what the Congress party regarded as the vagueness of the viceroy's statement Oct. 17 on India's future.

[Lord Linlithgow said then that dominion status for India was one of Britain's intentions, but that such an eventuality would have to await conclusion of the war.]

NAZIS MAKE IT HARD FOR DRUNK TO GET A DRINK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—"Notorious drunkards" will be the most sober persons in wartime Germany as a result of a police order announced on the German radio tonight. The announcement said that "notorious drunkards will be forbidden entrance to any restaurants or inns in the entire reich dispensing alcoholic drinks for the period of one year."

It is expected that proprietors thruout Germany soon will be given lists of the reich's drunkards. Police Chief Heinrich Himmler already has ordered concentration camps for the heaviest drinkers.

German newspapers today reported the arrest and sentencing of a young man who was so intoxicated that pedestrians stopped to watch his antics. Such inebriates now sleep off their alcohol in jail and are made to spend the next day "doing useful work like washing cars."

WORK IS STARTED ON PORTO RICO NAVAL AIR BASE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The navy ordered work started today on an $8,330,000 aviation outpost at San Juan, Porto Rico. The contract for the construction of a breakwater, barracks, hangars and other buildings was awarded to two Baltimore firms, the Arundel corporation and the Consolidated Engineering Company, Inc.

At the same time a secondary base for destroyers at Key West, Fla., which has been idle for the last six years, was put back in service to reinforce the new Atlantic coast neutrality patrol.

Work already is progressing on new air bases at Sitka and Kodiak Island, Alaska, costing $12,739,000, and on facilities at Kaneohe bay and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and Midway, Johnston, and Palmyra Islands, cost $14,607,500.

SENTENCED FOR LARCENY.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 1 [Special].—Edward McCloskey, 49 years old, was sentenced to one to ten years in the state penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to a larceny charge in Circuit court here today. He was charged with the theft of merchandise and cash from a store in Chenoa, 20 miles north of Bloomington.

DANCER GUILTY OF SPY CHARGE; GETS 5 YEARS

Ex-Arms Worker Given 3 Years by Swiss Court.

GENEVA, Nov. 2, Thursday (AP).—A 35 year old dancer known as Nina was sentenced to five years in prison today by five Swiss judges who found her guilty of espionage and treason.

Paul Rochat.

Roger Joel, a former draftsman in a Swiss arms factory, jointly convicted on the same charges, was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

The convictions carried loss of civil rights for three years in the case of Joel and ten years in the case of the dancer, who was on the docket as Virginia Capt Rota.

Paul Rochat, a Geneva detective who went to trial at the same time, was convicted of political activity in behalf of a foreign state and sentenced to 15 months in prison. His wife, Dolly, received a 10 month suspended sentence on the same charge.

Five Year Terms Asked for Two.

The state charged the Rochats had transmitted military and political information to the Italian consul-general in Geneva, but did not accuse them of treason.

In final arguments yesterday government attorneys had asked five-year terms for Nina and Joel.

In his final plea yesterday George Heldenwang, chief defense attorney, argued that Nina was merely a minor figure in the ring and failed to realize the gravity of her acts.

Haldenwang said the dancer had been drawn into the ring by mysterious "higher ups" still at large.

Hunt New Suspects.

Counter-espionage agents still were following the threads of intrigue allegedly spun by the dancer. Detectives said several persons were being watched as suspects.

Nina and Joel were arrested when they tried to cross the Swiss frontier into France allegedly carrying plans for an antiaircraft gun and other military data.

CRAZED BY FEAR OF U-BOAT; KILLS OFFICER ON SHIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 1.—A Glasgow seaman, believed to have been driven insane by fear of submarines, attacked and killed his superior officer in the engine room of a Montreal bound freighter two days after the ship sailed from the British Isles. This was revealed when the ship docked here tonight.

P. McGonigle, 38 years old, has been held in the ship's brig since Oct. 19, when he killed A. Somerville, also 38 years old, the second engineer on the ship. The victim, kicked in the head and stomach, died immediately and was buried at sea. Officers of the vessel said McGonigle had become deranged by fear of submarine attack.

PHILIPPINES ASK NEUTRALITY BE ASSURED BY U. S.

Want America to Win Promises by Powers.

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 1 (AP).—With war conditions disturbing Europe and Asia, President Manuel Quezon today asked the United States of America to begin negotiations immediately with world powers to assure the neutralization of the Philippines after they become independent in 1946.

The commonwealth leader asked this protection from America in a brief address at the swearing in of Teofilo Sison as secretary of national defense. Sison, formerly an appellate justice, will administer the newly-created war department, which Quezon said was to be the nucleus of the state department when the Philippine republic is proclaimed.

Fear Future Aggression.

"Current world events," Quezon said, "do not assure the Philippines that even though we should arm every male citizen we will not become victims of aggression" after independence in 1946.

He said that under the independence act, the President of the United States was authorized to open negotiations for the neutralization as soon as practicable after granting of independence.

The executive, however, asserted that in view of present world conditions, "the time is now ripe for such a step to be taken."

Going Ahead with Defense.

He said he did not wish to give the impression that such action on the part of America would provide protection for Philippine independence and liberty entirely, so the commonwealth was going ahead with the organization of its national defense.

FILIPINOS BEHEAD FOUR IN ATTACKS ON CHRISTIANS

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 1 (AP).—A new outbreak of Christian head hunting was reported in nearby Nueva Ecija province today. Police said Ilongot killers beheaded four members of a family at an isolated village near Panta-Bangan.

Three influential Ilongot chiefs and their supporters, suspected of the killings, fled.

Seven Kalinga tribesmen, suspected of beheading four members of a family in Cagayan province, were captured two weeks ago. Authorities said Christian settlers in the mountainous regions of Nueva Ecija might abandon their homes unless the killers were captured.

PROBE DEATH FROM FALL.

Pekin Inn police yesterday were investigating the death of Edwin Reed, 52 years old, 2516 Canal street. Reed, a laborer, died Tuesday in the county hospital of injuries sustained a week ago, apparently in a fall.

'NO SURRENDER OF RIGHTS,' FINNS' ANSWER TO REDS

Nation Ready to Defend Its Neutrality.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 1 (AP).—Finland is prepared to "make a far-reaching settlement" with soviet Russia but will reject proposals which "would rob us of the possibility of defending the independence and neutrality of our land," Foreign Minister Eljas Erkko said tonight.

Speaking to a defense benefit meeting, the foreign minister declared Foreign Commissar Molotov's disclosure of Russia's demands before the Russian parliament yesterday had created a "queer atmosphere."

He spoke as a five man Finnish delegation journeyed toward Moscow to deliver what observers believed was a firm "no" to soviet demands, as disclosed yesterday, but with counter proposals of its own.

Erkko said his country would insist to the end on its right as a neutral and its right to self defense.

Ready with "All We Own."

The Finnish people, he added, were ready "to throw into the scale all we own," for these rights.

Disclosing for the first time from the Finnish side some of the details of the Russian-Finnish negotiations, now almost a month old, Erkko said Finland has "declared her readiness to make such arrangements as, above all, strengthen the safety of Leningrad and at the same time increase the safety of the Gulf of Finland and offer to the soviet the possibilities of increasing this safety."

Referring to Molotov's mention of the dangerous position of Leningrad, only about 20 miles from the Finnish territory, he further said that if a third power tried to attack Russia from Finnish territory Finland would be under obligation as a neutral to prevent it with all her means.

Will Make Reds Feel Secure.

Finland would strive for a settlement, he said, which would make Russia feel secure.

"But," he added, "at the same time Finland has every right to expect the right of self-defense shall be recognized in principle and can be made use of also when the security of Finland is in question. These two principles, the right to be neutral and the right to defend ones self, are the foundation on which the attitude taken by Finland is based."

There is no question of any inimical attitude on the part of Finland toward Russia, he declared, and any "settlement which would leave behind the impressions of injustice toward either party cannot be sound or fortunate."

Mentioning the peace treaty of Dorpat by which Russia recognized the independence of Finland in 1920, and a later nonaggression treaty, Erkko said "it is difficult to free ourselves from the impression that there is a desire to disturb their foundations and that in a way calculated to call forth mistrust and uncertainty."

Erkko spoke after a temporary cabinet indecision early in the day when it was not certain the Finnish government would continue with the negotiations.

But it was decided to continue the talks as long as the slightest hope of a settlement existed. The Finnish delegation was scheduled to arrive in Moscow late tomorrow.

Molotov's action in revealing the basis of the negotiations was regarded in government quarters here as a "tactical move" designed to bring a quick conclusion. These circles expressed the view that the long conversations were not only embarrassing to the soviet government, but were interfering with Russian diplomatic activities in other fields.

Russia's Strategy in Baltic

(Story in Adjoining Column.)

Maps shows how Russia is seeking by her demands on Finland and by use of areas already obtained from Estonia to gain control of the Gulf of Finland and the Gulf of Riga such as she had in the world war. The batteries shown on map gave her complete command of both bodies of water during world war. The Reds have asked Finland: (1) To lease land for a naval base at Hanko; (2) to remove its frontier farther away from Leningrad, and (3) to turn over islands of Hogland, Lavansaari, Tytarsaari, and Seiskari. Russia has already obtained rights to occupy Dagoe and Oesel Islands and Baltiski.

LOUISVILLE, KY., MAN WILL ROB BURLESQUE STAGE OF MARY SUNDE

Racine, Wis., Nov. 1 [Special].—Mary Sunde of the burlesque stage plans to retire at 29 years old and settle down to married life, her mother, Mrs. Anton Sunde of Racine, revealed today. Mrs. Sunde said that her daughter will be married next Sunday afternoon in Louisville, Ky. The bridegroom will be W. Alvin Willig of Louisville. He is a newspaper correspondent. Mary Sunde was widely known in Chicago, where she headlined a show for several years after her 1933 Reno divorce from Charles Hendricks, an actor.

Son, 78, Too Old to Be His Guardian, Says Father, 107

Portland, Ore., Nov. 1 (AP).—John Nelson Ridgley believes blindness and feebleness brought on by his 107 years make it advisable that he have some one to care for him, but he contends his eldest son is too old for the job. William S. Ridgley, 78 years old, asked Circuit court to name him guardian. The father's attorney objected. He declared young William was too crippled by rheumatism, weakened by age, and physically and emotionally incompetent. Three physicians testified today the elder Ridgley is mentally alert and capable of selecting his own guardian.

OUT OF TRENCHES BY XMAS! THAT'S HOPE IN NAZI LINE

Letters to Swiss State English Will Starve.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland, Nov. 1.—German soldiers in the Siegfried line bordering this Swiss city are confident the war will be over by Christmas. They express this opinion in letters to friends here.

"We are just waiting until our submarines and airplanes paralyze British shipping, and then we'll soon starve them out," an artilleryman who served in the world war wrote to an acquaintance who had sent him chocolate. "We haven't anything against the French and don't want anything from them. Our real enemy is England. When she is taken care of, the French will be glad enough to accept a peace offer from Der Fuehrer. Thanks for the chocolate. Mother sends me only sardines and I am sick of them."

Expect No Army Revolt.

Swiss who have been in and out of Germany since the war started, or who have received letters from soldiers, believe it won't be easy to bring about a revolt in the Nazi army.

"Our officers are much more democratic than in the last war," wrote one German soldier. "There is none of the old aristocrats left and a greater feeling of comradeship exists."

Many officers of this war are products of Hitlerism and lack the traditions of the Prussians who commanded in the world war, it was said here.

Altho the distribution of food is strictly controled among German civilians, the army gets the best of everything and eats and lives well in the Siegfried line, letters indicate. Many soldiers are reported to be reading French novels to help while away the weary hours on this front.

Yesterday I drove to Stetten, a small town outside Basel and the only frontier post between Germany and Switzerland that remains open here is a barricade. I walked down an auto road thru it and chatted with a Swiss guard. He had little to say. Mum is the word with the Swiss in this war.

2 KILLED AS CAR HITS TRUCK.

Waseca, Minn., Nov. 1 (AP).—Collision of an automobile with a truck load of concrete blocks near here today wrecked the car and killed E. Paul Phillips, 48, of Staten Island, N. Y., and Otto H. Muller Jr., 45, St. Paul.

Oil Line Break Delays Snow Cruiser 2 Hours

Upper Sandusky, O., Nov. 1 (AP).—The antarctic snow cruiser en route from Chicago to Boston lost more time here today when its pilots replaced a high pressure oil line damaged earlier in a highway accident. The cruiser ran into a bridge and fell into a small stream near Lima Saturday. Repaired, it finally got under way early today, but shortly afterward an oil line break delayed it two hours.

REDS WELCOME DEFEATED POLES INTO THE SOVIET

Stalin Hears Ukrainians Speak His Praise.

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP).—Soviet Russia today welcomed two new regions, acquired by the Nazi-soviet partition of Poland, into membership in the soviet union.

Diagonally shaded area indicates extension of two soviet states.

The supreme soviet, Russia's parliament, cheered the first appearance of delegates from the two regions—White Russia and the Western Ukraine. The delegates carried red banners into the chamber where the two houses of parliament met in extraordinary joint session.

Nazi Delegation Leaving.

Dictator Josef Stalin was among the delegates who heard a Ukrainian representative declare "our first words are words of gratitude to comrade Stalin."

The supreme soviet unanimously approved a resolution admitting the Western Ukraine into the soviet union, and uniting the territory with the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic.

About the same time it was reported in semi-official German circles that a Nazi economic delegation had successfully completed negotiations for the purchase of major Russian items and was returning to Berlin by plane tomorrow.

German Ambassador Count Friedrich Werner von Schulenberg, summoned home to report, will accompany the delegation.

[Thru her delegation to Moscow, Germany hoped to arrange the purchase of foodstuffs and raw materials to offset the British blockade.]

It was learned that a separate group of German industrialists would remain in Moscow presumably until Nov. 13, when K. Schnurre, German foreign office expert who headed the economic delegation, was expected to return here.

Deny Report of Difficulties.

Despite the German claims of successful negotiations, it was rumored in diplomatic circles that the Germans were encountering difficulties in their trade talks. Informed Germans, however, said the delegation was returning to Berlin because of the impending celebrations of the 22d anniversary of the bolshevik revolution—on Nov. 6 to 8, inclusive.

Parliament met while Moscow awaited the return of a Finnish delegation which was en route for the third in a series of talks on Russian demands for territorial concessions from her northwestern neighbor.

The Finnish delegation, headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, was expected some time tomorrow.

PRESIDENT HITS BACK AT RUSSIA; QUOTES KALININ

Roosevelt Plea for Finns Praised 6 Months Ago.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—President Roosevelt, who had been criticized yesterday by Russian Premier Molotov for intervening for Finland, dug up and reissued tonight an official record which recalled that Russia had given profound sympathy only six months ago to his efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland, and other European nations.

Mr. Roosevelt's action apparently was both a reply to the Molotov speech and a new effort to show that a bond of sympathy links Finland and the United States. It was a dramatic action, in which the President, as the leading actor, remained off the stage. It was a drama almost without words or even pantomime.

Copies of Messages Released.

The President merely directed his press secretary, Stephen T. Early, to run off on a mimeograph machine new copies of cablegrams dated last April. Early then handed the texts to reporters.

In one of the messages the President appealed to Adolf Hitler to give assurances which would guarantee at least ten years of nonaggression abroad. Specifically Mr. Roosevelt asked Hitler whether he was willing to give assurances that his armed forces would "not attack or invade the territory or possessions" of certain nations.

The President named Poland, of which Russia since has taken a slice. He mentioned Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, with which Russia recently concluded agreements permitting her to utilize their territory for military purposes.

He specified Finland, with which Russia is now negotiating for military advantages, and he also named all the other nations of Europe and a few in western Asia.

Kalinin's Reply Is Quoted.

The day after the White House made public the message to Hitler last April, President Kalinin of soviet Russia cabled "an expression of profound sympathy with the noble appeal which you have addressed to the governments of Germany and Italy."

"You may rest assured," Kalinin's message added, "that your initiative finds most ardent response in the hearts of the peoples of the soviet union."

Mr. Roosevelt cabled a reply, asserting he was "glad to learn that your views with regard to my efforts on behalf of world peace are similar to those expressed to me by the heads of numerous other states."

In those three documents—the message to Hitler, and the Roosevelt and Kalinin cablegrams—the American President apparently found his reply to Molotov today.

The Russian premier had accused him yesterday of mixing in the Finnish-soviet negotiations in contradiction of the United States' neutrality policy.

Early Voices Suspicion.

This morning Early had voiced a suspicion that Molotov's speech was an attempt to influence the fight over neutrality legislation in this country. At his regular press conference he raised the question whether it was "purely coincidental" that the address was delivered at a time when an important vote on neutrality legislation was scheduled in the house.

Late this afternoon, Early summoned newsmen to his office, and without comment handed them the copies of the April documents. He did draw attention, however, to the paragraph in which Mr. Roosevelt sought assurances from Hitler that Germany's armed might would not be used against:

Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, Great Britain, Ireland, France, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Luxemburg, Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Iraq, the Arabias, Syria, Palestine, Egypt, and Iran.

BRITAIN TO START EATING BY RATION CARD NEXT MONTH

Butter and Bacon First Restricted Foods.

Food Cards for Dogs

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The Hamburger Fremdenblatt today informed owners of dogs that food cards will be issued for canines which are at least 16 inches tall from their paws to their shoulders. The new ration cards will provide bones and meat scraps at butcher shops for dogs of this size or larger. Small dogs such as fox terriers, scotties, and dachshunds still must depend on scraps from tables of rationed food for Germans. They receive no extra allowance. The purpose of rations for big dogs was described as a "guarantee for the maintenance of valuable pedigreed dogs."

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The government announced tonight that food rationing would begin next month.

Food Minister W. S. Morrison said that rationing of bacon and butter would start in mid-December, with the limit at four ounces of each per week per person. Bacon includes ham.

Morrison said that for the present imports of butter and bacon from European sources have been reduced, but that there still was enough meat and sugar. Ration books include coupons for meat, sugar, margarine, and cooking fats, which may be rationed later.

Churchill Statement.

Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, told the house of commons that two German pocket battleships were reported at large in the Atlantic—presumably the Deutschland and the Admiral Scheer—and added that he could not make a forecast as to when they might be captured.

Churchill said that one of the Nazis' 10,000 ton pocket battleships had been reported operating in the North Atlantic and another in the South Atlantic.

Churchill said evidence was conflicting on whether only two German surface vessels of this type were loose as raiders. Churchill repeated reports from sailors who were aboard a British freighter, Stonegate, when she was sunk by the Deutschland in early October. Naval authorities last week said both the Deutschland and the Admiral Scheer were known to have been at sea a month.

These authorities said today nothing had been heard of the pocket battleships for nearly three weeks and that, "after all, they can't stay out indefinitely."

A Possible Route Home.

It would have been a comparatively simple thing, it was stated, for the Deutschland and the Admiral Scheer to have steamed north of Iceland—where there is only four hours of stormy daylight each day at this time of the year—skirted Norwegian territorial waters and reached a German port.

The air ministry announced that royal air force planes had flown over northwestern Germany and taken photographs. The text of the ministry's communique:

"During the last 24 hours the royal air force carried out successful reconnaissances over northwestern Germany in the course of which photographs were taken. All our aircraft returned safely."

No All-Clear Signal.

The president of the board of education, Earl De La Warr, announced limited reopening of schools in London and other areas vulnerable to air raid.

He explained, however, that "this must not be taken as an all-clear signal." He warned that "if the air raids really come, there can be no nice, orderly evacuation as before."

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain started talks with Canadian and other dominion ministers today on united empire war plans, the most important of which is pooling of aviation resources in Canada.

JAPANESE COMPLETE NAVY BASE 465 MILES FROM VLADIVOSTOK

TOKIO, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Japanese navy announced today that on Dec. 1 it would open at Maizuru, in the Sea of Japan, its fourth major naval base. Construction has been completed.

Arrow locates new Japanese naval base.

The three other bases are at Yokosuka, on the Pacific ocean near Yokohoma; Kure Island, on the Inland sea; and Sasebo, on Kyushu Island in the Tsushima channel.

Maizuru, on Wakasa bay, 465 miles southeast of Vladivostok, first became a naval base in 1901. After 1923, it was reduced in importance in accord with what the navy called "the spirit of the Washington treaty," which was designed to limit navies. The treaty was denounced by Japan in 1934 and expired in 1937.

SHIFT IN ITALIAN POLICY DENIED BY DUCE'S PAPER

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 1 (AP).—Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, today declared in an inspired editorial that no change in Italian policy was involved in Tuesday's cabinet shakeup.

The page one article clearly was directed toward foreign interpretations of the cabinet shift as indicating Italy was veering away from Germany and prompted by internal dissatisfaction.

The editorial directed attention to the fact that Il Duce continued to direct personally internal and military policy and that direction of foreign policy remained under Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Negative of Test by British Gun Vanishes Mysteriously

LONDON, Nov. 2 [Thursday].—A roll of negative containing a photographic record of a test being carried out by a new British gun has disappeared. It vanished while being transported from army barracks to Woolwich arsenal. A special search is being made to find it. It is believed Scotland yard's coöperation has been sought.

Australia Prepares to Send 20,000 for Overseas Duty

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 1 (AP).—Prime Minister Robert Menzies today announced an Australian expeditionary force of 20,000 would be sent overseas immediately after conclusion of its training. The force will be the same size as that which completed its training two months after the world war started.

IDEA OF NEUTRAL BLOC IN BALKANS LURES RUMANIA

Defense League Would Be Supported by Italy.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 1.—In all parts of Europe there is diplomatic dickering which might turn into actual negotiations for a neutral Balkan bloc—a defense league supported by Italy to keep the Balkans out of war.

Trial balloons launched in the informed press today explained the idea, showing that Rumania is flirting seriously with it.

The suggestion is that Bulgaria, Greece, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, and Turkey join with Italy in a guarantee of their neutrality. Premier Mussolini's wholesale housecleaning [a purge of pro-Germans from his cabinet yesterday] is seen here as the finish of the Rome-Berlin axis. Italian neutrality is considered more solid than before, but there still is some reserve toward an Italian guarantee.

One Italian inspired explanation here today hinted that Italy considered that the Nazi-soviet treaty freed her of axis obligations.

Wants to Keep Territory.

The main obstacle now, from Rumania's point of view, is the long standing question of Russia's and Bulgaria's demands on territory which is now part of Rumania.

[Bulgaria ceded the Dobruja region and Russia lost Bessarabia to Rumania after the world war.]

Rumanian spokesmen say the nation will not give up an acre on any pretext except in the face of force.

Rumanians are trying to get the Russians to renew the offer they made last March of a Black sea status quo agreement by which the soviet would promise to let the other Black sea powers alone. The offer was refused because Rumania feared Russian influence if it made any form of treaty.

The Rumanians feel now that Russian acceptance of the status quo would be backed by a Russian declaration of neutrality and would give real security from that direction.

Bulgaria a Real Obstacle.

The real obstacle to a general Balkan bloc is Bulgaria's refusal to drop its claims to Dobruja. Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu of Rumania today received the Rumanian consul from Varna, Bulgaria, where considerable Russian activity has been reported.

This is understood to mean that Gafencu is examining the extent of Russian support to Bulgaria and the possibility of reaching an understanding on neutrality without giving up any territory.

If the Bulgarians can be placated the Russians are expected to be willing to make a guarantee simply for the good effect it would have on Rumanian opinion. Russian support for Bulgaria was weakened by the Bulgarian refusal to include a couple of communists in the recent cabinet reshuffle as the soviet had asked.

The official Gazette today published the names of 20 persons who have been placed in concentration camps. It was said they are not Nazi Iron Guardists, but communist agitators.

RETURNS FROM WAKE; DIES.

ONTARIO SEEKS SEAWAY DEAL WITH DOMINION

Premier Reveals Terms for Co-operation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 1.—Premier Mitchell Frederick Hepburn of Ontario, whose opposition previously had halted Canadian-American negotiations for the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway, today for the first time publicly confirmed his conditional withdrawal of seaway opposition.

He announced that Dr. Thomas Hogg, chairman of the Ontario hydro-electric commission, was in Ottawa negotiating seaway and power plans with the dominion government.

Faces Power Shortage.

Hepburn's reversal of attitude and the likelihood of his pushing instead of blocking the seaway was said to have been based on Ontario's war-time power needs. By 1941 Ontario, the manufacturing center of Canada, will be facing power shortage when normal and war-time needs are taken into account.

Hepburn's offer of coöperation with the dominion on the seaway project is contingent on the dominion removing existing restrictions on the export of power to the United States of America.

If Ottawa accepts Hepburn's terms Ontario would accept a large quantity of power at Niagara Falls from an American power company which now supplies an aluminum company on the American side near Cornwall. In return Ontario would supply the aluminum company with power at Cornwall.

"Negotiations are being carried on between Premier Mackenzie King of Canada and the Ontario government," Hepburn asserted.

"The federal government I assume is taking up the matter with the United States government."

Mackenzie King Hopeful.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 1.—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King tonight expressed the hope that differences between the dominion and Ontario governments might be ironed out soon, after which Ottawa would launch formal seaway negotiations with Washington, D. C. The draft treaty presented by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in May, 1938, will be the basis of new negotiations.

LUCAS MAPS BATTLE AGAINST PACT WITH CANADA ON SEAWAY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] said today he intended to spend the next congressional recess preparing to fight any attempt to bring about senate ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada.

Lucas directed his aids to assemble all data on the St. Lawrence question, including arguments advanced during the administration's unsuccessful efforts in the past to win approval for the treaty. His action followed persistent reports that administration forces would raise the treaty question anew in the regular session next January.

It is known that President Roosevelt has a strong interest in the proposed treaty, which would permit the huge waterpower development in the international rapids of the St. Lawrence river where it forms a boundary between New York state and Canada.

Illinois interests object to the proposed treaty because it involves international control over Lake Michigan, which lies wholly within the United States, and freezes water diversion from Lake Michigan at the present limit of 1,500 cubic feet per second, fixed by the Supreme court.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Aft[er a] day of tumultuous debate the h[ouse] tonight faced at least three impor[tant] votes tomorrow on the Roosevelt [ad]ministration's neutrality repeal b[ill].

Democratic leaders were optim[istic] that the house would approve [the] senate version of the measure w[hich] permits the sale of war materials [in]cluding poison gas and flame th[row]ers, to belligerents in the Europ[ean] war. House Whip Pat Boland, [mak]ing his first prediction after he [and] his 16 helpers had made a can[vass] of members, estimated that the [ad]ministration had a minimum ma[jor]ity of 20 votes to put over its [pro]gram.

Loans Also Involved.

The three votes are expected [to] come on the proposed repeal of [the] present embargo on arms, on [the] President's powers to outline com[bat] zones into which American ships [may] not sail, and on a section specific[ally] banning loans to belligerents by [the] Reconstruction Finance corpora[tion] and other government agencies.

If the noninterventionists are [de]feated on all three issues the op[posi]tion is expected to collapse and [the] bill will be promptly sent to a c[on]ference with the senate. EMBARGO ISSUE FACING 3 TESTS IN HOUSE TODAY

Repeal Advocates Claim 20 Vote Margin.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—After a day of tumultuous debate the house tonight faced at least three important votes tomorrow on the Roosevelt administration's neutrality repeal bill.

Democratic leaders were optimistic that the house would approve the senate version of the measure which permits the sale of war materials, including poison gas and flame throwers, to belligerents in the European war. House Whip Pat Boland, making his first prediction after he and his 16 helpers had made a canvass of members, estimated that the administration had a minimum majority of 20 votes to put over its program.

Loans Also Involved.

The three votes are expected to come on the proposed repeal of the present embargo on arms, on the President's powers to outline combat zones into which American ships may not sail, and on a section specifically banning loans to belligerents by the Reconstruction Finance corporation and other government agencies.

If the noninterventionists are defeated on all three issues the opposition is expected to collapse and the bill will be promptly sent to a conference with the senate. Unless instructed to the contrary by house vote the house conferees will yield to their senate colleagues on all important issues and the bill may be ready for final confirmation by both houses on Saturday.

Adjournment Opposed.

Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts again served notice today that he will oppose any motion to end the special session after the neutrality bill is acted upon. There is plenty of work for congress, he declared, and pressing problems should not be allowed to drift until the January session.

Emotional appeals to the passions of members featured the administration's drive in the house. There was little talk of neutrality, but several vitriolic denunciations of Germany and Russia, including a demand by Representative John W. McCormack

John Rankin. Bruce Barton. Hamilton Fish.

[D., Mass.] that the United States ambassador to Russia be recalled.

"The present law aids Nazi Germany and communist Russia!" McCormack shouted to members. "A vote against repeal of the arms embargo is a vote for these destroyers of religion, these anti-Christ forces!"

Terms Address Warlike.

Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] later arose to label McCormack's speech as the most warlike address he had heard since 1917.

"Are we to police and quarantine the world for religious motives?" he asked. "No one is more opposed to the Nazis and communists than I, but it is none of our business what their form of government is nor none of theirs what ours is."

There were frequent references in the debate to the mysterious nature of the European war thus far.

"Whenever I am asked," remarked Representative Dewey Short [R., Mo.], "whether the United States can keep out of the war, I answer that we ought to be able to because Great Britain and France seem to be doing pretty well along that line up to the present."

Barton Changes Stand.

The house paid close attention to a speech by Representative Bruce Barton [R., N. Y.], who has swung from the anti-embargo forces to those favoring its retention.

"I started reading the senate debate with the assumption that I should vote this fall the way I voted last summer, to lift the embargo," Barton said. "But as the debate went on I was driven into the conviction that the logic and authorities on international law and the best interests of the people of the United States are all on the side of keeping this embargo and that only the emotions are on the other side.

"I have never seen in my life an issue that developed such a cleavage between men and women of equal patriotism and intelligence on both sides. I had lunch recently with one of the greatest munition makers in this country who said he hoped that congress would not lift the embargo. He pointed out that when we begin supplying arms, Germany will retaliate in every possible way by the destruction of munitions plants. It was incidents of that kind that got us into war before.

Some Call It Holy War.

"On the other hand, we have spiritual leaders stating that this is a holy war and the only chance to preserve the teachings of the Prince of Peace is for the United States to make and ship arms and munitions of war.

"This is not a time for us to make a move in what certainly up to date is the most stupid, the most crazy, the most cockeyed war in human history. It gives the appearance of a lot of countries that are in something they are desperately anxious to get out of if they could only find a way to get out. Let us not touch the embargo now. Let us give the forces of peace over there one more chance to work."

Representative John Rankin [D., Miss.] supported the Shanley amendment to retain the arms embargo both as a safeguard against American involvement in the war and as a move toward an early termination of the conflict.

"I firmly believe that if we keep the embargo, the war will not last 60 days," he declared. "The best way to stay out of the present war is to stop it."

STATE-SUPERIOR MAIN REPAIRED; FLOOD IS ENDED

The 36 inch water main that burst Tuesday at State and Superior streets was repaired early yesterday. Street car and automobile traffic resumed yesterday afternoon. Basements which were flooded when the big pipe broke were pumped dry by last night. The rupture, which caused a minor flood over an area of several blocks and opened a 15 foot cavity in the street, was believed to have been caused by settlement due to subway construction.

IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD, TOO!

By CALEB

MAN, born of woman, has perennially been prone to forget that fact. The expostulation "But it's a man's world!" is still a man's expostulation. This fact, Woman, all through past ages, has had to remember—has had to resist it, and struggle unceasingly to extricate herself from many of its baneful consequences.

Some members of the male persuasion still resent the liberation today enjoyed by their fair companions. Regardless of that attitude, however, she has penetrated plenty of the inner professional and trade sanctums once emblazoned FOR MEN ONLY—and on the whole, has justified that penetration. Nor is her participation in extra-domestic affairs without support in the roster of her business and economic importance. Such as the fact that women are today beneficiaries of 80 per cent of the 65,000,000 life insurance policies in force—that they hold more than 65 per cent of the country's savings accounts; own 40 per cent of its railroad stocks, 44 per cent of its public utilities securities, 40 per cent of its real estate, and 60 per cent of its wealth.

Not surprising, then—although belated, considering that woman "captured the vote" some nineteen years ago—is the appearance on the Chicago scene of a new publication whose content, we predict, despite its title, Woman's Review of Political Research, will not be limited to feminine readers only. Perusal of early issues confirms the dignified, responsible expression of its purpose: "For the citizen who wants to cast an intelligent vote—no matter where she lives—no matter what her political bent." And since the figures, facts and political verities promoting intelligent use of the feminine franchise will perform the same office for males—our prophecy of masculine attention to this new publication stands.

Man's world or not, the resources of woman's intuition and intelligence need no vindication. Employed politically, they can accomplish ends as constructive as the same qualities in the male of the species. Retailing, for example, has rested its own success on feminine customership from the beginning; and here at Field's, the predominance of women over men among our personnel, in every phase of salesmanship and service, is both logical and significant.

No one, therefore, more than the modern merchant recognizes the truism that "It's a woman's world, too." If women in politics can, as they have in business, aid the world of both sexes to become in the future a kinder, more peaceful, better-managed world than it is now—more power to them!

DIES COMMITTEE ASKS TWO YEARS TO FINISH WORK

Beaten After Turning on Reds, Witness Reports.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] asked the house today to grant two years more time to his committee investigating un-American activities.

He introduced a resolution by which the committee would be given until Jan. 3, 1942, to complete its investigation and make a report. It contained no request for additional funds, but the committee, nearing the end of its original $125,000 appropriations, had announced previously that more would be sought.

Meanwhile a committee witness, William McCuistion, laid before the justice department a story of being threatened and beaten for turning against communism in the National Maritime union [C. I. O.].

Arrested in Slaying Case.

City detectives who had taken McCuistion into custody yesterday in connection with a New Orleans slaying brought him to the justice department at the committee's request. There he made his complaint to Henry Schweinhaut, head of the civil liberties section, whom Dies had accused of going outside his jurisdiction to bring about McCuistion's apprehension.

Schweinhaut said afterward that the story of beatings in various cities and of other attempted intimidation would be treated as a complaint of civil liberties violation and given full consideration.

McCuistion, a husky, bespectacled sailor, renewed before the Dies committee his charge that the leadership of the National Maritime union was communistic.

Before he left the side of a detective to take the stand, his mother, Mrs. Dollie M. Crawford of Frederick, Md., testified she believed the charge against her son at New Orleans was a frame-up.

Warped Son, Mother Says.

Declaring communists had warped her son and used the best years of his life, she added:

"If he goes to jail on a framed charge or if he goes to the electric chair, I'd a darn sight rather he'd go fighting the communist party."

Joseph Curran, president of the Maritime union, had been a visitor in her home, she said, had given her to understand that he was a communist and had told her in 1937 that the party was placing so many members in key Washington positions that it hoped to take over the government within a few years.

McCuistion was questioned then about a number of men identified as officials of the Maritime union. Rhea Whitley, committee counsel, announced that of 37 officials mentioned, the witness had described all except nine as communists.

Mrs. Dollie M. Crawford, Frederick, Md., as she told the Dies committee that Joseph Curran, head of national maritime union, had told her that communists were placing many members in key positions in Washington and hoped to take over the government.

CHILE PROTECTS HEAD OF BOLIVIAN CADETS' REVOLT

LAPAZ, Bolivia, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Chilean legation today gave asylum to Lieut. Col. Sinforiano Bilbao Rioja, commander of the Bolivian Military academy which surrendered yesterday after a bloodless revolt.

A group of cadets, who revolted in protest against a government order exiling Bilbao Rioja's brother, escorted the academy commander to the Chilean legation under an agreement with the government. Accused of fomenting revolution, Bilbao Rioja is expected to leave for Chile soon under the legation's protection. His brother, Gen. Bernardino Bilbao Rioja, already has been expelled from Bolivia.

The military academy revolt ended when cadet leaders reached an agreement with government representatives in a parley to prevent violence.

1,300 MORE MEN NEEDED BY ARMY 6TH CORPS AREA

Two Months of Recruiting Beats Year's Record.

More enlistments have been made in the regular army in the 6th corps area since the army's drive for recruits began Sept. 1 than during all of 1938. Nevertheless, the full quota of enlistments desired by Nov. 12 has not been filled and 1,300 more men are now needed, it was announced yesterday by Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commanding the 6th corps area and the 2d army, with headquarters in Chicago.

Since last Sept. 1 there have been approximately 2,450 new recruits enlisted in the three states, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, which comprise the 6th corps area. During the entire year of 1938 only 2,051 enlistments were recorded, and the majority of these were reënlistments.

Vacancies in All Branches.

The drive to bring the regular army's strength to 227,000 men has been intensified in recent weeks, Gen. Ford said. During last October, 1,405 new recruits were enlisted. During October, 1938, only 190 men were enlisted.

Vacancies still exist in nearly all branches of the army," Gen. Ford said. "For the first time in many years opportunities for an army career are offered to qualified youths in almost any branch of the service.

"There is a better chance for promotion in the enlisted personnel today than there has been since the war of 1914-'18. This is because of the present expansion of the service. Capable, ambitious young men have a chance to qualify for positions paying up to $157.50 a month, plus maintenance, medical care, clothing and retirement benefits."

Recruiting Parties Go Out.

"We feel that this is a slow starting proposition and that we now are coming along nicely with it," said Capt. G. R. Carpenter of the corps intelligence staff.

"For years we have had, perhaps, a quota of 170 men a month. Now suddenly our quotas have jumped to 1,000 a month. We are now beginning to get large numbers of applicants whose interest in the army has been aroused by the recruiting parties we have been sending out to almost every city in the corps area."

Refuse Applicants from CCC.

In recent days recruiting officers in this area have been forced to refuse applications for enlistment from a number of young men now serving in the Civilian Conservation corps. An order from the war department, issued at the time the CCC was formed, prohibits acceptance of such applications, it was explained.

"The CCC boys unquestionably are excellent material but we can't get around orders," said one officer. "We do try to get into touch with all those who have either passed the age limit to stay in the CCC or have been in CCC camps for the full time allotted to any one man in this corps. Many of our new recruits fall into those classes."

There is no reason, recruiting officers said, why youths who now are in the CCC should not resign and apply for army enlistment. But their applications cannot be considered until they are out of the CCC.

HEAD OF LEGION URGES SUPPORT OF DIES INQUIRY

Raymond J. Kelly of Detroit, national commander of the American Legion, called upon all Americans last night to support the work of the Dies committee in its work of exposing subversive elements. He spoke before representatives of more than two hundred Legion posts at a meeting in the city council chambers.

"Congressman Dies deserves all the support of all the people for having hauled the Fascists, the communists, and their subversive work out into the light of day," Kelly said. "The American Legion warning for many years has been amply vindicated by the war in Europe. For years we have preached that Fascism and communism are the same and condemned them in the same breath. The Nazi-soviet pact proved that they are one in ideology."

Kelly blamed European world war veterans for the present war, asserting that they had returned to their countries to overthrow established government and substitute experimental and unreliable types. He said that American war veterans, on the other hand, had remained fundamentalists in government and that as a body they had solidified the foundations of American democracy.

One-Armed Paper Hanger for 51 Years; Dies at 74

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 1 [Special].—Frank Manderville, 74 years old, who earned his living as a one armed paper hanger for 51 years, died last night. Manderville's arm was amputated a few inches below the elbow after a threshing machine accident when he was 19.

NEW 1940

STUDEBAKER CHAMPION

PRICES BEGIN AT $660

FOR A CHAMPION COUPE, DELIVERED AT THE FACTORY, SOUTH BEND, IND.

You get 50% better light for safer night driving with the Champion's new sealed-beam headlamps. Reflector, lens and light filament are in a single sealed unit. Reflector doesn't dim with age.

You're money ahead even when you sell your Champion because its lasting Studebaker craftsmanship assures you a better than average trade-in price.

ANY way you figure it, you save more per mile and per month when you own this beautiful, soundly built, new Studebaker Champion.

You have the proud satisfaction of driving a fully accredited team mate of Studebaker's famous Commander and President, yet comparisons prove that you use 10% to 25% less gas than in any other leading lowest price car. And your Champion's savings on tires, upkeep and repairs put you many extra dollars ahead.

You ride relaxed in this Champion

This marvelously well-balanced Studebaker is miles ahead of any other lowest price car in riding comfort, thanks to Studebaker's planar independent suspension and finest shock absorbers.

It rounds curves surefootedly and smoothly at speeds you wouldn't attempt in ordinary lowest price cars. It steers, brakes, handles, accelerates delightfully.

But the proof is in a drive. So come in and take out a Champion for 10 revealing miles. Experience the sound, solid feel of its Studebaker quality. See why thousands of America's most critical motorists prefer this Champion to any other car.

You pay nothing extra for the safety, convenience and comfort of the Champion's sealed-beam headlamps, steering wheel gear shift, planar suspension, nonslam rotary door latches, front-compartment hood lock—and your present car can cover part if not all this Studebaker Champion's down payment on easy terms.

We're old enough to know...

We cut our eye teeth on the depression of '93, and we've successfully weathered every national crisis since then. Before this century had even begun we determined, as a basic policy, to make the best shoes that could be built, and we promised our customers we would always give them the benefit of any savings we could effect in the cost of raw materials — and that continues to be our solemn pledge today.

Under existing conditions no one can predict the future by a single day, but we do promise, without reservation, to maintain the lowest possible price for our shoes, and never to alter, by a single stitch, the Florsheim standard of quality that has built the largest fine shoe business in the world. There are many ways to prove the quality in Florsheim Shoes...but the best way we know is to wear them.

DEFICIT OF N. Y.'S FAIR HIGHLIGHTS CHICAGO PROFIT

Century of Progress Retains Record.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 1.—The New York World's Fair, which went under winter wraps today, will open up next May for a second season confronted with the problem of chiseling down an admitted deficit of $23,440,909.

Harvey D. Gibson, board chairman of the fair corporation, made it clear at the windup of the exposition yesterday that there was little chance of paying off the outstanding bonds of more than 23 million dollars in their entirety. He asserted, however, that he expected to show an operating profit. The New York fair bond issue totaled 27 million dollars.

With disclosure of the deficit, it became clear that A Century of Progress presented in Chicago in 1933 and 1934 would retain its record as the only great world exposition of modern times to show a profit.

Exposition Distributes $160,000.

The Chicago exposition paid off 50 per cent of its 10 million dollar bonded indebtedness at the end of the 1933 season. In 1934 A Century of Progress pulled itself out of the red completely and $160,000 in profits left over subsequently was distributed among eight cultural and philanthropic institutions.

A total paid attendance of 25,814,729 was recorded at the New York exposition for the first season, while paying customers at Chicago in 1933 numbered 22,320,000. New York's World of Tomorrow show, however, opened its gates a month earlier than A Century of Progress.

Chairman Gibson, a banker who supplanted Grover A. Whalen as active head of the New York exposition in mid-season, announced to the Amusement Concessionaires' association today that next year the admission would be 50 cents. Declining attendance late in the summer forced cutting the charge late last summer from 75 to 50 cents.

European War Takes Toll.

While burlap bandages were wound around the trees and vans carted exhibits out of the exposition grounds on Flushing Meadows there was speculation as to how much of the show would remain next year.

Already the war in Europe has taken its toll of casualties among foreign exhibitors. The Netherlands, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Southern Rhodesia are among the foreign participants which formally notified the fair they will not be back.

Other factors besides the European conflict were said to have been involved. It was recalled that pavilion officers for several foreign countries from time to time denounced the exposition management and city officials for allowing racketeering labor leaders to run wild in the building and maintenance of the exposition.

Co-ed Sued for $50,000 by Wife of Instructor

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1 [Special].—Damages of $50,000 for the lost affections of her husband were asked by Mrs. Gilda Olivia Lang, 34 years old, in a suit filed against Miss Helen Sandlin, a graduate of Johns Hopkins university. The co-ed was accused of alienating the affections of Dr. Varley Howe Lang, 30, an English instructor at the university.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Do you think girls who have worked before marriage make better wives?

Where Asked.

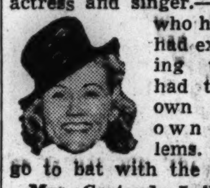
On North Michigan avenue.

The Answers.

Mary Nash, 222 10th street, Wilmette, secretary.—O, definitely. The girl who has worked before her marriage learns a better value of money and how to handle it. She also learns discipline. She learns from office discipline how to discipline her own life.

Mrs. Helen Gale, 2732 North Francisco avenue, lipstick molder.—Well, I don't know. I think they do. The girls who work know how to save their money and how to manage. I'm married, and I worked before I was married, so I know it helps.

Mrs. Florence Castro, 3253 Lexington street, typist—I think she is a better wife because of working. She knows the value of a dollar. She knows that, and then many people who don't work are very extravagant with their money. They don't know how hard a person has to work to earn money.



Hannah Lee Childs, Eastgate hotel, actress and singer.—Yes, I do. Girls who have worked have had experience managing things. They've had to manage their own lives and their own financial problems. They've had to go to bat with the world.

Mrs. Gertrude Leibold, 1856 South Avers avenue, typist.—In a way, I think working girls do make better wives. They know what a dollar means, how to spend it and where. I worked before I was married, and I'm not extravagant.

ORDER HUSBAND TO RETURN TWO CHILDREN TO WIFE

Mrs. Alice Bauerle, 23 years old, told Judge Oscar F. Nelson yesterday that before she separated from Ray Bauerle she had to entertain his ex-girl friend every Sunday at dinner for two years. Then, she said, he came to her home at 6604 Normal boulevard a month ago with the good news that he was going to take their two children out to buy them new shoes. But she said he never brought the children back. Mrs. Bauerle has a divorce suit pending.

Mrs. Alice Bauerle.

Her attorney, Melville Mucklestone, told the judge the children are now at the home of Bauerle's mother, 5722 Sangamon street, where Bauerle is staying. The judge ordered Bauerle to return the children and give Mrs. Bauerle $15 a week for their support.

FARMERS TO FILL CRATER.

Contracts have been awarded to Willows [Cal.] grain and rice farmers to fill in the crater of a gas well that blew out and subsided. The crater is 182x190 feet, and between sixty and eighty feet in depth.

TEXAN TO DIRECT TRANSCONTINENT BROADCAST CHAIN

J. T. Adams Elected by Roosevelt Group.

The newly formed Transcontinental Broadcasting System, Inc., projected as a fourth national radio network, elected John T. Adams of Fort Worth, Tex., president at a meeting here yesterday. He is vice president of the Texas state network which is headed by Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President.

Other officers of the new system are: Vice Presidents, Lester E. Cox of Springfield, Mo., John Roberts of St. Louis, and William A. Porter, Washington, D. C., radio lawyer; secretary, Robert M. Thompson, Pittsburgh; treasurer, H. J. Brennan, Pittsburgh. All except Porter are radio station executives. The new officials will confer with prospective broadcasting affiliates at the Blackstone hotel today.

Silent on Blackett Deal.

Roosevelt declined to discuss published reports that Blackett-Sample-Hummert, Inc., advertising agency, had contracted for quantities of time on the new network. Hill Blackett, executive of the agency and Republican national committeeman from Illinois, dined at the White House recently with the President, Mrs. Roosevelt, and Elliott Roosevelt. Neither politics nor radio was discussed on that occasion, the President's son said yesterday.

Denies Texas Nucleus Report.

Roosevelt said published reports that the Texas state network was to be the nucleus of the new chain were erroneous.

"Our only interest in the network," he said, "is that we may get some business thru it."

Adams, Roosevelt said, is being loaned by the Texas network to the new organization and will open network headquarters within 45 days in New York.

DUTCH FREIGHTER REACHES CITY ON MAIDEN VOYAGE

The motorship Prins Willem III., on its maiden voyage from Rotterdam, Holland, docked in the Chicago river east of the Michigan avenue bridge yesterday after what its captain termed an uneventful voyage thru the war zone. The ship, one of the largest ever to come thru the Great Lakes, made one stop, at Antwerp, on its voyage. It carried a general cargo. The Lakes Overseas Shipping corporation, its agents, said the ship would stop at East Chicago to pick up a return cargo and leave for Milwaukee on its return trip tonight.

VAST ECONOMIC DICTATORSHIP IN WAR IS PLANNED

Program Under Attack as Curb on Liberties.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—A vast economic dictatorship headed by the President would be set up in time of war to effect the mobilization of the nation's industries, according to a plan drafted by the war and navy departments.

Senator McCarran.

The plan became public when Senator Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] laid a copy of it before the senate and obtained an order for its publication as a senate document.

Entitled the "Industrial Mobilization Plan, Revision of 1939," the project is approved jointly by Louis Johnson, acting secretary of war, and Charles Edison, acting secretary of the navy.

Foreword Quoted.

"This plan," says the foreword, "does not propose the modification of any of our constitutional processes. Indeed, the prime purpose of procurement planning and of the industrial mobilization plan is the preservation of these processes for the people of the United States."

Senator McCarran was skeptical of the accuracy of this statement.

"Analysis, I believe, will show," he said, "that the plan is impracticable without curtailment of every fundamental constitutional privilege, and furthermore, almost permanent curtailment of basic liberties. Under this plan not only will our youth be regimented for militarism, but our civil form of government for all our citizenry will be set aside. If it ever is put into effect it will cost organized labor everything it has fought for and won in the last 50 years."

Plan Attacked in House.

In a speech in the house this afternoon advocating the determination of the President's powers in an emergency such as Mr. Roosevelt has declared, Representative Fred L. Crawford [R., Mich.] demanded that the "fog surrounding this industrial mobilization plan should be dispelled."

"There will be no increased capital expenditures by business," he said, "so long as it is concerned about the prospects of the military authorities moving into their establishments or controling their activities. Our investing public is not trained to invest private funds to be controled by the military."

Declares Plan Necessary.

The "M-day plan," as it is commonly called, is necessary, says the document, to effect the transition from peacetime economy to one in which normal conditions have been altered by the imposition of an expanding war burden.

"Varying degrees of coördination," says the plan, "will be required in order that the nation may mobilize and efficiently utilize materials, facilities, capital, labor, power, fuel, transportation, and communications. The sole purpose in supervising the utilization of our national resources in war is to assure effective support for our armed forces, while protecting industry and the civilian population from unnecessary inconvenience and privation

"The surrender of all individual rights in wartime is undesirable, if it can be avoided, but the assumption of additional individual responsibilities will be essential to the efficient coördination of a national industrial effort."

Calls for Priorities.

To attain such coördination the government would establish priorities of production providing for "the order in which resources are to be used." Allocations would assign the productive capacity of individual plants to specific agencies. Licenses, embargoes, permits, and warrants are mentioned as devices to regulate the flow of materials "to insure their most advantageous use."

"Control of prices in war," says the plan, "may be required to prevent or minimize disruption of the national economic structure resulting from the impact of the rapid increase of demand upon existing facilities and resources."

Control of foreign trade would be essential to the "economic isolation of the enemy." Where government agencies are lacking it would be necessary to organize corporations, owned or controled by the government, to render services and take business risks which it would be "unreasonable to expect from privately owned bodies."

War Resources Board.

The plan sketches a far flung "war resources administration," headed by an administrator directly responsible to the President, under which the industrial mobilization would be carried out. Altho the President already possesses great emergency powers from the national defense act of 1920 and the 1917 navy appropriation act, "the application of many of the control measures suggested in this plan," says the document, "would require additional legislation."

Among other emergency agencies proposed is a "public relation administration" to handle public information and propaganda, the authors of the plan remarking that "the maintenance of a high national morale is a continuing function of this administration." A "selective service administration" would determine which men should fight and which should labor in the war industries.

A "war finance administration" would coördinate wartime financial needs of the government and private enterprise. Under its jurisdiction would come "tax policies, credit and inflation, the effects of the issue of securities, both government and private, and the direction of the flow of capital." Foreign trade would be regulated by a "war trade administration."

A "war labor administration" would "provide the machinery for equitable and voluntary distribution of labor to industry and agriculture during war by maintaining close coöperative relations between labor, industry, and the government." This agency would determine the labor requirements of war industries and nonwar industries.

Creation of a "price control authority" would be "dependent upon the nature and magnitude of current or anticipated price fluctuations which might tend to throw our economic structure out of equilibrium."

The endeavor would be to stop price rises at the source instead of attempting "remedies after the disorders have appeared."

A final suggestion is that "it may be considered advisable, upon the termination of the emergency, to continue the war resources administration as a postwar readjustment agency."

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

OMEGA OIL EASES MUSCULAR PAIN

BACKACHE

From Coast to Coast people have heard of how comfortingly good old OMEGA OIL acts when called upon to ease almost unbearable soreness, backache misery and the distress caused by the pains of neuralgia, neuritis and muscular rheumatism.

As Grandfather says: "Something good always happens to one of the family who has been hit by aches or pains or some such misery when we take down the old standby Omega Oil."

And standby is right, for in countless homes in America—prompt acting, powerfully medicated Omega Oil—an oil that penetrates, is kept right where any ache or pain stricken member of the family can promptly put it to good use.

So for ailments mentioned above, as well as sore, burning feet, stiff neck, muscular soreness in arms, legs and chest, rub it in good—it penetrates but won't stain, burn or blister. Ask for and get OMEGA OIL—35 cents.

NOW RICHER, MORE DELICIOUS THAN EVER . . . THIS NEW BETTER-THAN-EVER MAXWELL HOUSE!

EVERYWHERE old friends of Maxwell House are saying, "We've known and loved Maxwell House for years . . . but now it's even better than ever!" And new friends by the thousands are agreeing, "Why haven't we tried it before? It's so rich, so mellow, so incomparably delicious. Really, no coffee can compare with it!"

Have you tasted this magnificent New Maxwell House? When you do—you'll know why old and new friends alike are so enthusiastic! For Maxwell House is now a new coffee...new in two important ways.

FIRST, this superb blend of choice coffees has actually been improved! It is now a richer blend, more mellow and full-flavored than ever. You get an extra richness and fullness of flavor that you may never have tasted in coffee before.

SECOND, this new, improved blend is now roasted by a new method called Radiant Roast. A method that uses penetrating heat to roast each bean evenly all the way through. Thus your coffee is never weak due to under-roasting . . . never bitter due to parching. Always rich and full-flavored, deliciously smooth and mellow.

THE DEVIL CAN ALSO QUOTE HISTORY.

The European gentlemen who make so much bad history are fond of appealing to the supreme court of history to justify them in making more bad history. In doing so they infrequently allow themselves to be bothered by any facts which would interfere with their pleading. The German foreign minister, Von Ribbentrop, in his speech the other day said that Germany had never done anything which challenged the Monroe Doctrine. He has forgotten that in December, 1902, Germany and Great Britain, having blockaded Venezuelan ports for a year, sank three Venezuelan warships and later bombarded and destroyed the fort of Porto Cabello.

The Germans and the British were doing something which would seem very strange today. They were trying to collect a debt. The government of President Castro of Venezuela owed a German bank 9½ million dollars, borrowed to build a railroad, and owed British subjects about a million and a half. The payment of debts nowadays is regarded in Europe as a matter of no consequence, probably because the debts themselves are not trivial.

Theodore Roosevelt and John Hay, his secretary of state, had tried to persuade Germany and Britain that they were unjustifiably interfering with neutrals, but were having no success whatever with the Germans, who with a new navy were anxious to give it a workout. When they actually began firing shells, Roosevelt called Dr. Holleben, the German ambassador, and told him that unless Germany consented to arbitrate within 10 days Dewey would be sent to the Venezuelan coast to stop the German aggression.

A week later the President asked the ambassador if he had heard from his government. He said he had not. "Then," said T. R., "I shall instruct Admiral Dewey to sail one day earlier than I originally intended." Thirty-six hours later Dr. Holleben returned to say the kaiser would be very glad to arbitrate.

There were three Venezuelan wrecks and a ruined fort to answer Herr Von Ribbentrop. The incident further had an effect in persuading some Americans, foremost among whom was Theodore Roosevelt, that the kaiser had to be licked in Europe or he would have to be licked in this hemisphere. A hangover of that idea now applies to Herr Hitler.

Another gassy gentleman who makes his history as he wants it is Comrade Molotov, the soviet foreign minister, who refers to the long demand of the Philippines and Cuba for liberty as more worthy of American attention than Finland's relations with Russia. The Philippines have liberty in fact and more freedom in prospect than it is altogether certain they want. If Cuba isn't free, it's because Col. Batista has derived a great many of his ideas of government from the precepts and practices of Mr. Molotov's boss, Stalin, whom Col. Batista regards with great favor.

PROPAGANDA.

In a letter in the Voice of the People a high school student says that it would be helpful to students and to readers generally if war news could be marked to show whether it was propaganda or not. War news presents a difficult problem for the editor. In the United States efforts to make news reports instruments of government have had, to date, very little success. Independent newspapers seek truth in the news. In Europe the press has become more and more merely an instrument of authority. It has lost all independence and is a department of government. Dictators must work this way. They suppress opposition, do not tolerate minorities, do not permit criticism or free opinion, and they say what may be printed as news.

War brings additional controls. Censorship is imposed on foreign correspondents who in peace times may have many more liberties than are enjoyed by the newspapers of the country. Even then a correspondent whose reports are too truthful to be pleasant may be expelled. A number of American correspondents have been sent out of the countries whose governments their stories offended. Nearly all news in Europe is used for propaganda purposes and in wartime this use is intensified. In the confusion and passion of war it is regarded as necessary to deceive. A government at war endeavors to deceive its own people, its enemies, and the neutrals. Falsehood is far more common than truth.

The effort is to deceive and mislead correspondents who are honest and to bribe correspondents who may not be. Honest dispatches may be changed after they are filed. The censor, of course, will blue pencil anything he doesn't like, for logical or illogical reasons. Many a news editor is perplexed day by day and uncertain of the authenticity of the news coming to his desk. Sometimes he isn't sure he knows the origin of it, even if it's filed by his correspondents.

Propaganda magnifies success and minimizes failures. The enemy losses are exaggerated. The attempt is to create virtue for one side and attribute evil to the other. Propaganda is in the official statements, in the speeches of the heads of states, and in the newspaper accounts of what is happening. Each side devotes all its publicity to proving that its objectives are all good and its enemy's purposes are all wrong.

An editor would not want to take the responsibility of labeling the news he prints. Its source is generally indicated and readers learn to use their own judgment. They are often deceived because the propagandist frequently is very clever. If he knows what are the latent sympathies of the persons to whom he addresses himself, he tells them what they want to believe and that is what they readily believe. If he knows their latent prejudices, he can play upon them because, again, the persons are prepared to believe. Frequently, then, the reader finds that propaganda with which he agrees is truthful news and propaganda from the side he doesn't like is plainly propaganda.

MISUSE OF PUBLIC MONEY.

Misuse of public money is so prevalent in federal, state, and local government today that it is difficult to name the field in which the abuse is most prevalent. That dubious distinction might go, however, to misuse of gasoline taxes. At least the abuse here is the most apparent. Motorists see their tax contributions diverted to dozens of activities for support of which they have not the slightest special responsibility. Then they see the funds that are left frittered away on frequently useless highway projects.

The latest and worst of these projects is the Congress street conspiracy, operating under the camouflage of a forty year old plan by Burnham designed to accommodate horse drawn traffic. The Congress street highway for which city engineers have submitted plans starts on the farther west side without adequate connection with state and federal routes. It runs thru a region which will furnish no traffic, pays no gasoline taxes, and where the residents do not own the property that it is intended should be benefited. It finally dumps its passengers into a traffic jam.

Because of lack of adequate connections, it starts nowhere and ends nowhere. As a result it will not be used, any more than Ogden avenue, another crooked misexpenditure of public money, has been used. Thus it will neither serve the public nor benefit the abutting real estate. It will be a complete futility.

It is a fraud on gasoline taxpayers to use their money for slum clearance or subway stations, regardless of the merits of those projects considered alone. It is impossible to justify Congress street as a highway, and these other ends have been put forward in a vain attempt to justify it on other grounds. A thoro search of the records of the equity owners and mortgage holders on the property that would be purchased for the highway would probably disclose why so bad a project is being pushed so persistently.

WALL STREET AND WAR.

A year ago the index of industrial production in the United States stood at 96—it is now at 115. Last year's peak of steel operations was 70 per cent of capacity. Operations this week are at 91 per cent of capacity. The railroads last week moved 861,198 cars of freight, which was 159,000 more than in the same week in 1938. The factories are employing 9 per cent more people than they were last year and paying them 15 per cent more money.

All of these indications of vastly improved business are not reflected in stock prices. At the close of the market last Saturday the Dow-Jones average of 50 leading stocks stood at slightly over $153. In October of last year the average reached a high of $155.38, and closed the month at $151.73.

After a month and a half of spectacular business revival, stock prices are down several points on the average. It is perfectly clear that those who have money to invest are convinced that there is no profit in war—at least not in this war. It has not been capitalists and industrial leaders who have sought to increase our participation in the war by letting Britain and France buy their supplies here. They are unwilling to invest in order to participate in the profits of war business.

Some of those persons who now are most active in espousing the embargo repealer are the very ones who made the charge some years ago that munitions makers dragged us into the last war in their lust for profits. If we become embroiled in war this time as a result of turning America into an armory for the allies the guilty parties will not be able to blame it on the munitions makers.

THE NINE RUBBER LEGS.

The American Airlines have moved their executive offices to New York. Chicago, as a result, loses a substantial pay roll.

The air line had located its offices here because this city is the logical center of the nation's air traffic. It moved because it needed added hangar space. In Chicago it would have had to use its own funds, badly needed for expansion of equipment, to build offices. In New York it was offered quarters at the new North Beach airport at a reasonable rental. The officers of the company, under these circumstances, maintain that they used good business judgment in moving.

The quarters that New York is renting so reasonably were not paid for by New York. A major portion of the cost of the airport was paid by the WPA. New York lives off Washington, and uses what it gets there to steal Chicago industries.

Chicago gets nothing in spite of our city administration's acceptance of every humiliation at the hands of the burocrats who dispense the tax money that this city contributes. The nine rubber leg Democrats this city sends to congress are worthless. They go along with the administration in such supine fashion that they are not even considered worth including in the payoff.

Editorial of the Day

THE BAPTISTS REITERATE.

[Baltimore Evening Sun.]

Maryland Baptists restated their opposition to compulsory religious marriage ceremonies last week. The restatement was in the form of a resolution urging provision for civil marriages for those who do not want the sanctions of the church.

Baptists have always been firm believers in the separation of church and state as essential to complete religious liberty, and their attitude on the marriage question is entirely consistent with that principle. The law that requires marriage by the church is an invasion of the rights of those who, for reasons of their own, hold themselves apart from the church and prefer to regard matrimony as a civil contract.

Religious marriages are an embarrassment to such people, and to clergymen as well, when confronted by persons whose marriage they do not approve. The clergy face the dilemma of, on the one hand, their scruples, and on the other the fact that the state of Maryland has licensed them to wed and demands that the ceremony be a religious rite. The whole responsibility for the state's mistakes is shifted to the men of the cloth, for when the wrong people marry nobody ever thinks of placing the blame on the clerk of the Court of Common Pleas.

A CUSTOMER SQUAWKS.

Here's another Saturday afternoon coming up, and nary a football game at either Dyche stadium or Stagg field. We are a season ticket subscriber of both places of amusement, and the lamentable lack of coöperation in scheduling which leaves these arenas vacant on the same day annoys us. This happened last year also; we squawked then, and we're squawking louder now.

Northwestern goes to Minnesota; Chicago goes to Virginia. The gutters are flowing with crocodile tears, shed over the unhappy plight of the Midway thinkers, but next Saturday we would rather be a Melancholy Maroon than Willie the Wildcat. Charlottesville is a pleasant and picturesque place, and Virginian hospitality will soothe the defeated. [Then there's Monticello to see—a liberal education.] But up in Minneapolis, there will be frozen ground and iron men and no mercy for Willie. . . . The scoreboard never tells the complete story.

The Chicago Historical society is preparing an exhibition of material relating to the history of the stage, and we're wondering if we should lend our priceless souvenir program of the opening of the ill-fated Iroquois theater on Nov. 23, 1903. The show was "Mr. Bluebeard," and the principal players were:

Harry Gilfoil, Eddie Foy, Blanche Adams, Adele Rafter, Bonnie Maginn, Nora Cecil, Robert A. Evans, Herbert Cawthorne, J. Sarony Lambert, Bessie De Voie, Sam Reed, Frank Young, and Chauncey Holland, and Annabelle Whitford.

SECOND COMING.

He stood inside the legislative door,
And heard men say that it was wise and right
To make and sell the implements of war.
He walked where fear crept through unlighted night;
Where silent children lay on clotted stones;
In cities where grim desolation sat
Like buzzards that have finished with white bones
And left them to the plague infested rat.
He walked through No Man's muddy Land and saw
The smooth faced lads, old men, and those between;
He saw it all; the sinister sea's maw.
"If I had known——" his gentle face was drawn—
"Two thousand years, and this is what they do—
I might have spared myself, and Mary, too."

What's the Matter with Thursday?—II.

The Thursday lull [Oct. 30] may be traced back to the agricultural tradition of Saturday as a trading day in town. This is so well established that in county seat towns all through the middle west, banks and merchants close one afternoon during the week so as to stay open Saturday night [or all day Saturday, in the case of the banks]. This closing afternoon is variously recognized on either Wednesday or Thursday. A. D. A.

What's the matter with Thursday?
"Bridge club." Allene of Ham., Ind.

Teutonic mythology is responsible for the comparative inactivity on Thursdays. [In our village the barbers close their shops on Thursdays at noon.] Thursday was originally Thor's day, the day of the thunder god. People kept indoors on his day, fearing his wrath. To this day, though ignorant of the cause, they cling to the habit.

LAUNCHING A SHIP.

His mother watched him launch his ship: it sped
Away, before the wind, all sails unfurled.
"Now, whither bound?" "Adventuring," he said,
The while boy eyes looked far across the world.
"But will you get it back?" He shook his head
Courageously, though tears were threatening.
"Ships cannot go adventuring," he said,
"If they are hindered by a piece of string."
She thought, "I cannot always watch and shield
My son from world allure; when he is grown
And ready for the launching, may I yield
Him up with courage, such as he has shown.
For I, when he shall go adventuring

X-RAYS IN HODGKIN'S DISEASE.

I HEARD a remark not long ago that Hodgkin's disease is always rapidly fatal. Do the facts justify the statement? A generous number of cases have been reported with survival extending for 10 to 15 years—occasionally longer. Under skilled management these patients, on the whole, were comfortable and sufficiently active to carry on routine duties.

What is the malady and how does it manifest itself? As most of us know, in addition to arteries and veins, the body is permeated with an elaborate system of lymph channels. Along these pathways here and there glands are stationed which appear to act as sieves or screens. They serve to retard the onward passage of dangerous bacteria, should they find their way into these spaces.

When one is in good health the lymph wanders over the body freely and the glands are not called upon to enlarge as a measure of protection. If a person has a sore throat, however, the tonsils may become swollen and colonies of bacteria may be found flourishing within them. In addition, some kernels may be felt on the sides of the neck. These are lymph nodes which have become overly active due to the infection. They are trying to strain out the absorbed microbes.

Now, Hodgkin's disease is characterized by a marked overgrowth of the lymph nodes and the spleen may be double its normal size. Just how this trouble originates no one seems to understand altho it has many of the attributes of an infection. Careful investigation, however, has failed to disclose a single organism that can be identified as the causative factor. There is some reason to believe that the ailment is due to one of the viruses, other varieties of which are responsible for "polio" and encephalitis. Some physicians have attempted to trace a connection between undulant fever and the enlargements. Nothing certain, however, has been revealed, altho it is hoped that the day may come speedily when new light will be shed upon the disorder.

Men in their thirties—sometimes in their fifties—are more likely to exhibit the affliction. In most hospitals the percentage of males will be double that of females. The best diagnostic procedure involves the removal of one of the glands followed by a careful microscopic examination. Sometimes a study of the blood will be helpful.

But what to do is the dominant question. First of all, the diet should be nutritious, and liver feedings as well as cod liver oil may be called for. Certain drugs, such as preparations of arsenic, have long been employed and, in some instances, with excellent results. Our chief reliance, however, is X-ray. This process is harmless and entirely without pain, and there is no doubt about its value, provided a sufficient quantity is given. If untoward symptoms appear later—such as nausea—the suggestion is offered that the intake of vitamin B be increased.

The general plan is to ray the sides of the neck, beneath both arms, up and down the spine, both front and back, and the groin on each side. The procedure may be repeated as often as required, and with careful attention many of these patients will scarcely experience a sick day—at least for some years. But the regimen must be adhered to strictly. As a rule the "bunches" of what seems to be tumor tissue will recede—ofttimes to normal. Should they subsequently show signs of enlargement the treatments may be repeated.

We are obliged to look upon Hodgkin's disease as an unsolved problem but, fortunately, one that may be aided greatly by the means at hand. Extra high voltage apparatus is not essential. In fact, the effect is satisfactory with 200,000 volts—adequately filtered. The skin is less readily injured than with a lower voltage which may demand longer exposures.

SPOTTED TEETH.

Mrs. J. B. writes: My 6 year old boy has four teeth in front and they have white spots on them. 1. Can this condition be remedied? 2. Will his second teeth decay easily?

REPLY.

1. If there is too much fluorine in the drinking water, the enamel will become spotted. Ask your doctor or dentist about this.

2. Not unless his diet is inadequate. Be sure that he gets plenty of milk, cod liver oil, balanced meals, and sufficient rest.

SWOLLEN LYMPH GLANDS.

G. B. writes: What causes inflammation of the lymphatic glands?

REPLY.

When any infection is present, nature attempts to drain away the poisons via the lymph channels. The glands serve as way stations, or depots, where much of the infection [bacteria, etc.] is supposed to lodge. In consequence, these structures may enlarge and abscess. In such a circumstance an incision may allow pus, etc., to escape to the outside of the body. In certain diseases of the blood these areas may increase in size greatly.

CHALLENGE TO HORNER.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—I have read with interest the challenge to Gov. Horner from Representative A. L. Lund to allow the assembly to act on economy in state government. The people of Illinois should demand the repeal of the sales tax.

If the sales tax money were really put where it was intended it would be different. Then we little fellows could get a rest from the tag days. Now the Community drive is on; the next will be the Red Cross.

The 3 per cent sales tax is supposed to take care of the needy, and if spent as intended would be more than ample to keep people from want. Instead it goes the way of all easy money—in some other fellow's pocket.

I helped to put the governor in, but the state as well as the country needs a decided change. Get new men in and oust the third term-ites.

[MISS] HELEN SMITH.

LEAVING POLES TO THEIR FATE.

Oak Park, Ill., Oct. 30.—"The Fate of Poland" editorial in THE TRIBUNE of Oct. 28 says what every American should know.

Before the war British and French army experts were sent to Poland and had long conferences with Polish army leaders and inspected Polish armies. A plan was worked out and these British and French experts advised the Poles to make a stand, assuring them they could hold off the Germans until French and British forces could save Poland.

These so-called experts were either stupid or in a conspiracy to destroy Poland. In no manner whatever was Poland prepared to stand up against Germany's attack. A picture in THE TRIBUNE showed the poor Poles with ammunition wagons drawn by dogs. I am informed that there were only 28,000 automotive vehicles in all of Poland, about the number in Oak Park. OTTO MCFEELY.

WATCHMAN, THE FORGOTTEN MAN.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Please print this letter about the "forgotten man," the night watchman of Chicago. He is the most important man to the safety of any business in our city and the lowest paid.

The watchman patrols our streets and buildings [there are 11,000 of him] and walks an average of 10 to 15 miles a night. He goes into places our police don't enter until called, and when they do come they arrive in nice cars, two or three men strong.

The watchman is responsible for reducing our insurance to the lowest rate in many years. Altho the backbone of business protection, he is at the bottom of the pay list and tops in hours.

The average watchman receives $60 to $100 a month, 12 to 13 hours a night, seven days a week. The wages and hours law does not include the "forgotten man." A WATCHMAN.

HOW TO TELL PROPAGANDA.

Evanston, Oct. 26.—I am offering a suggestion that I think would help the readers of the war news decide what to believe and what not to believe.

In a Los Angeles newspaper each war bulletin is marked to show whether the item is propaganda or if it is an official statement. For an article they believe is propaganda a "P" is printed before it. If an article sounds like propaganda the letters "SLP" go with it. "SA" goes before an item that seems authentic and "O" with an official statement.

Our class in Nichols school discussed this and agreed that it would help if the newspapers coöperated and used this suggestion. JOHN THOMAS.

OUR TRANSPORTATION ALL WET.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The street car service in Chicago isn't worth 7 cents so why should it be increased. All well and good for the men employed to receive pensions and good compensation, but let us have good service in return.

The elevated service at 10 cents a ride is in the same condition as the bus and street car. The main objection to the L being one man to two coaches.

FINDS COUNTY HOSPITAL O. K.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—There is constant bickering about the Cook County hospital. Many charges have been made about the treatment of patients.

I was released from the county hospital today. I was in ward 20 for an eye operation. The food was clean and wholesome. I am a cook and a fair judge. The nurses know when a patient is in need of attention. They were never lax in caring for those I came in contact with.

The only fault I found was the lack of patients' coöperation with the nurses and doctors trying to render them a conscientious service. GILBERT WIESEL.

ESTATE SETTLEMENT.

Oak Park, Ill., Oct. 24 [Legal Friend of the People].—A relative living in Michigan died three years ago leaving an estate to be divided among three heirs.

1. Everything has been settled except a mortgage and accumulated interest amounting to about $2,500 on a home owned by a sister of the administrator. The administrator's wife is one of the three heirs. The other two heirs are interested in getting this settled.

2. To date we have had no report as to whether the interest and taxes have been paid.

3. There is no set expiration date on this mortgage.

4. If the taxes on this property have not been paid can we foreclose and if so how soon after?

5. If there are grounds for foreclosure what steps can be taken to force the administrator to take such action?

6. If the administrator will not take action is it a costly procedure to have him removed and a new one appointed, or what is the best method to obtain action in a case of this kind?

7. If court action for foreclosure is necessary is the expense shared by the three heirs or only by the two who start foreclosure proceedings? M. K.

1. You do not make clear whether it is a mortgage owing by the estate or to the estate.

2. We assume from this that it is owing to the estate.

3. This is so exceptional that we doubt the accuracy of your statement.

4. It seems probable that the papers are so worded as to authorize foreclosing. Your rights depend on the wording.

5. You can move in court and show your reasons.

6. The court might appoint a special attorney to handle this matter without removing the administrator.

7. Presumably it will be charged against the estate in the first instance, but ultimately foreclosure costs are technically recoverable out of the proceeds of the foreclosure sale.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Chicago, Oct. 27 [Legal Friend of the People].—1. In case the United States goes to war, will there be a presidential election?

2. If not, will he be authorized by congress to stay in office until war is over? C. W.

1. The wording of the United States constitution and the precedent of Lincoln's second election during the civil war say yes.

2. Under present law congress would have no power to defer the election. We see little point in guessing at what might happen during a war. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

Nov. 2, 1914.

[97th day of world war; 63d day of present war.]

LONDON.—Altho Turkey has not sent a formal declaration of war to the allied countries, 2,000 Turkish soldiers marched into Egypt, and the sultan has massed 400,000 of his troops on the Caucasian border.

PARIS.—The allies have closed in to within four miles of Ostend. A French statement said that repeated German attacks near Ypres have been repulsed and that the allies have advanced both north and east of the city.

CHICAGO.—John T. McCutcheon, TRIBUNE war correspondent and cartoonist, returning from Europe, predicted that the war would last at least two or three years. McCutcheon, who was with the German forces in the early days of the war, reported that the Germans held the Russian army in contempt, pitied the French, and were bitter against the British.

NEW YORK.—The Rockefeller Foundation will employ its immense resources for the relief of noncombatants in countries afflicted by the war. It will stand ready to give millions of dollars if necessary for this cause, John D. Rockefeller Jr., president of the foundation, said.

5 OUSTED IN PLOT TO STEAL PENAL FARM RECORDS

Confess Conspiracy with Inmate, Says Warden.

Vandalia, Ill., Nov. 1 [Special].—Five employés of the Vandalia state penal farm, two of them guards, were suspended today on charges of conspiring with an inmate to steal records of the operation of the institution's kitchen.

George E. Ray, superintendent of the farm, said the five confessed the plot was an effort to find something to discredit him. Ray said he had no idea of what the employés expected to find, adding that there is nothing in the records that reflects upon his management.

The five suspended are E. B. Reeves of Vandalia, chairman of the Fayette county Democratic central committee, who was listed as a special laborer; Guards Donald Lutz of Mulberry Grove and George L. Tolly of Shelby county; Harry Walton of Vandalia, master mechanic, and Wayne Hildgerford of Salem, a commissary clerk.

Inmate Hoping for Release.

The records were taken more than a month ago with the help of John McMillen, an inmate who expected help in obtaining his release, Supt. Ray said.

Reeves, to whom the records had been delivered, returned them to the penal farm today following his suspension. Reeves admitted, Ray said, that he "couldn't make anything out of them."

"The records had little value, because there are duplicates on file in Ray's office and in mine," Director A. L. Bowen of the state department of welfare explained in Springfield.

"The real offense was the employés' trafficking with an inmate. To permit such conduct would break down authority and discipline at the penal farm."

Bowen Heads Investigation.

Bowen, Ray, and Joseph E. Ragen, state superintendent of Illinois prisons, made a full investigation of the affair yesterday. Suspension of the employés followed.

Bowen said formal charges will be filed with the state civil service commission for hearings within 30 days.

Last spring a legislative committee investigated charges that Superintendent Ray used state funds to buy horses kept at the farm for his own use, that he partially equipped his private farm with state farm machinery, and that state farm products were used in a packing house he operated in Centralia.

No action by the legislature resulted, altho Ray admitted he sold four horses to the state for $190 more than he paid for them.

LIFE SENTENCE IS GIVEN FOR MURDER IN AIR

Macon, Mo., Nov. 1 (AP).—Earnest Pletch, Indiana amateur flyer, was sentenced to life imprisonment late today after he pleaded guilty, in a surprise move, to the fantastic airplane slaying of Carl Bivens, Brookfield, Mo., flying instructor.

Circuit Judge Harry J. Libby said sentence was in accordance with the wish of Bivens' widow—that Pletch not be given the death penalty and made him promise he [illegible] would apply for a parole or pardon.

Sentence was pronounced five days after Pletch, 29 years old, and Bivens, 38, left the Brookfield airport in a borrowed plane. Pletch told Prosecuting Attorney Vincent S. Moody he shot and killed Bivens without cause when they were flying 5,000 feet above Macon county. Then he flew to Frankfort, Ind. He was arrested last Saturday.

parole violators. Crump had run away from the institution twice, Mayes once, and most of the others had made one or more attempts to escape. Schaney had been paroled five times and Torrence four times. Torrence was scheduled to be paroled again tomorrow.

Blames Lack of Fence.

The new escapes brought indignant comments from Senator Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton] who, at the last session of the legislature, introduced bills providing for a metal fence around the St. Charles school. The legislature voted an emergency appropriation of $40,000 for the fence, lighting, and extra guards and the measure was approved last May 22 by Gov. Horner.

Then A. L. Bowen, director of the state department of public welfare, refused to have the fence erected, on the ground that a new $250,000 security home for young criminals was to be built and incorrigible St. Charles inmates could be sent there.

"These new escapes are right in Mr. Bowen's lap," declared Senator Gunning. "The legislature passed the [fence] bill believing there was an urgent need of protection for citizens of the Fox River valley. After the bill was passed for a supplementary institution, Mr. Bowen refused to build the fence on the ground it would not be necessary.

"Proves Who Was Right."

"The escape of 13 inmates in one night proves who was right. And it probably will require another year to build the school for incorrigibles."

Senator Gunning is chairman of the state commission now engaged in selecting a site for the new reformatory.

Bowen, reached in Springfield, said the escape would not alter his stand against fencing in St. Charles.

"I have had no report as yet on the escape," Bowen said, "and don't know whether the escapees were homesick boys or young toughs. But since we're going to build the other institution, it would be a waste of time and money to put up the fence."

Tells Plan for Stockade.

He was reminded that a site for the new institution has not been picked.

"No," he replied, "but it won't take us long once a site is selected. It would be my plan to throw up a stockade on the site, and establish temporary quarters for incorrigibles from St. Charles while construction of the permanent buildings goes on."

Senator Gunning said he had never heard previously of the stockade plan.

15 TELL LOSSES IN REALTY FRAUD TRIAL OF FAMILY

Fifteen persons who posted money to buy buildings thru the First State Mortgage company, 10 North Clark street, testified yesterday before Judge John Sbarbaro in the trial of five members of a family who operated the business that they never received either the properties or their money back.

The defendants are Mrs. Katherine Morris, 63 years old, who was head of the firm; her husband, Louis, 63; their son, Milton, 23, all living at 2850 Berwyn avenue; Mrs. Esther Arnold, 32, a daughter, and her husband, Jay, 37, of 3837 Monticello avenue. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud about 60 victims of $80,000 in fake real estate deals.

ESCAPING BANK BANDITS WOUND OFFICER IN CHASE

Ste. Genevieve, Mo., Nov. 1 (AP).—Henry J. Drury, city marshal of Ste. Genevieve, was shot and critically wounded today in the pursuit of two men who held up the Rozier bank. The bandits fled with about $1,200 after locking four officers of the bank in the vault.

Armed with shotguns, the robbers entered the bank this morning and ordered the four men into the vault, where they set off a burglar alarm. Sherif Lewis J. Ziegler and Drury responded and pursued the bandits until the latter's car went into a ditch.

When Ziegler and Drury approached and got out of their car, the robbers opened fire and Drury was shot in the face. The bandits then jumped into the officers' car and escaped, leaving part of the loot behind in their wrecked automobile.

Ohio Bank Robbed by Trio.

Piqua, O., Nov. 1 (AP).—Three unmasked bandits held up the Third Savings and Loan company here at noon today and escaped with approximately $2,500 after menacing five persons and outdistancing two more who attempted pursuit in an automobile.

THIEVES CAN TOTAL LOOT NOW.

Seven adding machines were missing when the automobile of Lawrence J. Lavine, 5005 Hyde Park boulevard, an adding machine salesman, was recovered behind 6206 Dorchester avenue last night. The car was stolen early Monday morning. The machines were worth $432, Lavine said.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

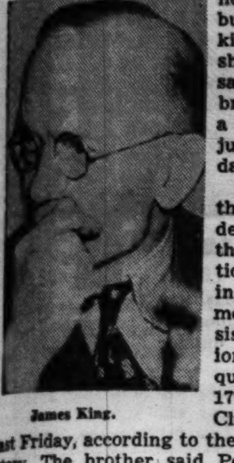
BROTHER TELLS OF THREAT GIVEN SLAIN UNIONIST

Official of Local Denies Inquest Story.

Paul Peters said he had received a threat from a union official before he was ambushed and killed by a shotgun assassin, his brother told a coroner's jury yesterday.



James King.

That threat was delivered in the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union headquarters at 177 North Clark street last Friday, according to the brother's story. The brother said Peters told him it was made by John Hagemann, assistant custodian of the union's Franklin local No. 4.

Peters, a member of the local, was killed early Tuesday morning in front of his home at 3505 North Oak Park avenue. In union circles Peters used the name of King, the same family name used by his two brothers, James and William. Paul and James have been leaders of a minority group in the union's internal warfare.

Story Denied by Hagemann.

It was James who told the coroner's jury the story that he said Peters told him—a story which Hagemann flatly denied when he appeared voluntarily for questioning in the office of Capt. Herbert Burns of the Jefferson Park police.

King said Peters told him before the shooting that he was in the union headquarters when Hagemann said:

"Something might happen to all three of you King boys if you don't lie low and lay off the officials. You might all get taken for a ride."

King said his brother went on:

"I asked Hagemann if he would get me, and he said, 'No, a friend of yours will get you.'"

Inquest Continued to Nov. 22.

Hagemann, who had previously been questioned, was permitted to go home after he had made his denial. He said he would be available for questioning any time he is wanted.

Union officials said the local's heads would be ready to answer questions today. They are S. B. Marks, an international union administrator; Hugh Crambert, president, and John Clark, secretary. They have been in Tennessee conferring with former United States Senator George L. Berry [Dem., Tenn.], who has dominated the international for 32 years. Trouble within the union has been blamed on the struggle for control of its rich treasury.

SONSTEBY SEEKS REPORTERS FOR MUNICIPAL COURT

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby agreed with the Chicago Crime commission yesterday that legal rights would be safeguarded and efficiency increased if shorthand reporters were installed in the criminal branches of the Municipal court.

Judge Sonsteby said he would report favorably on the proposal to the judges of the court when they meet next month to consider the 1940 budget. He estimated that seven additional reporters would be required, at an added expense of $25,000 a year. A reporter has been assigned to the Women's court for the last three years.

The courts in which reporters would be installed are Felony court, Auto Theft and Criminal Jury court, Auto Safety court, Boys' court, police court for districts 1 and 1A, Domestic Relations and Delinquency court, and Traffic and Speeders' court.

Romance on Rocks

MRS. CHESTER MORRIS.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 1 (AP).—Another motion picture marriage is in the courts. Thirteen years after their wedding in Rye, N. Y., Actor Chester Morris was sued for divorce by his wife, Suzanne. She charged him with cruelty. The court was asked to approve a property settlement under which she will have an income of $500 a month and custody of a daughter, Cynthia, 9. Morris would have custody of a son, John Brooks, 11.

Sultan, the young gorilla, has alway been known around Brookfield zoo as a fellow who could take it. But not until yesterday did zoo attendants learn that Sultan also can deal it out.

"Poor Sultan," was the zoo consensus. "Just look at those cauliflower ears the guy has from his wife's punches!"

FOUR ACCUSED IN BOOKIE CASE FREED BY JURY

But a Judge Stands Firm on Fines for 3 Others.

A jury with four women members yesterday acquitted four men charged with operating a handbook. The decision was given in Jury court in the first of a series of jury trials of gambling charges.

Evidence in the case was similar to that on which three alleged handbook employés were fined a total of $425 in the South State street court on Oct. 20. Vigorous but unsuccessful efforts were made before Judge Stephen Adamowski yesterday to upset these convictions.

Judge's View of Case.

After the jury retired to deliberate on the handbook case in Jury court, Judge Joseph J. Drucker told Myron Lewis, assistant state's attorney: "If you can't get a conviction in such an open and shut case as you have here it seems useless to try any more."

Fifteen minutes later the jury returned with its verdict. The defendants were Benny Carrichett, 37 years old; Leonard Bass, 50; James Hughes, 35, and Earl Duconge, 47, all colored. They were arrested on Oct. 6 for operating an alleged handbook at 313½ East 55th street.

Policeman Edward J. Kelly testified that he had placed a 50 cent bet, for which he had a receipt, and had seized handbook wall charts. No witnesses were called by the defense.

Warrants Bring Jury Trials.

The expected series of jury trials is the result of the scare given gamblers by a police order to make all raids on search warrants. This order seemingly plugged a legal loophole—the lack of search warrants—which had been open to the gamblers for years. Attorneys for accused gamblers thus decided their best chance would be at the hands of a jury rather than a judge.

The case in Judge Adamowski's court left the first gambling convictions of recent years still standing, but threatened by a continuing legal battle. The judge overruled a motion to vacate, a motion for a new trial, and a motion for arrest of judgment.

As the defendants were waiting to be taken to the Bridewell, appeal bonds staying the judgment were posted. The three men are Ray Le Blanc, 21; Charles Austin, 29; and John Barboun, 44, all colored. They were seized at 4706 South Park way. In this case also, Policeman Kelly had placed a bet.

It was learned in the South State street court that the number of search warrants being issued is decreasing. A few weeks ago the average was six a day. Only two were issued yesterday and three on Tuesday.

EX-FELON CLEARS CONSCIENCE; LAW GIVEN STOLEN $10

An ex-convict who now attends church regularly and sings hymns with the best brought in a $10 bill to Chief of Police Alven Ruesch of Zion yesterday and said it was the only thing still burdening his conscience.

"You don't know about it," he said, "but I stole a woman's pocketbook in a Zion store in January, 1936. I threw the purse away, but kept $10. I want to give the money back so I'll be completely in the clear."

The ex-convict served three years in Joliet, and Chief Ruesch was so impressed with his new-won righteousness that he kept the convict's name secret. There's one rub. The pocketbook theft was reported, but the victim didn't leave a name, for fear of what her husband might say. So Chief Ruesch doesn't know who is to get the money.

VOID TRIAL AFTER WOMAN JUROR'S CHANGE OF MIND

Judge Calls Repudiation of Verdict 'Shocking.'

The $70,000 Howe will case in which a woman juror astounded a Federal court by repudiating a verdict which she claimed she had signed "thru cowardice" was declared a mistrial yesterday by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe.

The ruling ended without result the first federal court case heard here by a mixed jury of men and women. Judge Igoe termed the repudiation of the verdict "a shocking thing," but declared the incident should not be considered a reflection on women jurors.

Vote to Set Aside Will.

The jury of six men and six women in a verdict reached Saturday set aside the will of Samuel J. Howe, prominent Wheaton attorney, which left $70,000 to Northwestern university for a memorial to his wife. The jury decided in favor of his son, Willard C. Howe of New York, who sued to break the will.

In a poll of the jurors on Monday Mrs. Katherine Merrifield, wife of Frederick W. Merrifield, professor of oral surgery at Northwestern university, said the verdict which she had signed "was not, and is not, mine." She explained that she had yielded to the will of the majority.

"I think this situation is a most shocking thing," Judge Igoe said yesterday. "The jury heard the evidence, then returned with a signed and sealed verdict. Two days later one juror announces that the verdict which she has signed is not hers. And she gives no other explanation than that she signed thru cowardice.

Upholds Right to Disagree.

"However, I think it is clearly understood that this is not a reflection on women jurors. Mrs. Merrifield had the right to disagree. Just because she happens to be of the feminine gender doesn't mean that women should not be allowed to serve on juries."

Judge Igoe refused the request of Attorney Royal W. Irwin, counsel for the university, that a directed verdict be ordered in favor of the school. He also denied the request of Donald P. Vail, attorney for Howe, who asked that the verbal poll of jurors be set aside in favor of the sealed verdict.

The atmosphere in the courtroom became tense for a few minutes after Judge Igoe had refused Irwin's petition.

Questions Judge's Statement.

"I don't think that your statement is quite fair," Irwin told the judge. "I think the shocking thing is that the jury asked for further instructions on the law in the case early Saturday and was unable to get such instructions."

"It's silly for counsel to stand there and make such statements," replied Judge Igoe.

[When the jury members asked for the instructions they were told Judge Igoe had left the building and that such aid could not be given until Monday morning. The jury then stood 7 to 5 in favor of Howe. At 1:45 a. m. Saturday all signed the verdict in his favor.]

A hearing on the date for a new trial was set for Nov. 10 by Judge Igoe. However, Irwin asserted he would appear Saturday to inform the court whether he will agree to a new trial or take the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

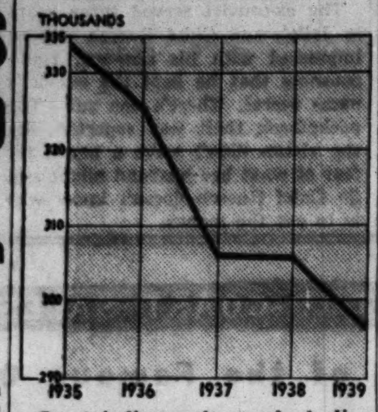
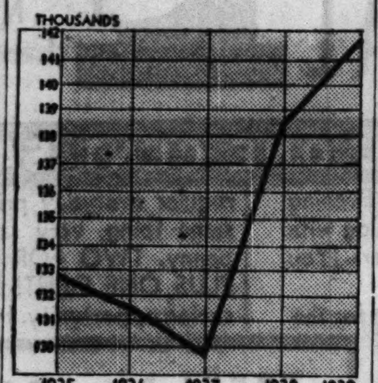
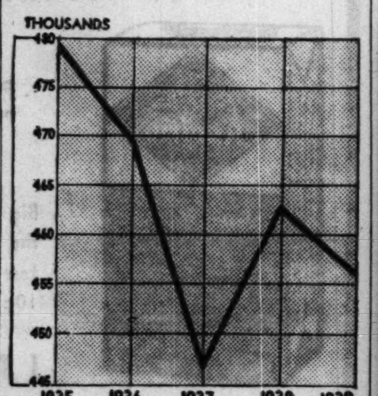
Enrollments Fall



Graph indicates the steady decline in elementary public school enrollment in Chicago in the last five years. Figures are for September of each year.



High school enrollment has reached a peak.



Total enrollment in all public schools in the Chicago system has fallen off in the last five years.

Chicago public school officials yesterday estimated that the enrollment in all branches of the system had decreased this year as compared with 1938 by 5,555. Elementary schools have 10,060 fewer pupils than last year. Enrollment shows a steady downward trend since 1929, when there were 355,253 children getting primary education. Now there are 296,486. The birth rate was on the decline until 1936, and those 1936 babies are not in school yet.

High schools are up 3,436 over last year, to an all-time high of 141,734. The junior colleges also have reached a new peak of 6,567. Including continuation and commercial schools and other specialized knowledge centers, the total is 457,433.

ONLY LOVE LEFT; COUPLE DIES IN 21 FLOOR LEAP

Live Last Four Days in Luxury of Hotel.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Their money gone, their future without hope, and with only their love of 15 married years remaining, a New York couple faced toward the dawn today, and stepped to death together from the windows of their 27th floor hotel room.

Samuel Walker, 40 years old, and his wife, Anna, 36, never had wanted to be separated; their heads were touching when detectives found their bodies on the roof of a fifth floor extension.

For weeks their plight had become increasingly desperate. Once they had had all they wished for: a nice home, money, presentable clothing. Unfortunate business deals stripped them of money. Illness intervened.

Owe $91 Rent.

Saturday they talked. They were $91 arrears in rent. Food was low. There still remained a few dollars.

They packed their best clothes—of good quality, but worn thin—in a suitcase, left the rest in their furnished rooms.

They went to the Hotel New Yorker, registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wilson of Detroit, Mich.," took a room from the windows of which they could watch the sun rise. Over the week-end they enjoyed themselves.

Today their money was all but gone. They stood for a long time before the two windows of the room, smoking and talking. Beneath each window cigaret ends littered the floor.

Leap with the Dawn.

As dawn streaked over the sky they stepped to the ledges of the adjoining windows, poised for a moment—and leaped.

From Mrs. Helen Yeakel of West New York, N. J., police learned Mrs. Walker had visited her last week, giving her a few trinkets, and talking of suicide.

"We thought we had persuaded them to drop the idea," said Mrs. Yeakel; "they were extremely devoted to each other."

MONEY MACHINE SWINDLER FREED IN FISHBAIN CASE

Morris Weisberg, 45 years old, confessed confidence man, was freed yesterday in magistrate's court at New York City because Benjamin Fishbain, wealthy owner of a laundry at 3118 Armitage avenue, refused to pay traveling expenses to bring him here for trial in a "money making machine" swindle.

Weisberg had been held in the Tombs for two weeks after his arrest at the request of Chicago police. But, since being fleeced three years ago, Fishbain lost interest, and the authorities here were unable to persuade him to prosecute. He complained in 1937 that he had paid Weisberg and his confederate, Micha Pach, $100,000 for the machine, which was supposed to convert $1 bills into $1,000 notes.

Don't Nurse your radiator this Winter

New SHELL Anti-Freeze cuts down boil-away—gives full protection with fewer feedings

If you're tired of watching your radiator toss off a quart of anti-freeze without even a gurgle, then it's time you tried the new Shell Anti-Freeze.

Because it contains an ingredient that is especially designed to cut down evaporation loss, the new Shell Anti-Freeze saves you much of the expense and annoyance of constantly having to add anti-freeze. It gives you sure protection with fewer feedings.

In coldest weather, SHELL Anti-Freeze protects!

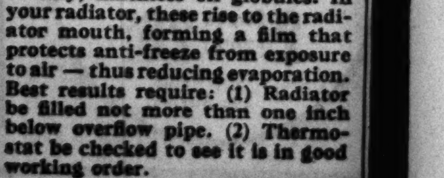
Shell Anti-Freeze prevents the formation of destructive solid ice in the coldest winter weather. It prevents rust and corrosion. Has no objectionable odor. Harmless to cooling system parts.

HOW SHELL ANTI-FREEZE REDUCES EVAPORATION LOSS



Shell Anti-Freeze contains millions of tiny, harmless oil globules. In your radiator, these rise to the radiator mouth, forming a film that protects anti-freeze from exposure to air — thus reducing evaporation. Best results require: (1) Radiator be filled not more than one inch below overflow pipe. (2) Thermostat be checked to see it is in good working order.

MANTENO'S GRIM DAYS OF HORROR TOLD BY NURSES

Prosecutor Lauds Heroism of Hospital Staff.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

What happened when the recent typhoid epidemic broke out among the 5,400 mentally deficient patients and 800 employés of the Manteno State hospital was told yesterday to State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro of Kankakee county. Shapiro is conducting an investigation into the epidemic, which caused 52 deaths in the hospital.

For a time fear overran the institution's 52 cottages. Some patients and some employés fled. New cases of typhoid fever were developing every day. There were not enough nurses or attendants.

Praises Heroic Actions.

"Credit and commendation must be given the physicians who kept going thru that terrifying few weeks after last Aug. 19," said Shapiro. "Great praise is also due the brave nurses and attendants who labored thru that terrible ordeal."

Two others were regarded as heroes by the men and women who watched their efficiency, calmness, and tireless energy thru 18 to 20 hours a day during the epidemic. They are Karl E. Schwob and Leonard Dworsky, assistant sanitary engineers, who were sent to the institution from Chicago to help fight the epidemic.

Schwob and Emil Theis, master mechanic at the hospital, were among the persons questioned yesterday by Shapiro. Others who contributed information were Mrs. Mary Burrell, 1050 East Maple street, Kankakee, a nurse who worked for five weeks at Manteno, and Nurse Fern Fink, who is now attached to St. Mary's hospital at Kankakee.

Three Cared for 83 Patients.

"I was called to work at Manteno Aug. 30," said Mrs. Burrell. [The epidemic was recognized as such on Aug. 19.] "There were two other nurses and six attendants assigned to the cottage to which I was sent. The three of us had to care for 83 patients.

"The patients were all excited or excitable. Many had to be restrained.

"The hospital was not prepared for such an emergency. There was a deplorable lack of facilities for sanitary purposes. Neither the sick nor their bed clothing could be kept clean or properly sterilized."

Nurse Fink corroborated the general story told by Mrs. Burrell.

It was into conditions such as were described sketchily by the nurses that Schwob and Dworsky, the sanitary engineers, stepped. Their first task was to chlorinate the water, and then to burn everything that might cause contagion or spread the epidemic.

Water Blamed in Deaths.

The dead are listed at the hospital at 52, but it is reported there were other deaths away from Manteno. The cause of the epidemic was definitely established as seepage of sewage into one or more of the four wells that supplied the institution with water.

"I am nearly finished with my investigation at the hospital," State's Attorney Shapiro said last night. "Tomorrow I will go to Springfield and question A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare, who has charge of all state institutions, and Dr. A. C. Baxter, state director of health. The matter of the warnings sent to Mr. Bowen's department for eight years by Dr. Baxter's department is most important."

The warnings he referred to concerned the Manteno hospital water supply, which the state health department said in 1931 was not fit for human beings. It was intimated by the prosecutor that the question of possible prosecution hinges on those warnings.

Change Tactics

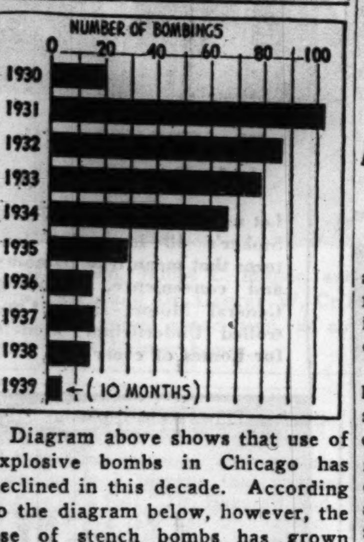

Diagram above shows that use of explosive bombs in Chicago has declined in this decade. According to the diagram below, however, the use of stench bombs has grown since 1934.

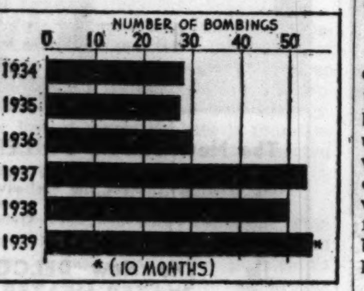

With only five explosive bombings during the first 10 months this year, Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan reported to Commissioner Allman yesterday that the total is the lowest in the last 10 years and continues the decline in this type of crime all thru the period. Chief Sullivan said that the peak year of 1931, when 103 were reported, marked the war between motion picture operators and theater owners. Figures showed that stench bombs, however, have replaced dynamite and powder bombs as the weapon of terrorists. Barber shops have been the target of 70 per cent of such bombings this year.

WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE? NOT NOWADAYS

New Home Appliances on Display.

BY MARCIA WINN.

The ancient instruments for woman's drudgery and the modern means for her emancipation rest side by side in the home appliance show which opened yesterday in the Stevens hotel.

Fifty and 100 years ago she pressed her husband's clothes with an ancient sad iron, which lived up to its name, or a 10 pound iron mass, heated by glowing charcoal poured into its bowels. These are on display, but near by are long tables covered with gleaming steel and chromium electric irons, light weight and satin smooth, that glide along effortlessly.

Iron Lifts Itself Up.

One of these modern irons doesn't even require lifting. A red button on the handle releases two legs, imbedded in the iron, and it props itself up. When pressed back in, they blend with the iron. Another not only has different heats for pressing rayon, wool, silk, cotton, and linen, but also flashes the name of the fabric in burning red letters when its proper heat is reached.

Fifty—even 10—years ago the housewife chopped her vegetables by hand, a long, arduous undertaking in which a bit of slashed finger often went into the sliced beets. A new electric mixer and chopper does everything but bathe the baby. It slices carrots in 15 seconds, makes juice of the carrots in 35 seconds, mixes a frozen dachiri cocktail or even pineapple sherbet in 40 seconds. It cuts, chops or liquifies raw vegetables and fruits, it grinds coffee, it even mixes pancake or waffle batter.

The New and the Old.

An ancient washing machine, an octagonal wooden box lined with lead and cranked by hand, is on display. So are countless beautiful modern electric washers, some with glass fronts so you can watch the soapy water whip the dirt out. Beside the 1907 electric toaster, with its coiled filaments that often leaped out to toast the hand instead of the bread, are modern toasters of chromium or porcelain, from which the toast, injected at one side, pops out the other when done.

The hand operated push-pull vacuum cleaner of 1880 is on display, a cumbersome lead cylinder. So is a tiny little hand electric vacuum, made to retrieve dog and cat hairs from upholstery, to clean cars and draperies.

There's even an electric beanery now, lined with a heavy pottery bean pot, white rather than the beloved black. And, o, yes, there's a combination electric door chime and kitchen clock. Two chimes ring out for the front door, one for the back.

LUNCHEON TODAY WILL HEAR CITY TRANSIT PLANS

Plans for improving Chicago's transportation system will be discussed by Mayor Kelly and city engineers today at a luncheon of the Greater Central District association in the Stevens hotel. The speakers will include Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and traction; Ralph H. Burke, chief subway engineer; and Charles E. De Leuw, consulting engineer for the department of subways and traction. The discussion will include superhighway programs, the subway system, the Congress street development and the proposed unification of the transit lines.

PICK MIXED JURY FOR 2D AIRPORT LAND SUIT TRIAL

A jury of six women and six men was chosen in Judge Denis J. Normoyle's court yesterday for the second trial of claims for property needed for expansion of the Chicago airport. The jury is to determine prices to be paid for 34 of the 78 parcels of property required.

A jury in the same court brought in a verdict early yesterday awarding an aggregate of $18,048 to the owners of the first 22 parcels involved. It is expected that eight separate trials will be necessary to set prices for all the land. The awards in the first trial were $3,375 higher than the city's appraisals. If the awards continue on the same basis, nevertheless, the cost will remain within the $150,000 appropriated for the purchases. The land is being acquired by condemnation proceedings to furnish a new right of way for th Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks, which now bisect the landing field making only half usable.

MOTHER GIVEN LIFE TERM FOR SLAYING OF SON

Newton, Ill., Nov. 1 (AP).—Mrs. Effie Ramey and Charles W. Kibler, who had confessed the insurance murder of her son, Clifford, 21 rs old, were sentenced to life imprisonment today by Circuit Judge James G. Burnside.

The youth was slain on a hunting trip last Sept. 15. His mother, 58, and her farmer friend, 61, pleaded guilty to murder charges Oct. 20. At a hearing last Monday on a defense plea for clemency, Mrs. Ramey said Kibler shot and killed her son in carrying out a plot to collect $2,000 in insurance on his life. Kibler admitted planning the slaying with Mrs. Ramey.

LEWIS' 3D TERM BLAST IS LINKED TO FEAR FOR C.I.O.

dues collections, and finances of his unions as a basis for their representation in the proposed merger. Lewis refused, and he is said to be even more opposed to such an audit today. It would make a mockery of his boast of being "the second public figure in America."

Lewis Threatens to Quit.

Since the close on Oct. 13 of the second annual C. I. O. convention in San Francisco, C. I. O. inspired newspaper stories have told about a dramatic and passionately sincere attempt on Lewis' part to resign for the reason, among others, that President Roosevelt believed it would result in peace for organized labor. The truth about the resignation episode, according to union leaders in a position to know, is that Lewis threatened to resign rather than permit a polite reply to Mr. Roosevelt's latest peace proposal.

On Oct. 11 Mr. Roosevelt wrote a personal letter to Lewis, urging the resumption of peace negotiations. In it he expressed the hope that "you will let me hear from you that the progress already made will be continued and that your committee is prepared to renew the negotiations promptly and continue them until a settlement is reached."

Lewis Storms In, and Out.

Sidney Hillman and Philip Murray, vice presidents, and other high officials of the C. I. O. were drafting an encouraging reply to the President's letter, submitting definite proposals for the resumption of negotiations when Lewis stormed in upon them in a San Francisco hotel room and learned what they were doing. He demanded that the President's letter be ignored and threatened to resign on the spot if they answered it. Then he stormed out of the room.

After due deliberation, Hillman, Murray, and the others persuaded him to return and a compromise was agreed upon. Instead of a personal reply to the President's letter, Lewis replied tersely that it had been submitted to a committee and that, by direction of the committee, the reply was being made.

The letter set forth various reasons why the resumption of peace negotiations was not expedient. Neither the White House nor the C. I. O. has made this letter public.

Predicts He'll Be Back.

On the final day of the convention, Oct. 13, Lewis declared:

"It is no secret to some of you that I came to this convention with the hope that you would select another president in lieu of myself. Those of you with whom I conferred declined to be guided by my wishes, and they said that what they believed was also believed by you, all of you."

The sincerity of his resignation talk may be measured by his own words at the opening of the convention on Oct. 10, when he said:

"When I come back five years from now, as come back I will, I will come into San Francisco with at least 10,000,000 dues paying members."

The C. I. O. convention sidetracked the third term issue, altho C. I. O. unions, councils, and state conventions thruout the country had urged a third term for Mr. Roosevelt. Lewis this week threatened, by implication, to oppose a third term when he denounced secret efforts of two high administration officials to start a third term movement with a conference of "progressive leaders" of 11 western states.

Writer Finds C. I. O. Chaotic.

Benjamin Stolberg, a labor writer, declared in a recent magazine article that the C. I. O. was "in chaos" and had dwindled to about 1,250,000 members. His figures have been verified by responsible labor authorities in Washington.

"There is one basic reason for this disintegration of the C. I. O.," Stolberg wrote. "All other reasons flow from it. The communist party, which penetrated the C. I. O. from the beginning, has increasingly dominated its policies, subverted its purposes, dissipated its energies, and disrupted its unions."

The communist infestation and revolutionary objectives of the C. I. O. were revealed for the first time by a series of articles in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in March, 1937, at a time when Mr. Stolberg was writing glowingly partisan accounts of C. I. O. triumphs. THE TRIBUNE at that time published the names of prominent C. I. O. leaders whom Lewis himself had denounced as communists, as well as the names of many communist C. I. O. organizers.

Three Run Headquarters.

Stolberg now asserts, and his contentions are confirmed by the evidence of the Dies committee, that the national headquarters of the C. I. O. is dominated by three men, who in turn adhere sedulously to the Stalinist party line. They are John Brophy, executive director of the C. I. O.; Lee Pressman, general counsel, chief of Lewis' brain trust, and liaison officer with the Roosevelt administration, in which he used to be a minor brain truster, and Len de Caux, chief propagandist and editor of the C. I. O. News.

In 1926 Brophy ran against Lewis for the presidency of the United Mine Workers and in 1928, when Brophy and his communist associates sought to gain control of the union, Lewis expelled him as a "communist stooge." Benjamin Gitlow, general secretary of the communist party at that time, swore before the Dies committee that funds were sent from Moscow to finance both Brophy's campaign in 1926 and the organization later of the National Miners' union.

James B. Carey, national secretary of the C. I. O., is not a communist, but is closely surrounded by them in his Electrical and Radio Workers' union, according to the evidence of the Dies committee.

Board Members Are Reds.

Besides the ex-officio members—president, secretary, and vice presidents—there are 40 members of the C. I. O. executive board, representing the 40 constituent unions. At least 16 of these executive board members are communists, the Dies committee records indicate. They are:

Lewis Berne, Architects, Engineers, Chemists, and Technicians.

George A. Addes, Automobile Workers of America.

Donald Henderson, president, Cannery, Agricultural Packing and Allied Workers.

Mervyn Rathborne, president, American Communications association.

Grant W. Oakes, chairman, Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee.

J. F. Jurich, secretary, International Union of Fishermen and Allied Workers.

Ben Gold, president, International Fur and Leather Workers' union.

Morris Muster, United Furniture Workers of America.

Joseph Curran, president, National Maritime union.

Lewis Merrill, president, United Office and Professional Workers of America.

Andrew H. Esposito, International Union of Playthings and Novelty Workers.

Samuel Wolchok, president, United Retail and Wholesale Employés of America.

Tony McTeer, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Heywood Broun, president of the American Newspaper guild and another member of the executive board, is a former member of the communist party and closely followed the party line in his writings until the Hitler-Stalin mutual assistance pact was announced, according to the evidence before the Dies committee. Stolberg called Broun a fellow traveler who "hews to the 'party line' discreetly in his newspaper column, wildly in his weekly page in the New Republic, a Stalinoid 'journal of liberal opinion,' and unscrupulously in the newspaper guild."

R. J. Thomas, president of the C. I. O. Automobile Workers, is not a communist, but the communist domination of that union is evidenced by its communist representative on the C. I. O. executive board—Addes.

The communists have a majority on the auto union's executive board and the union's affairs are dominated by Wyndham Mortimer, a member of the communist party for 15 years.

Curran, president of the National Maritime union; Bridges, president of the Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, and most other C. I. O. leaders deny that they are communists, but dozens of witnesses have linked them with secret meetings which none but communists could attend.

Of the 37 top officials of the National Maritime union, all but nine are communists, records of the Dies house committee indicate. As to Bridges and the Longshoremen and Warehousemen, Jack Stachel, executive secretary of the central executive committee of the communist party, is one of the authorities cited by the Dies committee.

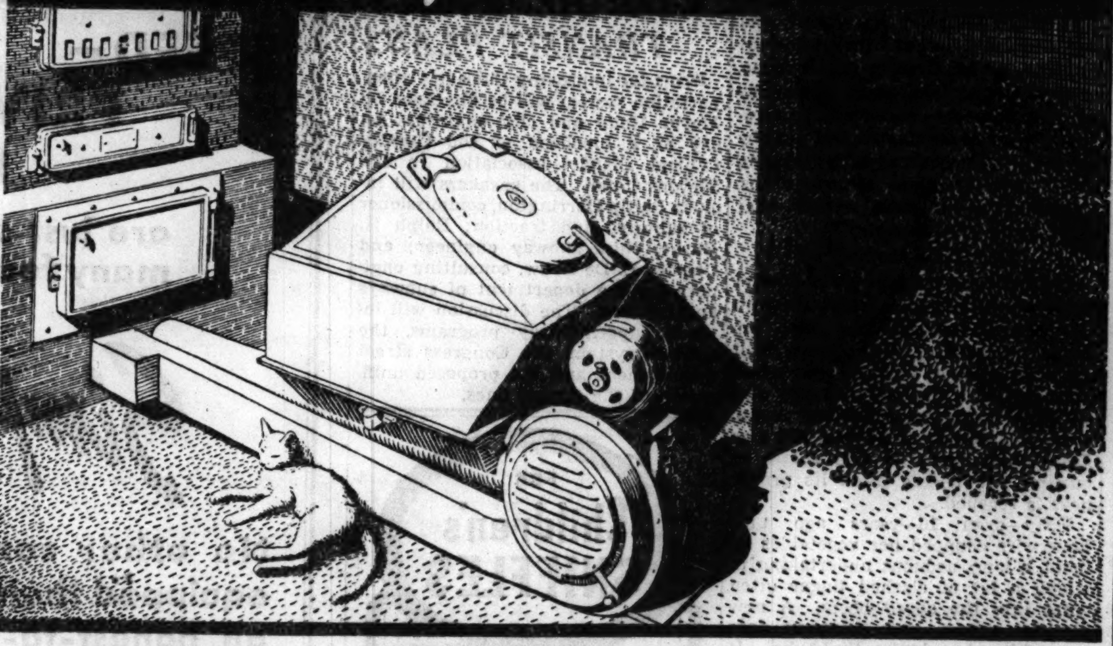
Economical Operation of Underfeed Stokers



POCAHONTAS coal combines in balanced proportion all the chemical elements necessary for complete combustion and maximum utilization of high heating units. This chemical composition distinguishes Pocahontas coal from average coal and establishes it as a most efficient and economical fuel for stokers.

Its long-burning qualities effect an appreciable reduction in stoker running time and a saving in cost of operation. Its low ash content reduces to a minimum the time and expense incurred in fire cleaning and refuse disposal. Low in sulphur, Pocahontas coal also burns without releasing objectionable gases.

Use genuine Pocahontas dustless coal and realize a higher return on your stoker investment. A representative of the railway's Chicago Coal Bureau will be glad to explain its advantages to you, and assist in the solution of any fuel problem. Call or write:

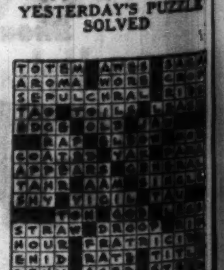
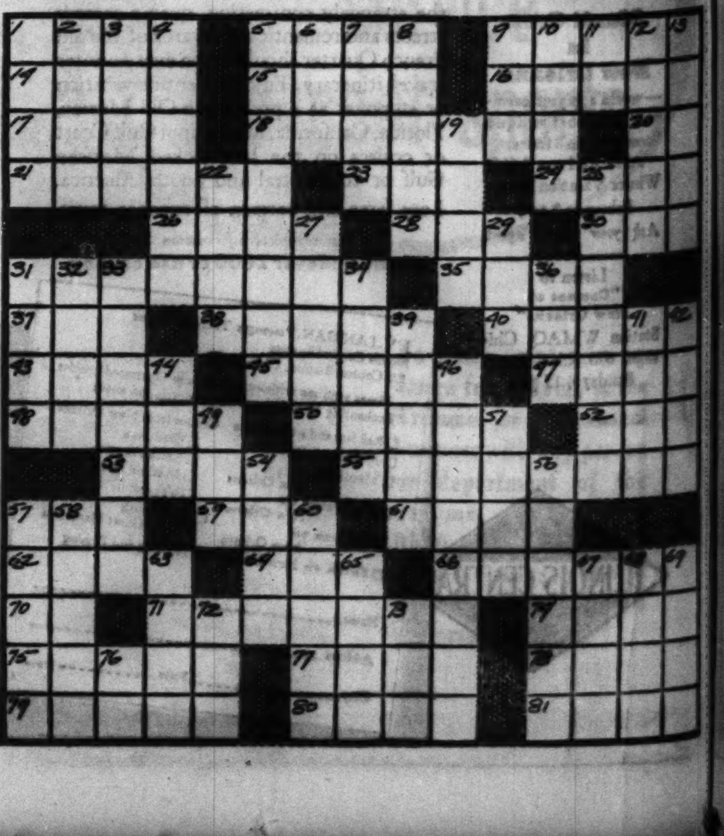
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



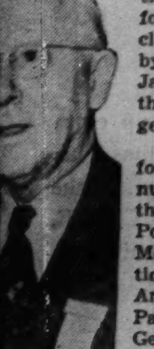


ARMY EXPANDIN[G] MEDICAL CORP[S,] MAGEE REVEA[LS]

Surgeon General Calls [on] Doctors for Aid.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Rapid expansion of the United St[ates] army medical department to k[eep] pace with the [in]crease in the [na]tion's arm[ed] forces was [dis]closed last ni[ght] by Maj. G[en.] James C. Ma[gee,] the army's [sur]geon general.



Dr. Wm. D. Haggard.

Speaking [be]fore the 24th [an]nual banquet [of] the Interst[ate] Postgradua[te] Medical Asso[cia]tion of Nor[th] America in [the] Palmer Hou[se,] Gen. Magee [de]clared the g[ov]ernment is [de]pending upon the medical profess[ion] for full coöperation. He emphasi[zed] that the present expansion moveme[nt] is being carried out with no thoug[ht] that war is ahead.

Peace Preservation Only Aim.

"Troubled world conditions," [he] said, "have turned our thoughts int[o] unaccustomed channels. The objec[t] of the increase in military forces [is] for peace only. But more hospital [and] medical officers are being re[quired] and two of the surgeon ge[n]eral's principal activities at this tim[e] are the provision of these."

Gen. Magee then outlined the step[s] that would be necessary in the even[t] of a general mobilization and adde[d] that the medical profession would b[e] called upon to supply the needed men.

Mayor Kelly delivered the addres[s] of welcome, asserting that if the as[sembly] could provide a treatment fo[r] civic hardening of the arteries i[t] would have his full coöperation.

Other Notables Heard.

Others who spoke included Dr. James B. Herrick, professor emeritus of Rush Medical college; Dr. Nathan B. Van Etten of New York, president-elect of the American Medical association; Dr. Chevalier Jackson of Philadelphia, president elect of the Postgraduate Medical association; Dr. Nathan S. Davis III., president of the Chicago Medical society, and Prof. J. Polya of Budapest, Hungary, of the Budapest university medical faculty.

The association, which is made up of 50,000 of the more advanced members of the medical profession, holds annual assemblies so that eminent specialists and teachers can share their discoveries and conclusions of the preceding year. More than 6,000 medical men are here. Their sessions, which last from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., will continue thru Saturday.

Appendicitis Peril Grave.

Deadly, quick striking appendicitis, was the subject at yesterday's afternoon session of Dr. William D. Haggard, professor of surgery at Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn. Since the operation known as an appendectomy was perfected, he said, many persons have come to regard appendicitis and its symptoms lightly. And this is error; error that can cost you your life, he warned.

Dr. Haggard's discussion of the treatment of spreading peritonitis after the rupture of the appendix was awaited with great interest. He is one of the nation's authorities upon control of this infection.

ARMY EXPANDING MEDICAL CORPS, MAGEE REVEALS

Surgeon General Calls on Doctors for Aid.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Rapid expansion of the United States army medical department to keep pace with the increase in the nation's armed forces was disclosed last night by Maj. Gen. James C. Magee, the army's surgeon general.

Dr. Wm. D. Haggard.

Speaking before the 24th annual banquet of the Interstate Postgraduate Medical Association of North America in the Palmer House, Gen. Magee declared the government is depending upon the medical profession for full coöperation. He emphasized that the present expansion movement is being carried out with no thought that war is ahead.

Peace Preservation Only Aim.

"Troubled world conditions," he said, "have turned our thoughts into unaccustomed channels. The object of the increase in military forces is for peace only. But more hospitals and medical officers are being required and two of the surgeon general's principal activities at this time are the provision of these."

Gen. Magee then outlined the steps that would be necessary in the event of a general mobilization and added that the medical profession would be called upon to supply the needed men.

Mayor Kelly delivered the address of welcome, asserting that if the assembly could provide a treatment for the hardening of the arteries it would have his full coöperation.

Other Notables Heard.

Others who spoke included Dr. James B. Herrick, professor emeritus of Rush Medical college; Dr. Nathan B. Van Etten of New York, president-elect of the American Medical association; Dr. Chevalier Jackson of Philadelphia, president elect of the Postgraduate Medical association; Dr. Nathan S. Davis III., president of the Chicago Medical society, and Prof. J. Bakay of Budapest, Hungary, of the Budapest university medical faculty.

The association, which is made up of 50,000 of the more advanced members of the medical profession, holds annual assemblies so that eminent specialists and teachers can share their discoveries and conclusions of the preceding year. More than 6,000 medical men are here. Their sessions, which last from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., will continue thru Saturday.

Appendicitis Peril Grave.

Deadly, quick striking appendicitis, was the subject at yesterday's afternoon session of Dr. William D. Haggard, professor of surgery at Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn. Since the operation known as an appendectomy was perfected, he said, many persons have come to regard appendicitis and its symptoms lightly. And this is error; error that can cost you your life, he warned.

Dr. Haggard's discussion of the treatment of spreading peritonitis after the rupture of the appendix was awaited with great interest. He is one of the nation's authorities upon control of this infection.

The things to do and not to do when appendicitis strikes are pretty well known in these times, said Dr. Haggard. But the person who looks upon them with indifference is no better off than his grandfather, who, on feeling the first warning pangs, would rush for the castor oil bottle and die.

"A laxative taken at such a time is similar to a torpedo that strikes the side of a ship," Dr. Haggard said. "Of those who take one dose of laxative, one out of 14 will die. Of those who take two doses, only one in seven will recover.

"This is the fatal blunder the patient makes. The often fatal blunder of doctors is in viewing appendicitis as mild or 'not serious.' No case of appendicitis is too mild for surgery. The lowest mortality rate is found in those cases where surgery is resorted to immediately.

Tells How King Was Saved.

"However, if the appendix ruptures, there should be a delay of from 10 to 12 days—under the physician's care, of course. Sir Edward Treves operated eight days after King Edward VII. had suffered a rupture of the appendix. If he had operated four days afterward the king would have died.

"The real emergency is in the first 24 hours—not the third or fourth day. Many patients wait from 72 to 90 hours, then undergo a midnight operation, their case having gone unstudied by the physician. This is hazardous. It should be remembered that the mortality rate is 1 per cent before rupture and 40 per cent afterward."

Dr. Haggard declared that before this year is out 20,000 persons will have died of appendicitis at an average age of 27.

Later in the day Dr. Haggard delivered another paper, an appreciation of Drs. William J. and Charles H. Mayo, with whom he had been associated for more than 30 years. Both died during the last 12 months.

New Insulin Works Marvels.

One of the most important papers of the day, a study of the insulins used in treatment of diabetes, was read at the morning session by Dr. Elliott P. Joslin, clinical professor of medicine at Harvard Medical school, Boston.

Amazing results have been achieved at Harvard during the last year thru experiments with crystaline zinc insulin, he declared. It is injected in solution just as is regular insulin, but it is purer, its effect may last an hour longer, and its action is just as fast, said Dr. Joslin.

"The advance in the treatment of diabetes is indicated," he said, "by the drop of diabetic coma [death] from 64 per cent of the patients to 3½ per cent since the discovery of insulin. And that 3½ per cent is needless."

Referring to records of his own clinical patients of the last year, he stated that 1 per cent had taken regular insulin alone, 40 per cent took protamine zinc insulin alone, 49 per cent took both, and 10 per cent took none. There were no deaths.

"The diabetic patient should be extremely careful to avoid insulin reaction, or shock," said Dr. Joslin. "Each case of this kind is a setback to the other 600,000 diabetics in the country because it hampers their chances of getting a job; it makes employers afraid to hire a diabetic. And it should be understood once and for all that the overwhelming majority of these people are as able to do a full day's work as any nondiabetic.

Diabetics Now Bear Children.

All who used the protamine insulin took it before breakfast and required no more during the day, he said. [Insulin supplies artificially the secretion of the pancreatic gland. Failure of this gland deprives the body of its ability to assimilate sugar and causes diabetes.]

Of the greatest importance is the fact that protamine zinc insulin enables diabetic women to bear children, said Dr. Joslin. In his Harvard clinic there have been 24 successful births out of 26 confinements since Jan. 1, he declared. In the nation there have been 39, Dr. Joslin concluded.

"Bouchardt [one of the greats in diabetic research] never knew of one birth by a diabetic," he said. "Naunyn knew of only one."

Other morning session speakers included: Dr. Howard K. Gray, University of Minnesota graduate medical school, who spoke on the surgical treatment of peptic [stomach] ulcer, and Dr. Robert A. Black, Loyola university, Chicago, who discussed rheumatic fever in children. Dr. Loyal Davis of Northwestern was called away to perform an emergency operation and his talk on surgical treatment of hypertension [high blood pressure] was postponed.

Angina Pectoris Strides Told.

At the afternoon session, in addition to Dr. Haggard, the assembly heard Dr. Frank H. Lahey of the Lahey clinic, Boston, on the management of various types of goiter; Dr. Austin A. Hayden of Chicago, president of the American Society for the Hard of Hearing; Dr. Evarts A. Graham, professor of surgery, Washington university, St. Louis, on carcinoma [cancer] of the lungs; Dr. William J. Kerr of the University of California on a newer approach to the treatment of angina pectoris [a severe and painful heart ailment], and Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, professor of physiology and pharmacology at Northwestern, who discussed hormones of the gastro-intestinal tract.

We Celebrate 85 Years of Growth

"HOW WE GREW"

CHICAGO, 1871. A town of wood. A gas-lit town. A plank-street, close-packed, shanty town. Hot, parched and desert-dry that year, seared by a southwest wind. October 8, a fire alarm, a west-side barn in flames. A house next door, a city block, and then a mile ablaze. October 9, no water pumps, and fire across the river. Burned churches, banks, and schools and stores, and fire still raging onward. Split families fleeing on ahead, lost homes, lost hopes behind them. October 10, a burned-out town, a smoking, black-charred, hopeless town. An almost-dead Chicago.

CARSON PIRIE & CO, 1871. 118 North State Street—gone in a minute, along with the wholesale, and little saved. Hopeless days that followed. A few things stored at 16th and Wabash. A new store opened back on Lake Street. At last a new location out of the burned-over heart of town, at Madison and Peoria, the West End Dry Goods Store. The good ten years that followed saw the Scott's name added and changed our name to what it is today; added still another retail, this time at Clark and Erie; and went into the eighties with plans for more expansion.

FEW BABIES NEED ENZYMED MILK, DOCTORS ASSERT

Pediatricians Give Views on Council Subject.

Leading Chicago child specialists said yesterday that enzyme modified cows' milk is beneficial to babies, but that it is necessary only in infrequent cases. Some pediatricians declared it should be available only on prescription and not sold on the open market.

The question whether the sale of such milk should be permitted in Chicago touched off a noisy debate in the city council on Monday. Ald. Joseph C. Ross [40th], who is a practicing physician, recommended such sales. Ald. James J. McDermott [14th] opposed the plan.

Soften the Curd in Milk.

Enzymes are described as ultramicroscopic bodies, the product of living cells in animals and plants. The particular enzymes advocated by Ross are those derived from the pancreas of cattle. Milk modified by their use, he said, has a softer curd than ordinary cows' milk and would be more readily digested by babies.

Pediatricians interviewed yesterday said there are other methods of modifying cows' milk to help infants digest it, one being the addition of malt sugar. Their general attitude was that while the enzyme treatment is satisfactory, they have treated many cases without resorting to it.

Needed by Few, Says Cutter.

Dr. Irving S. Cutter, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, said only one baby in several thousand needs enzyme modified milk.

"Except in rare cases," he said, "rennin, the enzyme needed for digestion of milk, is found in the baby's stomach glands. So there would seem to be no need for modifying milk by a powder produced from an enzyme from the pancreas of cattle."

One of McDermott's objections to the recommendation for sale of enzyme treated milk was his understanding that Armour & Co. is the sole manufacturer of the powder product.

Other Packers Interested.

Yesterday it was learned that altho Armour & Co. is the only packing house turning out the finished product, two other packers—Swift & Co. and Cudahy Packing company—sell the raw materials to pharmaceutical concerns which develop it into marketable form.

After McDermott's opposition at the council meeting, Ross withdrew his recommendation. He announced yesterday that he would bring it up again at the next council meeting on Nov. 15. He also plans to canvass members of the subcommittee of the council health committee to determine if they want to hold public hearings on the subject.

2 WILD DRIVERS, CRASH FUGITIVE GET JAIL TERMS

Patrick O'Toole, 34 years old, a laborer, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes of the Safety court to 15 days in the County jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated. O'Toole, who lives at 1415 Warner avenue, also was deprived of his driving privileges for six months.

Judge Hermes sentenced John Hawk, 29, of 2451 North 73rd avenue, Elmwood Park, to 10 days in jail and deprived him of his driving privileges for six months for reckless driving. Hawk was arrested early in July after his machine had hit another which had halted at a stop sign at 39th and Halsted streets.

William Spencer, 34, of 1866 Bissell street, was sent to jail for five days on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident on Oct. 28.

Tag 173 Oak Park Autos in Drive on Night Parking

Oak Park police tagged 173 automobiles with parking tickets during the early hours yesterday in a drive to enforce the suburb's ordinance against night parking on the streets. The police said the tickets are of the cafeteria court type. Motorists who are first offenders will pay a $1 fine.

DAIRY ENJOINED FROM MARKET PACT VIOLATION

Make Reports or Go Out of Business Is Edict.

The Lemont Dairy company, 840 West 31st street, must comply with an order of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to participate in the federal milk marketing agreement in the Chicago area or liquidate a $100,000 investment and get out of business.

This was the effect of a temporary injunction issued yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan. Government lawyers admitted as much before the injunction order was entered. And they indicated that the court, under the law, had little choice in the matter.

Fails to File Report.

Specifically, the government complaint charges that Joseph Skrzypczynski, president of the dairy, has failed to file required reports on the amount and the grades of milk handled by the dairy during September. Skrzypczynski is known to the trade as Mr. Skip. This was the first violation charged in this area since Secretary Wallace's marketing order took effect Sept. 1.

Skip asserted he cannot afford to hire the extra help necessary to make out the reports nor pay government assessments for policing the industry.

In court yesterday he blinked nervously as he heard government attorneys argue that his failure to comply with the order has endangered the marketing agreement. They said 16,200 other producers and handlers in this area are demanding action to protect them from the allegedly unfair competition of the one dairy.

Wallace Wields Dictatorship.

The marketing agreement gives Secretary Wallace dictatorship powers over milk producers and handlers in the Chicago area. It was accepted by the trade at a referendum ordered by the secretary himself last August. Under the new régime the retail price of milk has risen from 11 to 13 cents per quart.

The administrator representing the secretary in this area is N. J. Cladakis. He said reports from producers and handlers are of vital importance in setting the price paid to producers for milk. They receive a flat price thru the local administrator's pool.

POLICE FOLLOW SCRAPE MARKS, FIND DEATH CAR

Careful detective work by two Maywood policemen led yesterday to the solution of a hit and run death in the suburb.

Shortly before dawn the body of a push cart junk peddler was found at 1st avenue and Oak street in Maywood. From papers in his pockets he was identified as Rudolph Schmidt, 64 years old, no address. Beside Schmidt's body lay the wreckage of his cart.

Lieut. Edward Koch and Policeman Bruno Paszko reasoned that the death car had been traveling north in 1st avenue. Then Koch discovered two scrape marks in the pavement a few feet north of the body. One scrape led north. Another branched off into a side street.

Follow One Trail North.

The policemen thought that the marks might have been caused by the rim of an automobile wheel after the tire had blown out, possibly in striking Schmidt. But the two sets of scratches puzzled them. The policemen chose the trail that led north and followed it. Paszko lay on the fender of the police car to see the scrape marks while Koch drove.

They followed the trail 11 miles to Park Ridge. There their search ended when they came upon a concrete mixer beside the road. Its steel wheels had made the trail. The owners explained that they had driven along 1st avenue near the scene of the accident hours before it happened.

The two policemen then retraced their route and followed the other trail. It ended in front of 7719 Patterson avenue, in Chicago, where they found an automobile with its right front tire flat. They arrested Lawrence T. Moline, a chemist, living at that address.

Admits Hitting Something.

Koch said Moline admitted that he had driven along 1st avenue and had hit something, but didn't know it was a man. He was held for leaving the scene of an accident.

Stanislav Hruby, 62 years old, died in the Oak Park hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday when his automobile stalled in front of a locomotive on the Chicago Great Western railroad tracks at Maple avenue in Oak Park. The accident occurred near his home at 1162 Maple avenue in the suburb

Joseph J. Subrt Jr., 21 years old, died in the Sherman hospital at Elgin after his car had skidded into a ditch near Barrington. Subrt, who lived in Fox River Grove, was employed at the Chicago Arena.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 717 persons had been killed in Cook county traffic accidents since Jan. 1. Of this number, 553 were killed in Chicago, where 18,526 were injured in the same period.

SAFETY STICKER WARNING GIVEN TO MOTORISTS

Edward J. Gorman, deputy vehicle license commissioner, warned yesterday that the police would be instructed on Nov. 8 to begin serving summonses on motorists who have not obtained stickers showing that their cars have passed thru safety lanes.

"About 65,000 drivers whose cars should have been inspected in October failed to appear," Gorman said, "and 8,000 are still delinquent for September. The plan is for the police to issue 500 summonses every day until the safety regulations have been complied with."

Tricks with Makeup Help Small Eyes

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In a current issue of a trade paper devoted to beauty requisites, we read of the skill with which a certain Hollywood star's deep set eyes are treated by makeup to make them appear larger. The girl has a square face and good features, but deep set eyes and high cheekbones. The makeup studio head experimented and hit upon the scheme first of using a lighter, creamier shadow to highlight the eyes. The idea is that dark shading makes them appear more deeply set. Then, with a finely sharpened eyebrow pencil, a line was drawn along the upper lid at the root of the lashes and at the outer corner of the eye, so that the lines were elongated slightly by drawing a small V pointed away from the eye. The V was filled in with a very light foundation base, making the eyes appear still larger.

We just offer you the above in evidence of the skill that goes into eye makeup, and how important study of the eye, brow, and lashes is. As we have said before, no other makeup department calls for quite the same artistic hand as does the application of eye makeup. And, we repeat, better none applied at all than to apply it with a crude, unstudied hand.

A little trick volunteered by a well known makeup impresario for women whose faces have a naturally somber expression is that, when applying pencil to elongate the brows slightly, instead of drawing them down as most people do, lift them ever so slightly. If you exaggerate this lifted line the effect will be grotesque, which you don't want. Just get a faintly perceptible lift. It lightens the facial expression if you manage it correctly. Carole Lombard indulges in this particular trick.

Kay Francis manages a clever makeup for her lovely oval face. Because her forehead is not too high and her hairline tapers it toward a very becoming "widow's peak," Kay does not arch her brows. She lets them follow along the natural bone structure, so that they make virtually a straight line across her forehead with a slight elongation with the pencil. Her eyes are large, which adds to the effect.

Through the Looking Glass

Now is the time for the dry skinned brigade to change to "winter oil" as a preventive and corrective of the parched complexion. No point in waiting until the cold weather damage has been done.

One of our own favorites as a winter cream is designed especially for the skin that is best described as "super sensitive," the kind of skin that literally shrivels when subjected to intense heat, intense cold, or even to much dust. This cream soothes and smooths such skin and oils it up beautifully.

This cream is no cleanser. It's just a good, efficient lubricant that should be used at night after cleansing. If the skin is extremely dry it can be used in the morning as well if your morning schedule permits a few minutes of massage.

When used at night it should be applied fairly generously and worked into the skin well. Just before you turn off your light remove part of it and allow a thin film to remain overnight. When it's used in the morning be sure you use a freshener or toning lotion afterwards—it's a very greasy cream.

It's a pleasant preparation to use, with a clean, almost lemoney scent that we like. It comes in a jar that is inner-sealed with paraffin; thus must be flipped up and the contents stirred a bit before use.

For the crêpey throat and the skin that is threatened with lines, this cream would be difficult to top. It's sure fire in relieving dryness, one of the greatest promoters of wrinkles.

Charity Fund at Million in First Report

So far $1,016,000 has been collected for the 1939 Community Fund. This was announced last night after auditors had finished examining reports turned in at a fund campaign meeting yesterday.

Many of the 60 groups of solicitors, it was said, were well on their way to completing their quotas. The goal of the campaign is $3,611,000, to be used in carrying on the work of 178 welfare, social, health, and protective associations. George A. Ranney is president of the fund and Mrs. Clark J. Lawrence president of the women's division.

The campaign meeting, held in the Hotel Sherman, was attended by 450 workers. It was the first at which reports were made. Among the donors were youthful traffic violators in the court of Judge John Gutknecht. They contributed $200.

Jimmy Beats 25 Women at Own Game of Baking

Traverse City, Mich., Nov. 1 (AP).—A 15 year old boy, Jimmy Bowler of Sparta, today beat 25 housewives at their own game when he won the grand championship in the bread baking contest at the Michigan State Grange convention here. The judges decided that the fine texture and tempting brown crust of Jimmy's home baked bread and given him a clear margin.

Cupid Is Great Plane Hazard for Stewardess

BY MARCIA WINN.

(Pictures on page 24.)

In the popular mind the most hazardous occupation now open to women is that of being stewardess on an air liner, and it is true that the average stewardess' life in the air is brief. But it isn't a sudden storm, or a dark mountain looming up in the night, that ends her career. It is marriage.

June Marwede.

For some reason—one the stewardesses themselves cannot explain—romance blossoms like some strange aerial flower at an altitude of 10,000 feet. Of the 450 stewardesses now operating on the air lines in the United States, four out of ten are married before they've been in the air nine months. The average tenure of service is 18 months.

One stewardess recently married a Glendale, Cal., millionaire. One, who used to fly between Chicago and Detroit, married into the Detroit automobile industry. Many marry the pilots. More marry their old sweethearts, who seem to cherish them much more strongly, when they are 10,000 feet up and 10,000 miles away. Then, after their year of high adventure in the clouds, flying cheerfully thru storm and sleet and mist, they seldom take feet off the ground again.

Possibly one explanation is that the girls are a very select group. Their ages must be between 23 and 28. Their height must be between 5 feet 2 and 5 feet 5, preferably 5 feet 3. Beauty is not stressed, but as June Marwede, a pretty little American Airlines stewardess, explained, "You can't be a mud fence. You have to have a pleasing appearance—and a uniform can do a lot for a girl, you know."

Another explanation may be their selflessness on a flight and their extreme solicitude for each passenger. Not only is the trim little figure always at your elbow with food, cigarets, coffee, magazines, or suggestions for your [1] headache, [2] aching ears, [3] nausea [each girl must be a graduate nurse], but she is as gay as a lark when the ship is chopping and seesawing thru a bank of storm clouds.

"We never have time to get frightened ourselves," brown-eyed little Miss Marwede explained, as she deftly balanced a luncheon tray on a recent flight from Washington to Chicago.

"We come in contact with more eligible men than probably any other girl," she continued, "and we have many opportunities to go out. We get so many eligible people, I tell you, that it's an easy thing for us to pick and choose.

"But going out with passengers is very much discouraged. You never have a trip that two or three or four men won't ask you to dinner or luncheon. Not many ask you twice, but we're taught to discourage it right from the start.

"If there's some one you really want to go out with, you can, but very few of the girls do unless they've had that particular passenger on three, four or five trips and have come to know him. It eliminates a lot of difficulty."

But the passengers are so appreciative, she sighed. Tipping is forbidden, but an appreciative passenger sidesteps this with candy or flowers.

"But I love it," she concluded. "I love it all. I had no reason at all for starting except that I didn't like office work. At first, being a stewardess was just all right—nothing special, you know—but after I had been flying for a while, I like it better and better. It sort of grows on one."

And she has been flying only nine months.

Ditto Fashions Garb Mother Like Daughter

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The season's best excitement is the "ditto" fashions. Until you've seen these double fashions featured in lounging robe collections you will not have realized how fascinating such a duplication can be. It's the matching mother and little daughter duets, a robe for mother and the exact replica for small daughter. While it's not a sensationally new idea, this carbon copy effect is still a most intriguing stunt. Not so long ago famous movie stars ordered exact duplicates of their pet costumes for their offspring, and the results were extremely effective. Thus the start of ditto fashions.

Nowadays you'll find some delectable duets in creamy white floral patterned printed silks, cozily padded, made with a good liberal front lap and with long sleeves and a tie belt. Both the grownup size and the tiny ditto are lined with white and beautifully made, just what you need for semidress parade occasions for a chilly day. Less in price but with the same charm are the ditto duets of ribbed chenille material, classics for lounging that come in lovely pastel colors as well as a dark shade of raspberry red. Modestly priced, they are real finds, especially good for the foresighted Christmas shopper. Such a good looking pair of robes would make a most unusual gift.

Also new this week are the demure thin flannel robes in grownup sizes only. These flannel robes are quaintly old fashioned in trim, for instance, effective black applique on the scarlet number, this applique in a leaf and vine design wandering around the fake hip pockets and cuffs and sharp pointed collar. Another quaker gray find has the chest almost covered with a meandering design of red soutache braid. Long sleeves make them practical and warm and give that hostess gown effect so that they can be worn all day if necessary.

Bengaline house coats in delightful dark colors such as wine red are especially good this time of year. Notice the back fullness to the skirts, the very small smooth waistlines, and the artfully puffed elbow length sleeves. These are suitable for even the most dignified afternoon tea party. Every one likes them at first sight. Scotch plaid robes come in both short sleeved and long sleeved models in novelty materials and the thin warm woolens.

English Items Close Festival of Old Music

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The third and last concert of the ancient music festival was given at the Goodman theater last night by the Manuel and Williamson Harpsichord ensemble. The program, subtitled "Music from Old London," featured seldom or never heard music played upon the very instruments which might have been heard in London's drawing rooms, concert halls, and coffee houses during the 17th, 18th, and early 19th centuries.

John Dowland, Orlando Gibbons, and Henry Purcell were represented by quaintly titled music which was fresh, simple, sturdy, and honest. Pieces like "The King of Denmark's Galiard," "The Lord of Salisbury His Pavan," and a toccata and sonata of Purcell revealed even on first hearing the originality and the creative drive characteristic of England's golden age.

Englishmen by adoption or residence—John Field, Johann Christian Bach, Karl Friedrich Abel, and George Frederic Handel—found important place upon the program as they did upon the English concert programs of their time. The performance of a large scale Handel concerto served to commemorate the 180th anniversary of the composer's death.

The instruments used were harpsichords, virginal, an 1801 piano, violins, viola, cello, and electric organ—this last a necessary and quite acceptable anachronism. On the ancient piano comely Dorothy Lane played a Field nocturne in a flexible and expressive manner. As if to add to the illusion she wore a gown of antique cut—altho my adviser on women's fashions declared that the wheel has come full circle and that the outfit in question would be equally à la mode in 1801 or 1939.

The ancient music festival, thanks to aggressive Philip Manuel and Gavin Williamson, has been a great artistic and popular success.

Stylish Throng Good Omen for Midweek Opera

Judging by last night at the opera Wednesday night is going to be as fashionable a night as Monday this year. The new woman's board members almost all have seats in the middle of the week and, since they all belong to the group popularly known as "the old guard," this makes for an interesting Wednesday night audience.

A stunning trio of women were Robert Hall McCormick's guests last night: Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Seymour Wheeler, and Mrs. Ralph James. Mr. Kirk and Mr. Wheeler completed the party.

One of the most picturesque gowns in the opera house was a pink satin and net one worn by Mrs. Verna Ross Stiger. She looked as tho she were costumed to sing Jepson's part in the opera, even to the curls on her neck and the pink roses nestling in them. A hooped skirt, however, is not an easy thing to handle in one's seat, even in such comfortable, capacious seats as are in the opera house, or even when one is as tiny as Mrs. Stiger.

Some of the others who enjoyed the performance were the Howard Linns, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Armstrong and their daughter, Miss Jean Armstrong, who have front row seats; Mrs. William B. Hale and Miss Mary Hale; Mrs. Giovanni Cardelli and her son and his wife, Count and Countess Cardelli; Mr. and Mrs. Jason F. Whitney, Mrs. Jacob Baur, and Mrs. Edward A. Leight.

All-Star Cast Fills House for Fine 'Traviata'

BY CECIL SMITH.

The glitter of an all-star cast in "La Traviata" brought a capacity audience to the Civic Opera house last night for the Chicago City Opera company's first performance of the Verdi opera this season. For the first time in nearly eight years Tito Schipa appeared as Alfredo, a rôle he had sung in Chicago and at Ravinia no less than 32 times in the good old days.

Mr. Schipa's singing of the tenor music still remains a miracle of expert style and emotional warmth. What a refreshing experience it is to hear a great singer once again in music so worthy of his most penetrating skill!

When Mr. Schipa takes over the part of Alfredo there is not a tawdry moment, not a single mischance of vocal style, not a measure without the most enchanting nuance. His wonderful accentuations give an exhilarating bounce and onward movement to the rhythm; his melting half voice caresses the curves of the melody; his feeling for the text transforms every word of recitative into a revelation of meaning.

This is the sort of artist for whom Verdi composed operas like "La Traviata" in the full bloom of his early maturity. The very presence of Mr. Schipa in the cast brought back memories of the days when nearly every opera performance in Chicago reached its proper voltage of electricity, and it helped to remind the company of the high standard it must attain during the present season.

Miss Jepson's Violetta gains in warmth and artistic penetration from year to year. She now fully understands both the character and the music, and she communicates her understanding to the audience with assured vocalism and attractive stage presence. As yet her performance shows no real individuality or imagination, but these may come in time.

Mr. Thomas stopped the show with the smoothest, most intelligent performance of "Di provenza il mar" to be heard in America. At the conductor's stand Henry Weber kept the music moving brightly. He was inclined to adopt nervous tempi, however, playing the introductions of arias too fast and hurrying the singers in the initial measures until some understanding was reached. I wish he might show more interest in the melodic side of music and less in the metrical.

Parents Join Cast of Junior League Follies

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Evanston Junior league recruits talent for its annual Follies from every conceivable source; from the casts of unisersity revues, from the radio, and from the legitimate stage. Even Northwestern university's faculty is represented. Now these ambitious young women have persuaded the parents of one of the league's new members to take part.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fargo are the parents. They will appear as the queen mother and the prime minister in a singing scene. Their daughter, Miss Dorothy Fargo, dances in a number of choruses. William Montgomery McGovern, professor of political science at Northwestern; Miss Mary Cook, who has danced in opera ballets; Louis Tilden, famed from Princeton Triangle club days; Tommy Bartlett, radio announcer; Walter Cherry of the Yale Whiffenpoofs and Glee club, and Jess Bailey of Northwestern's Waa-Mu shows are others who will be headlined. William Holbrook, who is directing the Follies, will do his bit on the stage as well as behind the scenes. He and Miss Cook will do a dance specialty.

Mrs. Fargo a Founder of Evanston League.

Mrs. Fargo was one of the founders of the Evanston league, and she and her husband are an example of the high coöperation the league gets from every member—and her husband—in putting on its show. The Follies will open a week from tonight in the Glencoe school auditorium, and there will be performances on the two nights following. A cabaret dance at the Shawnee Country club is planned for after the show on Saturday.

Mrs. Burton Ellis and Mrs. John M. Scott are in charge of the league's two box offices, which will be opened today, one at the league's clubrooms, 1618 Chicago avenue, Evanston; the other at the Winnetka Community house. Proceeds from the show are used to support the league's projects, which are a dental dispensary for the care of children, and a major interest in the Crippled Children's home.

James McWilliams Weds Eastern Girl.

By long distance telephone and by mail Mr. and Mrs. Charles McWilliams of Dwight, Ill., have learned of the marriage in New York last Friday of their youngest son, James Alexander McWilliams, and Miss Alice Reed. Because of the illness of the bride's father, Dr. Victor Reed of Methuen, Mass., the ceremony was a quiet one in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York. The bride's mother was present.

Mr. McWilliams and his bride are leaving next week on a motor trip south, and will come to Dwight in time to spend Thanksgiving with his parents.

Cards inclosed in the wedding announcements that went into the mail yesterday give Dwight as young Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams' "at home" address, but it will be only a temporary one. Mr. McWilliams will bring his bride to one of the north shore suburbs in December, when he continues his business career in Elgin.

Metropolitan Monotypes.

Bookmen will tell you that as a rule the rarest books are secured thru the services of book scouts. All dealers are familiar with the different types—young, enthusiastic searchers who hunt for treasures in the bins; the calm, dignified dependables who bring in solid items, and the old, bearded chaps, wise in book lore, who offer the rarities.

Arthur Lovell, who sells only to dealers, doesn't come under any of these classifications. When out of town dealers come to Chicago they make a beeline for Lovell's house. His reputation is national. Short on temper and sometimes crabby in manner, he really is gentle of heart, and his exacting book knowledge is phenomenal. The walls of his home are lined with unusual items.

Lovell is a firm—and the other member is his wife. It is impossible to think of one without the other, say those who know them well. Sample dialog in the Lovell home: "Dear, who published Glub-bub and when?" "Honey, Glub-bub, written by George Pooba, was published by Gribners in 1897. It was issued in wrappers and the first issue has broken type on the copyright notice. Remember? Throw me a cigaret."

JUST BAKED MY BEST CAKE! I USED NEW "SURE-MIX" CRISCO!

Biggest shortening discovery in 29 years!

What a grand feeling when you take a feather-light cake from your oven . . . as delicious as its lovely fragrance promises!

Get this thrill! Try making your next cake with New "Sure-Mix" Crisco . . . It's the biggest improvement in shortenings since Crisco was introduced—29 years ago.

Crisco now acts differently from any other shortening!

Smooth-as-cream Cake Batters

Oh, the difference in cake batters! They look as smooth as cream because New "Sure-Mix" Crisco actually helps your cake ingredients get together and stay together! This new type of batter does wonders for your cakes.

Hundreds of cakes made in Crisco's kitchens show that New "Sure-Mix" Crisco makes cakes higher (up to 15% higher—depending on the type of cake). Lighter—tenderer—better-eating!

DOUBLE DELIGHT DEVIL'S FOOD

Heat till smooth; then cool
½ cup cocoa ½ cup water 1 cup brown sugar

½ cup Crisco
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk

Blend Crisco, sugar, vanilla, salt and eggs; add cool cocoa mixture. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately. Pour into two 9-inch layer pans which have been "Criscoed" and lightly floured. Bake for 35 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.). When cool, ice with FUDGE ICING: Put in saucepan 3 sqs. chocolate, 16 marshmallows (¼ lb.), ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons Crisco, ½ cup water. Heat and stir over low fire until blended. Cool. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and beat in enough sifted confectioners sugar (about 3 cups) to give good consistency to spread.

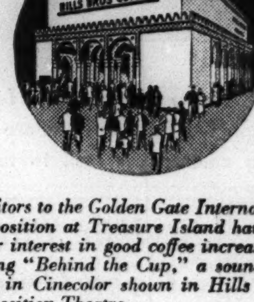
All Measurements Level

PROCTER & GAMBLE & TRADEMARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

JURY OF 1,100 HOUSEWIVES FROM COAST TO COAST pre-tested New "Sure-Mix" Crisco. Each used her own recipe and baked two cakes—one with "Sure-Mix" Crisco, one with another shortening. The majority preference vote showed: "Sure-Mix" Crisco cakes turned out 1. Higher 2. Lighter 3. Tenderer 4. Better-eating!

IMPORTANT!
All Crisco is now "Sure-Mix" Crisco. Comes in same hinge-top can with the same familiar Crisco label.

OVERHEARD AT TREASURE ISLAND:



Visitors to the Golden Gate International Exposition at Treasure Island have had their interest in good coffee increased by seeing "Behind the Cup," a sound picture in Cinecolor shown in Hills Bros. Exposition Theatre.

"... isn't it wonderful how they control the grind of coffee?"

"... ISN'T IT WONDERFUL HOW THEY CONTROL THE GRIND OF COFFEE?" So many people say this after their visit to Hills Bros. Exposition Theatre. The grind of Hills Bros. Coffee is constantly checked by precise laboratory methods to make certain there is no variation from The Correct Grind standard. Another reason why users of Hills Bros. Coffee say, "Now that's what I call good coffee!"

"I'll vote for The Correct Grind"

"By following the directions carefully, The Correct Grind never fails. Hills Bros. Coffee produces perfect results in any type of coffee-maker. I wouldn't think of regrinding The Correct Grind . . . away would go flavor, aroma, and freshness."

IMPORTANT: Carefully observe timing for each method. Measure 2 level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water. Vary water slightly for exact strength desired. Keep coffee-maker clean.

DRIP METHOD: 6 to 8 minutes preferred. If less than 2/3 capacity is made, water will drip too fast giving weak brew.

GLASS VACUUM MAKERS: Put upper bowl on after water boils. Coffee and water should be in contact 5 to 7 minutes.

PERCOLATOR: Start with cold or hot water. Percolate slowly 7 to 10 minutes after steady pumping starts.

COFFEEPOT: Bring coffee and water to boiling. Stir well. Add small amount of cold water and let stand 5 minutes to settle grounds.

STEEPING: Pour boiling water on coffee. Stir well. Stir again in 5 minutes. Steep for a total of 10 to 15 minutes.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Gingerbread is far more popular as a dessert than as a hotbread. It is so rich with sugar, molasses, and spices that the natural place for it seems to be the end of the meal.

When it's served with the dinner course, in squares or muffin shapes, nothing more than plenty of butter is required. But at the end of a meal gingerbread and butter aren't such a fitting combination. Gingerbread with a sauce, or topped with fruit or ice cream, is a more satisfying dessert.

Prepared gingerbread mix or gingerbread made by the recipe I'm suggesting today may be served as dessert in any of these ways:

GINGERBREAD DESSERTS.

1. Bake gingerbread batter as an upside down cake, using any preferred fruit or combination of fruits. Serve with whipped cream.

2. Serve gingerbread with a lemon, orange, pineapple or vanilla sauce.

3. Top each serving with a dipperful of ice cream and serve "as is" or add a sauce. A fruit sauce with a little chopped candied ginger in it is good.

4. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

5. Serve as shortcake by splitting the gingerbread, filling, and topping with sliced bananas, sliced canned or fresh peaches, pears, halved and pitted Royal Anne cherries, or other fruit. If canned fruit is used, thicken the sirup with cornstarch and use as a sauce over the shortcake. A little vanilla may be added for flavor. If fresh fruit is used, serve with whipped cream.

6. Top servings of gingerbread with cream cheese which has been whipped fluffy with a little cream. Garnish with sliced fruit.

7. Top with chilled canned applesauce and sprinkle lightly with confectioners' sugar.

8. Bake batter in waffle iron and serve with ice cream, whipped cream or fruit.

9. Top with a chilled soft custard.

10. Add nuts and raisins or chopped prunes to the batter before baking and serve with whipped cream or frost with a confectioners' icing.

11. Substitute one-fourth cup cocoa for one-fourth cup flour in the recipe to make chocolate gingerbread. This is dark and rich, good with ice cream, whipped cream or fruit.

12. Apple gingerbread is made by adding 1½ cups chopped apple to the batter before baking. Mincemeat gingerbread may be made in the same way, substituting mincemeat for apples.

Gingerbread.

[Nine inch square pan.]

[illegible] cups sifted flour
[illegible] teaspoon baking powder
[illegible] teaspoon soda
[illegible] teaspoon salt
[illegible] teaspoon ginger
[illegible] teaspoon cinnamon
[illegible] teaspoon cloves
[illegible] cup sugar
[illegible] cup butter or vegetable shortening
[illegible] cup evaporated milk, sour milk or buttermilk
[illegible] cup molasses
[illegible] eggs

Sift dry ingredients, with the exception of sugar, several times. Cream sugar with softened shortening. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat thoroughly. Add molasses and milk. Stir in dry ingredients thoroly and bake in a square, greased pan for 40 to 50 minutes at 350 degrees.

A Really Practical Dress

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The truly practical dress is one that goes well with all types of accessories. It usually is created in color which makes an ideal background for many types of jewelry, hats and handbags. Such a model is the one sketched today. Its lines are simple, without trimming, unless you wish to use appliqué along the front of the bolero jacket, which is collarless and has long, full sleeves.

Woolen, velveteen crêpe, satin and sheers are fabrics to use. If you are tired of black, try some neutral, dark shade, or one of the misty tones.

Style No. 2847 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 5½ yards of 39-inch material.

Style No. E-11185, for the appliqué, costs 10 cents extra.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the fall and winter Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

Girl Regrets Lack of Advice from Brothers

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I do wish brothers would take a little more interest in their sister's affairs. They could be helpful. I would have been spared something if my brother, who is two years older, would have tipped me off about the character of the man. But there, before I knew it, I had fallen for a college fellow who went to my brother's school. He comes from a very wealthy family and has loads of money to spend, and we had a perfect whale of a time. It was just one big round of fun. It was plain he was daffy about me, and just couldn't do enough.

"Then suddenly he left. Just stopped seeing me. I telephoned but got no answer from him. I wrote asking what was the matter. No reply. Then it comes out. The fellow goes on the most terrible bats. He will hide out for a month drinking his fool head off. Then he comes out of it and will remain sober for months. It seems that this has been going on for some years. Everybody else knew it but me. And now I am so hopelessly in love with him I'm sick.

"RUSTY."

It would be fine if brothers took on more often the rôle of wise counsellor where their sisters are concerned. But if you ask the brothers why they don't, they will tell you that their sisters wouldn't take a word from them if they ever did attempt to give advice. We think this is true in most instances, too. If a brother told his sister to keep away from such-and-such person, she'd probably tell him in no uncertain terms to mind his own business. No, getting brother's confidence and aid begins away back much farther than with just the appearance of a young man on the scene. You've had to court his advice for years, since you were very young, and shown respect for it. So, if things go wrong with your heart affair, you cannot suddenly try to place the blame on brother.

You're going to have your hands full of trouble, and more trouble, if your heart is given over to one of those periodic drunkards. They're ghastly people to live with. What makes them harder to bear is that they're often so delightful and charming when sober. You'll just have to make up your mind whether you want to go in for a lifetime of sheer martyrdom, or get down right now on your knees and thank heaven you discovered things in time.

There's always that one and only panacea for a plight like yours, Rusty. Get a substitute heart interest as quickly as you can.

Keep Old Man Winter Outside by Insulating

BY LOUISE BARGELT.

These are days when the question of house improvement looms large in the family circle.

The time to take advantage of new materials and new equipment and to help yourself to worth while economies and comforts is just before the temperature begins to drop in dead earnest. These comforts are obtainable in small ways and large, through such mediums as insulation, automatic heat, and necessary repair work. Incidentally, this repair work in the fall will add to the value of the house, stop depreciation—that treacherous fault which jeopardizes house investment and lower maintenance costs.

It is not too early to turn attention to window conditioning and window protection in our homes and apartments.

There is insulation, storm sash or double glazing, for any type of window you may have. It will pay for itself in fuel saving in a few years and will go a long way toward solving the problem of window condensation which sometimes occurs when a house is properly humidified.

When the cold winds blow there will be a big leakage of heat thru the joints around the window sashes. The new permanent types of metal weatherstripping will stop this air leakage. In addition this weatherstripping will keep out dust the year 'round and make a sliding window proof against the always troublesome problem of sticking. A good weatherstripping job on your windows and doors will save you from 15 to 20 per cent in fuel.

There are also less expensive types of fabric and other flexible weatherstrippings. These are not so permanent nor so highly effective, but they will help. And they are well worth installing, if your budget won't permit the more permanent types.

Before winter really starts, check on the window frame leaks and structural leaks in your house.

Window frame leaks, which often admit as much cold air as the joints around the window sashes, can be closed with caulking compounds. Or there may be a leak between under side of the roof and the top of the wall. Caulking compounds can be used to close it. Use a caulking gun to force the compound into the cracks. And unless there is a good house mechanic in your home, engage an experienced carpenter or roofer to do a good job for you.

They Hunted a Fox

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1939: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Alison Young and her fiancé, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, are guests at Chenerys, the English country estate of Tom Boldre, to attend a fox hunt and ball. Wynn Marchmont, sister of Tom's wife, Pat, is engaged to Tom's brother, Derek. Alison overhears a love scene between Pat and Arthur Kingsclere. Chenerys is mortgaged to the hilt. Gregg, Tom's agent, urges him to accept an offer made for the estate, but Tom refuses to sell. At the hunt, from a far off hill, Alison and Colin see Tom thrown and a man bending over him. Reaching the accident they find Derek stooping over Tom's prostrate form. A farmer, Glover, happens along and helps them. Tom, revived, is surprised that Derek, rather than his neighbor, Maj. Fitts, found him. Three weeks later Tom is again thrown and dies soon after. Alison visits Wynn at Chenerys. Riding near the scene of Tom's first accident they find the dead body of Glover. Official verdict is that Glover was killed by a shot from a passing car. Kingsclere, Derek and Maj. Fitts all drove that way. Inspector Headcorn from Scotland Yard finds the murder weapon. It belongs to Maj. Fitts, but was stolen the afternoon of the day Glover was shot—after Kingsclere and Derek had called. Dr. Elgin, who'd attended Tom, admits he gave Tom an anti-tetanus injection—which caused his death, as he had not been desensitized after a previous injection. The first injection must have been given Tom after his first fall when he was unconscious—whoever gave it must have murdered Glover because he was a witness. Derek admits having anti-tetanus serum which was taken from his room. Derek goes out for a walk in the night—that same night Mrs. Glover is beaten up by some one evidently seeking to destroy evidence. The inspector finds Wynn battling with Mrs. Glover over a syringe which Glover had apparently found. Derek is arrested. Wynn and Alison figure some one else may have reached Tom after his first accident before Derek. Wynn finds out Maj. Fitts rode behind Tom. A fire breaks out in Wynn's room at Chenerys in the night. She believes some one is trying to murder her and Alison. The inspector investigates a James Elderson-Brown, who'd tried to buy Chenerys.

INSTALMENT XLVI.
RESCUE WORK.

The Inspector reëxamined the letters, particularly Gregg's answers. There was no doubt that Gregg had been eager to close with the offer. In his second communication it might be suspected that he had softened a firm refusal on his employer's part into approximate encouragement, and his latest suggested that a slightly larger price might just tip the scales.

"And now, Hardmore, can you give me a description of Mr. Elderson-Brown?"

"Well—just the single glimpse, Inspector! It was nearly two months ago."

"Age?" hinted the Inspector helpfully.

"At a rough guess, between forty-five and fifty. Slender build, I think. I don't know that anything struck me especially, except, perhaps, his bad color. The sort of dark, sallow skin one gets from quinine and the tropics. I couldn't tell you about his eyes. They were darkened all round which gave them a deep set look, but that may have been due to the sun glasses he was wearing."

"O!" A thoughtful pause. "Did you notice his car?"

The car, Hardmore said, had been left a little way down the street. One additional detail he remembered. Mr. Elderson-Brown had thinning, nondescript hair, noticeable when he turned to go out.

"What's that, Inspector? O, clothes! Tweeds, I should say, good style, by no means new. Yes, and an oldish burberry. Height! M-m-m—average! I think so. Maybe my secretary can help us out."

The secretary was even more vague in her recollections of the client. Over the telephone calls, however, she made a better showing.

"Not local ones," she declared. "If he was in Shrewsbury what was to stop him coming to the office? Besides every time he rang up I remember having to wait."

The final call, Hardmore recalled, had followed directly on the last communication from Chenerys, Gregg's letter dated April 14th, the day of Tom Boldre's first accident.

"I read it over the wire. Mr. Elderson-Brown was quite short about it. He told me he had offered every penny the property was worth, had just seen another place he liked even better—and, in a word, called the whole deal off."

From the telephone exchange, Headcorn obtained a list of the nonlocal calls put through to Hardmore during a given period. When the identifiable ones had been eliminated the four assumed to be Elderson-Brown's were seen to have come from public booths, widely distributed, none in the Sompton area.

"Nothing in it." The rumble of the London bound express played a tune on the words. "Queer, perhaps, but quite remote from our two murders."

In Cadogan Gardens he paid a call on Mrs. Boldre. Sleekly handsome in a smart black dinner gown she was apparently about to dine out.

"Elderson-Brown?" She stared with all her former dense insolence. "Never heard of him." She ground out her cigaret.

"Bill Mitford! He's dead."

Dead! Here was a setback.

"When did he die?" As Mrs. Boldre remained stubbornly silent, Headcorn added pointedly, "You wish, I suppose, to assist your brother-in-law's defense in every possible way?"

"Don't! Can't you see I'm trying to think?" Crossly she snapped, "It was last autum. Pneumonia. It must have been six months before that when he last came to us. How can you expect me to remember some man he dragged in just for a meal?"

"Elderson-Brown," repeated the Inspector hypnotically. "Living abroad. An engineer——"

Her eyes had strayed past him. He turned and saw Kingsclere coming quietly into the room.

"Quite, Inspector." The Young man nodded. "Elderson-Brown. I happened, you see, to be lunching at Chenerys that same day. What about him?"

"Only that I would like any available information. His appearance, what he talked about, any questions he may have asked concerning the estate."

Kingsclere said, "It's a long time ago." His eyes took on a veiled expression.

"Even a slight recollection would help. You do recall the name and the occasion. Anything besides?"

Tall, immaculately cool, Kingsclere stood there thinking it over. Or thinking what not to say? It was impossible to read what went on behind the black, double breasted dinner jacket, the Saxon, sunburned features.

"Sorry, Inspector. Beyond the name my memory's a blank."

Wearily, Headcorn set forth on a round of further inquiries.

Back in his office at Scotland Yard at last, he found a message in answer to inquiries made to the Shrewsbury police, and another from the Superintendent at Bewkesbury. Both reports were barren. Only one tiny item emerged, none of the telephoning had been done on a hunt day.

On his desk lay a gray envelope marked Personal. He scowled over its enclosure, gave brief attention to the heavily inked cross and the appended explanation and laid the note aside. That poor American girl! Bludgeoning her wits, and to no purpose.

. . . .

Dr. Ladbroke peered into a jammed compartment and whistled.

"And what's your reason for making this journey?" asked Headcorn curiously.

"Me? O, call it rescue work!" Colin lit a cigaret. "I've had an S.O.S. from Alison. We're going to haul Wynn Marchmont up to town if it's possible to talk sense into her. You've seen her since the fire. What's your verdict?"

"I'd rather not say."

"Meaning you're damned sure in your own mind that Wynn's been laying a false trail. I confess something of the sort did occur to me. Knowing this, though, doesn't make the other business any less rotten."

"I understand," muttered Headcorn tactfully.

"Do you? I doubt it," said Colin curtly. He tossed his cigaret on to the platform and lit another with angry fingers. As the train moved out he continued, "I'm not talking now about the accused being my friend. It's the fiendish boycott of those two girls. Why, they might be plague sufferers!"

Grade Pupils to Vote on Favorite Yuletide Scenes

Children in the public schools soon will be talking about Christmas. Pupils in grades three to eight are to be asked to tell which of the following scenes typify the yuletide to them: Santa Claus and his reindeer, angels, fir trees, shopping, carolers, fireplace views, religious figures, home on Christmas morning, or toys. Art Director Elizabeth Robertson wants to know so that she may prepare exhibits for the school libraries.

...ther Found Boy's Joy Lay in Old Turtle

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

All things are relative.

This is true in a more striking way with children. An event that has tremendous significance to them may seem of small import to us, a possession that fills a heart's desire of theirs may seem trivial or a real extravagance to us. The price of a theater ticket or two admissions to a film for one evening's diversion for us may buy them a joy lasting months or even years.

For example: He had a long, wrinkled, leathery neck; a strong beak-like nose; a back so rough that it looked almost like lots of dark scallop shells fitted together. His claws were long and his legs heavily and roughly scaled. Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder.

To the little boy he was a beauty, a perfect beauty, the last word, the ultimate in turtle pulchritude.

But, alas and alack, unattainable!

He belonged to some one else. And increasing bids of 25, 50, 75 cents did not tempt the lucky owner of the perfect turtle to give him up.

"Can't I offer him a dollar, mother?" was finally asked with yearning. The "yes" was the signal for him almost to fall down the stairs to the yard.

His mother waited. It was a wonderful turtle. Being able to see with her boy's eyes, she could see that much.

Soon lagging steps came up the stairs. A little boy with a still face came into the room. His mother thought it better to ask no questions. Soon, "He won't sell it," he said.

He went into his own room, where his mother found him a few minutes later, crying—not quietly, but with painful, racking sobs.

Finally the tears ceased. He lay down to read. Then, he looked thoughtful, and said: "I'll make one more try," and ran downstairs.

"Persistent," thought his mother. Soon many noisy feet ascended the stairs. Four or five children came into the room, led by the turtle lover, bearing the perfect turtle.

Its former owner spoke thus: "He opened hith bank and gave me two dollars and thirty-three thenths." Silence.

"Do you mind, mother?" said the bank opener. His mother looked at him. His face was shining.

"No, I don't mind," she said.

Such happiness was cheap at almost any price.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

The most difficult thing to overcome in bridge, as in life, is a habit of long standing. Forgetting about life for the moment and confining our attention to the more important game of bridge, we find that certain card combinations form natural traps for the average player. Time after time, they fall victim to the same irresistible bait. The declarer in today's hand was just another casualty.

North, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

After North's jump raise, South made a cautious slam investigation, but when North could do no better than go back to four spades, South subsided.

West opened the heart queen, dummy's king covered, and East cashed the ace and nine spot, then shifted to a trump as the safest apparent exit. Declarer cleaned up the adverse trump situation and then tried the club finesse. To declarer's great pleasure, East covered the club queen, and now declarer thought he was as good as home, since he could well afford to lose the diamond finesse. Unfortunately, however, he overlooked the fact that there were two possible losers in diamonds. He led low to the diamond king and returned the deuce toward his A-J. He was severely shocked when East failed to follow suit, but there was nothing much that he could do about it. Squirm as he might, he had to lose two tricks to West's Q-10 of diamonds and the sound contract was down one.

The play had been automatic up to the point at which declarer took and won the club finesse, but his very success with this finesse should have made him all the more careful with the diamond suit. Since he had lost only two heart tricks up to that point, it was quite true that he could afford to lose a diamond trick. That very fact should have made him search for a play that would limit his diamond loss to one trick, regardless of adverse distribution. Such a play was available. After capturing the club king, South should have cashed the club jack, then ruffed his remaining club. Now with hearts and clubs stripped from the North-South hands, the stage would be set for a standard safety play to cover the precise diamond holding which declarer enjoyed.

This safety play is to lead a low diamond from dummy and to go up with the ace [not the jack] in the closed hand. Now a low diamond is led back toward the king. If West follows suit, he is permitted to hold the trick! Now, no matter how the diamonds were divided originally, declarer cannot lose another trick. If East also follows suit to the second round, a 3-2 break is certain and dummy's king will drop the one outstanding diamond. If the second diamond lead [which West is permitted to hold] is not followed by East, the safety play has really come into its own. Now West must either return a diamond from his Q-10 to the combined tenace in the North-South hands, or must lead another suit which declarer can ruff in one hand, while discarding in the other. Obviously, the second named case was the one that actually existed, and by holding his diamond loss to one trick, declarer would have fulfilled the contract.

Famous Medicated Skin Cream Now Used By Millions

Read below how Noxzema helps clear up complexions —relieves externally caused skin irritations

● Nurses discovered Noxzema as an extraordinary aid to skin beauty, skin healing and comfort. At first they used it to keep hands soft and attractive, and to help heal the tiny cuts and cracks in Chapped Hands. Now both women and men by the millions use this dainty, snow-white Medicated Cream.

Read just a few of the thousands of unsolicited letters received from grateful Noxzema users—letters that tell how Noxzema aids Beauty—how it helps restore so many poor complexions to clear, normal, healthy, natural beauty—and how it brings skin relief to thousands.

HELPS CLEAR UP EXTERNALLY CAUSED BLEMISHES!
Mrs. Hazel Altman, 953 Stuyvesant Ave., Irvington, N. J., writes: "For years I had the most unsightly skin blemishes on my face. I went to great expense to clear them up, but not one thing I tried helped. Then my husband got me a jar of Noxzema. I used it diligently for six weeks and the blemishes disappeared. My skin became clear, clean and youthful looking."

SOFTENS AND HELPS HEAL CHAPPED HANDS
Maisie E. Flynn of Newfane, New York, says gratefully: "I find Noxzema especially good for chapped hands. My skin is very thin and sensitive and chaps easily. I had tried many lotions and creams to no advantage, but Noxzema solved the problem. My hands are now lovely and soft and I am never without Noxzema."

WONDERFUL POWDER BASE!
From Mrs. Winefred Bradford Bloom, Box 25, Lakeside, Cal.: "I find Noxzema wonderful as a powder base—it makes my powder stay on so much longer and helps make my skin so smooth and fine!"

HELPS REDUCE ENLARGED PORES—RETARDS FORMATION OF BLACKHEADS!
From Omaha, Nebraska, Mrs. Carl Nigro writes: "I used to be troubled with blackheads, but since using Noxzema as a Night Cream, they've disappeared completely. And it also helped reduce my enlarged pores."

FOR SHAVING IRRITATION
Says Neal W. Barnard, Route No. 1, Sandpoint, Idaho: "For over 20 years I suffered from a combination of extremely tough beard and tender skin, necessitating lavish use of 'after-shaving' lotions to secure a measure of relief from burning and irritation. Now I use a light application of Noxzema, followed by my favorite shaving cream. It's hard to believe I'm using the same razor—it cuts my beard so easily and so close. And what a different feeling AFTER the shave. No more irritated, burning skin—but a cooling and satisfying smoothness that I never secured until I started using Noxzema!"

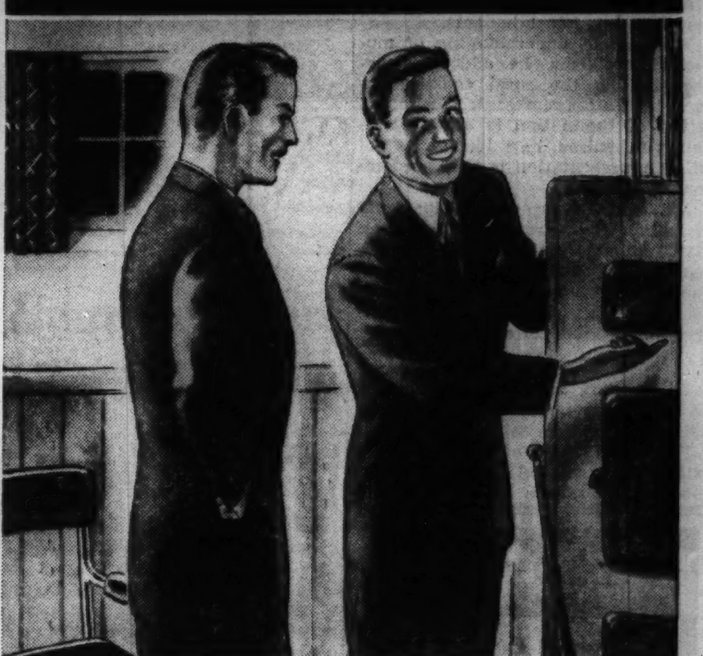
Now HEATING ADVISORY SERVICE AVAILABLE TO YOU



DID you know that your coal merchant, if he's a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association, has an engineering service available to you without charge?

Coal is such an excellent fuel that even when the best selection is not made, coal heat is satisfactory and economical. But some heating plants use certain types and grades of coal more efficiently than others. To get the best results, for use with a stoker or hand-firing, consult your coal merchant. Frequently he can lower the cost for your heating season. As a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association, he has a laboratory and engineers to assist him in selecting the best type and grade of coal or coke for your heating equipment.

Coal heat gives an even flow which is healthier, too. Other fuels cost at least 40% more and you get starting and stopping of the fire in your furnace. This means that in the "off" periods, the air stratifies in layers. This gives you "layer-cake" heat; cold air on the floor, warm air around your chest, hot air around your head.

Order coal or coke and consult with your local coal merchant today. If you are not sure he is a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association, call STAte 9723.

ASSAIL FEDERAL, STATE CURBS ON CITIES OF NATION

Kelly Addresses Municipal Association Parley.

The pressure of federal burocracy and the domination by state governments were described yesterday as the great threats to local government by speakers addressing the American Municipal association at its annual convention in the Blackstone hotel.

Local government must resist the drift toward war lest the American democratic way be annihilated thru excessive centralization of government power, or probably dictatorship, C. C. Ludwig of Minneapolis, president of the association, told several hundred delegates. War, he said, would destroy local democracy.

Mayor Kelly and Mr. Ludwig both asserted that domination of city governments by state governments constituted a serious stumbling block to progress in urban government.

Raps "Rural Encirclement."

"The fundamental difficulty in our municipal housekeeping," said Mayor Kelly, "is the lack of our own broom to sweep it clean. That fundamental obstacle is the straight jacket of state constitutions."

Home rule, Mayor Kelly declared, is a hope rather than a reality for American cities so long as "municipal encirclement by rural legislators" continues.

"Cities cannot respond to their problems within," Mayor Kelly continued, "until they are given adequate responsibility from without. Remedies lie in broader municipal charters to liberate us from the financial and fanatical fetters of an outmoded state constitution."

Mayor Kelly said Chicago had made healthy municipal strides in recent years, despite many obstructions. He cited the solution of the traction problem, codification of the city's laws, and completion of a building code. Problems of labor, business, and civic leaders have been solved across the conference table, he said. The city is on firmer ground today, he added, because it has learned the meaning of coöperation.

Need More Tax Leeway.

Mr. Ludwig told delegates that the revenue problem of cities is complicated because they seldom have the right to set up and administer a system of municipal taxation. The states control that, and legislators, he said, are more concerned with state budgets than municipal budgets.

The lack of understanding of municipal problems, he added, is aggravated by the rural constituents these legislators represent. The population of the nation is almost two-thirds urbanized, he said, but its political representation is still predominantly rural.

Mr. Ludwig urged municipal officials to demand revision of the tax structure so that there will be a more equitable distribution of revenue for municipal services. A demonstration of competence in municipal housekeeping is vital, he asserted.

Warns Against War Scare.

In warning municipal leaders not to become hysterical about the possibilities of war, he said:

"The real warfare in a democracy is the battle against disease, poverty, sin, and ignorance. The vital things are houses, hospitals, trees, work, play, families, and community life. If we were to enter a war this battle would be stopped."

Henry Epstein, solicitor general of New York, urged the association to resist federal proposals to tax state and municipal bonds. He termed this move "a most serious danger to traditional American institutions of state and local home rule and a surrender to concentrated nationalism."

Other speakers included: John N. Edy, executive assistant to the administrator of the Federal Works agency, and Dr. Vergil D. Reed, assistant census director, who outlined the benefits to municipalities of the forthcoming national census.

MAYOR'S RELIEF PROGRAM GETS HORNER'S O. K.

10,000 Will Be Placed on WPA This Month.

Two important developments were reported last night by relief officials who returned from Springfield after a five hour conference with Gov. Horner. Because of the governor's long illness it was the first time in more than a year that Neil H. Jacoby, chairman of the Illinois emergency relief commission had been able to talk with him.

The developments were:

1—The governor approved Mayor Kelly's plan to extend the usefulness of state relief funds by using a portion to start new Work Projects administration programs. In Chicago the plan is expected to shift 10,000 reliefers and their families to WPA during November.

2—Indications were that relief will not be included in the business of the special session of the legislature this month.

Lyons Attends Conference.

With Prof. Jacoby at the conference were State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis and S. L. Nudelman, ex-officio members of the IERC, and Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary. Lyons is also Chicago relief administrator.

Transfer of the 10,000 Chicago reliefers to WPA rolls will, in effect, provide the city with $140,000 additional cash for those left on the relief rolls.

Families on relief are getting an average of about $27 a month. After the IERC formally approves the mayor's relief plan this week, the 10,000 reliefers will be shifted to WPA. Contributions of $13 a month for each will be made to WPA for materials and supplies.

Chicago's Need Told.

Jacoby said he did not recommend inclusion of relief in the special session business because he felt that there were other ways of relieving the financial crisis of the Chicago relief administration. Gov. Horner was told that great need was virtually confined to Chicago.

"I told Gov. Horner that Illinois still is temporizing with the relief problem," Jacoby declared. "Instead of being mainly interested in getting more money, we should think of getting the most out of our money. The governor agreed with me that merging of all public assistance would be a long step in that direction."

CUT CASSIDY'S FUNDS IN HALF, LUND PROPOSES

Calls 47 Assistants Too Many.

[This is the fourth in a series of articles analyzing by departments the reduction in state spending proposed by Representative Lund.]

Attorney General John E. Cassidy's pay roll could be cut in half without harming state business, Representative Arnold L. Lund said yesterday in analyzing expenses of this office. Lund contends that the state budget should be cut by $57,000,000, or 23 per cent of the total appropriated for general purposes.

Lund is a new Republican member of the house from Riverside. He has appealed to Gov. Horner to consider his economy program as a basis for removing the sales tax from food.

Forty-seven Get $6,750 a Year.

Forty-seven of the ninety-eight employés on Cassidy's pay roll are assistant attorneys general, with salaries ranging up to $6,750 a year. Lund said the salaries of the assistants are higher now than at any time in the history of the state. Cassidy's salary is $8,000 a year.

Employés are divided as follows: Springfield office, 29; Chicago office, 37; and tax collection division, 32. There are 29 stenographers, 2 secretaries; 15 clerks; 3 investigators, a telephone operator, and a woman janitor.

"Wages and salaries of the Chicago office have been increased more than 75 per cent since 1929," Lund said.

Thinks 47 Is Too Many.

"No business man could be convinced that 47 assistant attorney generals are needed, when about one-half of this number did the work a decade ago when it was greater. The truth is that while every other department was obtaining lump increases for pay rolls, some one decided it would be nice to place a few more attorneys."

Lund asserted that $455,000 should be trimmed from the $946,200 made available to the attorney general's office for the two year period which began July 1. The cut could be made as follows, said Lund: Wages and salaries, $400,000; office expenses, $20,000; travel, $25,000, and repairs, $10,000.

GOVERNOR CALLS COMMISSION IN BOXING SCANDAL

SUGGESTS ALL PRINCIPALS BE GIVEN HEARING

Thomas Refreshes Joe Jacobs' Memory.

BY ARCH WARD.

Gov. Henry Horner yesterday ordered members of the Illinois Athletic commission to meet with him at their earliest convenience to discuss further action in the heavyweight boxing scandal revealed exclusively in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Monday morning.

The governor and the commission already have barred all principals in the exposé from engaging in any boxing activity in Illinois until they disprove charges made by Harry Thomas that his bouts with Max Schmeling in New York and with Tony Galento in Philadelphia were fixed.

Gov. Horner told this reporter at the executive mansion in Springfield Tuesday he would suggest to the commission that invitations be extended to all those charged with participation in the fake matches to attend a hearing in Chicago.

Refreshes Jacobs' Memory.

"Other states may be indifferent to these revelations," the governor stated, "but Illinois is going to make every effort to keep boxing honest. Any fighter, manager, or handler who has engaged in a fight which later turned out to be fixed no longer can participate in other bouts in Illinois unless he affirmatively proves that he had no advance knowledge of the fake."

Meanwhile, Harry Thomas, who says his fights with Schmeling and Galento were shams, has stood firm on his original story.

Asked about his reaction to Joe Jacobs' statement in New York that he [Thomas] had a glassy eyed look the first time Jacobs saw him, Thomas replied:

"Maybe Joe's memory would be refreshed if he would recall how he admonished me for throwing my hat on his bed the night I agreed to throw the bout," Thomas remarked. "He leaped up and told me to take my hat off the bed; that it was bad luck to throw one's hat on a bed upon entering a room."

Counter Charges Amuse Thomas.

Thomas, whose intelligence is higher than the average boxer's, seemed to be getting a kick out of the counter charges that he was "just a drunken, punch drunk fighter."

THE TRIBUNE has printed several letters Thomas wrote to his wife and friends in advance of the Schmeling and Galento bouts, in which he stated both matches were fixed.

This department could keep publishing similar letters for a good many editions. However, we think we have given Thomas adequate opportunity to present evidence substantiating his charges.

HARRISON TECH LOSES PROTEST; DEFEAT STANDS

Harrison Tech's request to replay the second half of its game with Lindblom was refused yesterday by the protest committee of the Chicago Public High School league. Lindblom's eleven, which is tied with Tilden for the central division lead, won the game, 7 to 6, but Harrison protested, claiming officials erred in their decision on a disputed play in the opening of the second half.

"The decision on the play was wrong," said A. H. Pritzlaff, league physical education director, "but it would be unfair to both Lindblom and Harrison to permit the boys to engage in more than one game a week. We of course cannot change the schedule, because our league champion must be ready to play in the Christmas basket fund game on Dec. 2."

SORTEADO, LEG BROKEN IN RACE, IS DESTROYED

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sorteado, Charles S. Howard's South American bred 4 year old colt, was destroyed today. Sorteado's leg was broken Oct. 12 in the Gallant Fox handicap at Jamaica. The colt was insured for $40,000 by Lloyds of London and had run eleven previous races in this country, winning twice and earning $20,000. One of these victories was in the $7,500 Manhattan handicap at Belmont Park and set a new American record of 2:28 2-5 for one and a half miles.

Canadiens Get Sands from Bruins in Trade for Cain

Boston, Mass., Nov. 1 (AP).—The trading of Charlie Sands, a right wing, to Montreal Canadiens for Herb Cain, a left wing, was announced tonight by Manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins hockey team. The players will report to their new clubs immediately.

CHALLEDON WINS PIMLICO SPECIAL BY HALF A LENGTH

Takes Lead from Kayak II. in Stretch Duel.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1 [Special].—A half length's winning margin at the end of a bitterly contested mile and three-sixteenths before 20,000 at historic Pimlico here today established Challedon as the leading money winning thorobred of 1939, the champion horse of the year, and the best racer ever foaled in Maryland. Further glory was his as the recipient of a blanket of chrysanthemums, a horse shoe of roses and a pat on the neck from an elderly gentleman, who had reached what he described as the high point in his life.

The elderly gentleman was W. L. Brann, retired banker and the master of Glade Valley farm in Federick county, where the bay son of Challenger was foaled in 1936. Brann had just seen his colt win the third Pimlico Special in an exciting finish. Kayak II., the Argentina horse, had taken the lead from Challedon at the half-mile, leading from that point until the home stretch was reached.

Challedon Draws Away.

In a bitter run to the wire the home bred son of Challenger II. fought nose and nose with the older horse, and drew away just inside the sixteenth pole when Charles H. Howard's game 4 year old faltered. With the cheers of the crowd ringing in his ears Jockey Eddie Arcaro swept past the stands with his hottest favorite of Pimlico's opening day.

Backed to $2.90 for $2 or less than 1 to 2, Challedon was timed in 1:59 for the mile and three-sixteenths over a track that had dried out to become rated as good.

The winner carried 120 pounds, he being a 3 year old, as against 126 for Kayak II., the poundage in each case being called for by the scale of weights. The third starter, Cravat, also shouldered 126, but he never was in the contention, running third thruout.

Earnings Now $252,235.

The purse was $10,000 added, winner take all, and it swelled Challedon's earnings to $184,535, giving him a decisive lead over Kayak II., which last March had won the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. It also pushed the colt's earnings in his two years of racing to $252,235, a figure which puts him over Man O'War's total of $249,465 and makes Challedon 14th on the American money winning list.

Sound going into the race, sound pulling up, sound all year long, Challedon looks as if he had plenty of racing ahead of him and he may be the one to menace Sun Beau, the world's largest money winner with $376,744 to his credit

Another result of today's race was to clarify the 3 year old situation and bring a majority to accept Challedon as the best 3 year old, a distinction many formerly had granted Johnstown. In addition, Challedon has brought new prominence to a former jockey, Lou Schaefer, now his trainer.

Kayak II. Goes Ahead.

After an even start, Challedon was permitted to go to the front by George Woolf, rider of Kayak II., the latter rating his horse off the pace and pretty well away from the rail. It was not until the run down the back stretch had been completed, and the far turn had been reached, that Woolf went up with Kayak II. Just past the turn, Kayak II. ranged up fast and hard on the outside and got his nose in front. Soon he led by a head.

Challedon stayed with the South American horse, but Kayak II. still led by a small margin as they turned for home. Straightened away, Arcaro cut loose with all he had aboard Challedon. It responded gallantly and soon the two were nose and nose again. The break came with less than a sixteenth of a mile to go when Kayak II. could not keep up.

It was over this same track in the Preakness last May that Challedon won so impressively to first dent what had appeared to be the invincibility of Johnstown.

Davis Stops Canzoneri in Third Round

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—The end of the fistic comeback trail came for Tony Canzoneri tonight with a technical knockout in the third round of a scheduled ten rounder against young Al Davis of Brooklyn.

lightweight champion after 2 minutes 13 seconds of the third round before 15,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden, where Canzoneri was making his 24th appearance as a boxer. The end came after Tony had been floored twice.

Canzoneri went down from a blistering left early in the round for a count of three. Then he was felled again, rose to his feet at six, glassy eyed as his young foe came charging across the ring.

But Referee Arthur Donovan threw his arm around Tony and warded off Davis—and that marked the end of a trail that was one of the brightest in fistic history. At least, Tony had said before the fight that if he lost this one he was thru.

Canzoneri will be 31 years old next Monday.

SUBSTITUTIONS AT IOWA COST INDIANA LEAD

BY WILFRID SMITH.

As Indiana university prepares for its football game with Ohio State Saturday in Columbus, now and then the players, and their instructor, Bo McMillin, must recall with keen regret that today they would share the lead in the Western conference had they been able to whip Iowa on Oct. 7. Iowa won the free scoring battle, 32 to 29. It still is the most surprising result of the conference season.

Without detracting from the potency of the Hawkeye attack, with Nile Kinnick, the number one star of the rejuvenated Iowa eleven, Indiana still has cause for regret. Iowa already has won two of its three Big Ten games, as has Indiana, and is assured of a better record than in any year since 1933. But the Indiana boys believe they might have beaten Dr. Eddie Anderson's team Oct. 7 except for an unusual mistake. The story of that error, which led to Iowa's winning touchdown, was related last week. Perhaps Iowa would have scored anyway and won the game, but certainly Indiana made the task easier by its unorthodox tactics in the fourth period.

Hoosiers Ahead Again.

Indiana started the fourth period leading Iowa, 29 to 20, having scored two touchdowns after finishing the first half in arrears to Iowa, 17 to 20. On the first play of the fourth period, Tim Bringle's pass for Indiana was intercepted by Bill Diehl, Iowa center. Starting from its own 40 yard line, Iowa marched to the Hoosier goal in 16 plays, using only one pass good for 14 yards from Kinnick to Dean. Kinnick failed to score the point and Iowa trailed, 26 to 29.

This interception, with Indiana leading by nine points, might be excused, altho it is open to question whether Indiana should have passed at all at this stage of the game. But the set up for the winning Iowa touchdown is the point in question.

Pass in Own Territory.

After receiving Iowa's kickoff, with Indiana leading, 29 to 26, the Hoosiers passed on third down in their own territory. Here is the story of why Indiana passed. No one defends the maneuver. The logical play would have been a third down kick. Instead, the pass by Harold Hursh was intercepted and downed on Indiana's 27 yard line. Iowa scored in five plays, the last, a fourth down pass from Kinnick to Erwin Prasse into the end zone.

Bears Plotting a Reception for Two Old Foes

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Since that September day in 1935 when Don Hutson packed his Chicago All-Star uniform and set out for Green Bay to join Arnie Herber, the Packers have dominated professional football headlines with a passing attack that carried them to two western division titles and a National league championship. Thruout Hutson's career the Packers have never finished worse than second in their section.

Herber, Hutson, and associated Packers come to Wrigley field Sunday to continue their drive for another championship. Preparations are going forward at a brisk clip in the Bear camp to perfect a defense against this combination, which removed Detroit from the ranks of the unbeaten two weeks ago and last Sunday handed the Redskins their first whipping of the season.

Secret of Herber's Success.

Preparations to throttle any attack perforce demand an analysis of that attack. What makes it go? Where is its strength? What is its weakness? Hutson is one of the greatest pass receivers in the history of football. He is as fast as any man in the game today. And thru his years at Alabama and in the National league he has mastered the art of faking, which, with his tremendous speed, permits him to break clear past defenders.

Herber possesses the best arm in football and with it he has a phenomenal sense of timing which enables him to hurl a football 50 yards in a high arc with uncanny accuracy. His sharpshooting, combined with Hutson's natural talents as a fielder, make the team of Herber to Hutson the most dangerous as well as the most colorful offensive unit now active.

There Are Others, Too.

Green Bay's success, however, goes beyond Hutson and Herber. Perhaps only two teams in the league, the New York Giants and the Bears, have as well balanced an attack. Packer ball carriers do not get the publicity and acclaim that accrue to Herber and Hutson, but among football men it is an accepted fact that few teams possess a player of Clarke Hinkle's all-around ability and Cecil Isbell's running and passing talents.

This, then, presents some of the problems facing the Bears as they strive to retain a mathematical chance of sharing in the section championship. Herber and Hutson by themselves would not give the Bears a great deal of worry. But just about the time a team covers Hutson, as Detroit found out much to its chagrin two weeks ago, a touchdown pass sails into the arms of another receiver or a ball carrier goes thru the line for a big gain.

REBUILT TEAM PLAYS DETROIT ON STADIUM ICE

Six New Players on Chicago Squad.

Skates On!

BLACKHAWKS.		RED WINGS.
Mike Karakas	G	Tiny Thompson
Earl Seibert	R. D.	Ebbie Goodfellow
Art Wiebe	L. D.	Alex Motter
Cully Dahlstrom	C	Gus Giesebrecht
Jeff Desilets	R. W.	Mud Bruneteau
Johnny Gottselig	L. W.	Syd Howe

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks and the Detroit Red Wings will open Chicago's fourteenth National league hockey season tonight in Chicago Stadium. In the last six years the Hawks and Red Wings have won the world championship four times. Both teams will be struggling to bring back those happy nights when they were so good.

Neither Hawks nor Red Wings has any particular desire to remember last season. That they may forget both have done considerable revising, which probably accounts for the fact 14,000 are expected tonight in the big red seated hall on Madison street.

Six Hawks to Make Debut.

The two teams will present some very rapid youngsters never seen before on Chicago ice. Manager Paul Thompson will send forth six of his seven new hands. Phil Hergesheimer, who suffered a spine injury early in fall training, will not play, but all the other newcomers are in tip-top shape and all will see action tonight, according to the plans of Skipper Thompson.

New Rules Speed Up Game.

New faces will not be the only newness at the rink tonight. There are several new rules and one of them should do much to reduce the whistle blowing which so often proves irksome to the spectators.

Heretofore games have been halted whenever the puck has been passed over a blue line while a player was in the opponent's defensive zone ahead of the puck, even though the player never touched the pass. Under the new rule a defending player can intercept such an over-the-line pass and the play will proceed without a whistle. In other words, no forward pass over the blue line which is intercepted by a defending player will bring a halt. The intercepting player can pick up the rubber and start a play in the opposite direction without any of the delay which the former offside and subsequent face off brought.

Applaud Changes.

Hockey experts believe this will be one of the best rule changes in the recent history of the game. Widening of the blue line was designed to lessen offside plays, and the wide blue line will continue.

Tho the premises will be alive with youngsters, both teams will open with gents the fans all know. Johnny Gottselig, Cully Dahlstrom, Jeff Desilets, Art Wiebe, Earl Seibert, and Mike Karakas will push off for the Hawks while Syd Howe, Gus Giesebrecht, Mud Bruneteau, Alex Motter, Ebbie Goodfellow, and Tiny Thompson will get things under way for the Red Wings.

The game will be the Chicago opener and the National league opener as well.

MAJOR LEAGUE CHIEFS PLAN '40 SCHEDULE TODAY

William Harridge, American league president, and Ford Frick, boss of the National league, will go into a special huddle in New York today on the subject of 1940 schedules. The main discussion will center around a shift in the opening day programs, there being an idea afoot that it might be advisable to break away from the long standing arrangement by which the inaugurals alternated. Under the present scheme it hasn't been possible in recent years to get certain teams into certain cities for the first day. An example of this is Cleveland which has its home opener the same year as the Sox, thus preventing the Indians from starting the race in Chicago.

The schedule makers will make no attempt to post the dates for night games. The charts will be drawn up on a daytime basis and the clubs interested in the mazda exhibitions will make their own arrangements.

Tuesday, April 16, probably will be picked as the opening date.

ARIZMENDI AND ANGOTT SET FOR STADIUM MATCH

End Sparring Drills in Loop Gymnasium.

Alberto [Baby] Arizmendi, Los Angeles fighter, and Sammy Angott, contender for the lightweight and welterweight championships, yesterday finished training for their ten round bout in Chicago Stadium tomorrow.

Angott engaged in his final drill by doing light loosening up exercises in Kid Howard's gymnasium. He is down to 134½ pounds, two and one-half below the contract weight.

Efrati Tackles Covelli.

Arizmendi's plans for a defense to stop Angott's windmill attack were outlined during his drill. The tireless little battler expects to weave under Angott's leads and counter to the body with both hands. When Sammy drops his guard Arizmendi plans to bring his left and right up to the head.

Leone Efrati, junior lightweight from Italy, concluded training for a 10 round semi-windup bout against Frankie [Kid] Covelli of Brooklyn, by going five rounds against Robert Jarrell of the south side. The Covelli-Efrati encounter will be their third, the first ending in a draw and the second going to Efrati.

Allen Meets Wenstob.

Eddie Wenstob, Edmonton, Ont., heavyweight, will arrive from Minneapolis today for a six round supporting match against Altus Allen, 1939 Chicago Golden Gloves champion. Allen sparred three rounds yesterday with Dan Merritt, last year's Golden Gloves title holder.

Merritt was booked to meet Tony Musto of Blue Island in an eight round event, but yesterday it was learned Musto will be unable to go thru with the assignment because of illness.

SCHLITZ QUINTET ROLLS 3,437 FOR SEASON'S RECORD

Posting the highest score of the season recorded in any sanctioned league in the city, the Schlitz bowling team rolled three games exceeding 1,100 for a series total of 3,437 in the Mayrose Recreation last night.

Winning three games from the Monarchs, who themselves counted 3,244 pins, the Schlitz team gained a game on the first place Pabst quintet, but still trailed the leaders by five games in the Wednesday division of the Classic league.

Joe Puccinelli, with games of 233, 278, and 255, led the Schlitz scoring with 776. Jack Bishop bowled 727, Sykes Thoma 669, Pete Petersen 651, and Joe Traubenik 624. Each man on the Monarch team also scored 600 or better.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 1 (AP).—Oley Hendrick, former University of West Virginia guard, was released today by the Newark Bears of the American Professional Football association.

C.Y.O. Boxers Open Charity Show Tonight

The ninth annual C. Y. O. Christmas Fund boxing tournament will open this evening. Preliminary contests will be presented tonight and tomorrow in St. Sabina gymnasium, 7800 South Racine avenue. Boys residing on the south side will perform in these matches.

Nearly 200 boys, 16 years of age and over, will perform in the south section fights. After the battling has been completed tomorrow night, 32, 16 in the open class and the same number in the novice division, will advance to the quarter finals which will be held on Nov. 13 at the C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street.

In tonight and tomorrow night's matches a number of newcomers as well as several former and present C. Y. O. champions, will be seen in action. The championship bouts will be held on Nov. 29 in the Chicago Stadium.

Yale Fears Loss of Two Line Regulars

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 1 (AP).—Yale's hopes against Dartmouth in Saturday's game here received a blow today when George Seabury, giant tackle, and Bob Johnson, guard, were reported ailing and likely to be out of action. The former has a bad leg and the latter a bruised shoulder. The Elis devoted most of their drill to defensive maneuvers.

DARTMOUTH BLOCKING POOR.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 1 (AP).—Poor blocking by Dartmouth kept Coach Earl Blaik struggling long and hard with his line today in drills for the Yale game. Jack Guenther, guard, and Stub Pearson, center, were expected to return to the lineup tomorrow and it was hoped their presence would smooth the situation.

HARVARD OPTIMISTIC.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 1 (AP).—Despite its woeful record Harvard appeared optimistic today when it returned outdoors to launch its drive for Saturday's game at Princeton. Coach Dick Harlow put the Crimson squad thru a long drill, which included a dummy scrimmage against a scrub eleven that used Tiger plays and a session devoted to polishing its own defense.

Purdue Teams of 1914, 1929 Plan Reunion

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 1 [Special].—Members of the 1929 Purdue football team that defeated Iowa, 7 to 0, to clinch the undisputed Big Ten championship, will be on the side lines here Saturday when the current Boilermakers bid for conference recognition against another dangerous Hawkeye team.

The members of the 1929 squad, which was undefeated and untied, along with the senior members of the 1914 team, which will be observing its silver anniversary, will be among the guests of honor at the homecoming banquet Friday night in addition to attending the game on Saturday.

Among the 1929 players who have made definite plans to attend are William [Bill] Woerner of Evanston, Ill., who caught the touchdown pass from Glen Harmeson that brought the championship 10 years ago; and Elmer [Red] Sleight of Chicago, who won all-American honors for his outstanding play at tackle.

As one of the features of the homecoming banquet, senior members of the 1914 team are to be presented with silver trophies in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of their final collegiate days on the gridiron. Among those expected to attend are H. S. O'Brien of Detroit, Mich.; Clarence Cecil of Muncie, H. B. Routh of Cache, Okla.; C. M. East of New Albany, A. S. Rakestraw of Evanston, Ill., and R. R. Bozell of Pleasant Ridge, Mich.

IOWA HOPES FLUCTUATE.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 1 [Special].—Iowa's hopes for a third conference victory at the expense of Purdue Saturday alternately were jumping up and then falling down this week as Coach Eddie Anderson kept careful check of injured players.

It appeared certain today that there was no possible chance for Bill Diehl, sophomore center, to play against the Boilermakers. A separated shoulder, sprained knee, and sprained finger have forced Diehl out of action.

A note of optimism, however, was cast on the Iowa camp with the return of Jim Walker, who limited his work to jogging around the practice field in an attempt to loosen his sprained knee without further injuring it.

Oklahoma Sharpens Up Attack for Iowa State

Norman, Okla., Nov. 1 (AP).—Oklahoma's Sooners sharpened their scoring punch today in preparation for their homecoming game with Iowa State Saturday. With Clark, Jennings, Favor, and Seymour in the back field, the varsity hammered away at the frosh for 30 minutes in a series of goal line plays.

Maggos Reserve Back.

Peifer's understudy at left half back has been Pete Maggos, brother o[f] George Maggos, Northwestern guard. Peifer, whose father, Edwin Peifer, is a former Northwestern football player, will start against Farragut Saturday, Heiland said.

Austin's starting forward line in[]cludes Ed Skowron and Peter Pihos, ends; Co.-Capt. Ed Bell and Chester Mitchell, tackles; Donald O'Flaherty and Keith Carrigan, guards, and Harry Karales, center. One of Austin's substitute tackles, Alvin Gitlitz, weighs 314 pounds.

In addition to the five Public School league games, Austin played two practice contests, defeating Fenwick, 21 to 6, and East Aurora, 25 to 6. It has rolled up 165 points in the seven games. Besides Farragut, Austin's only opponent on the west division schedule will be Marshall, in Mills stadium on Nov. 11.

Sub Michigan Quarter Back Ill in Hospital

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 1 [Special].—Little Harry Kohl, Michigan's understudy to Quarter Back Forest Evashevski, today was resting in the university hospital, definitely out of Saturday's battle at Illinois. Kohl was rushed to the hospital last night with what doctors termed a glandular fever which may be caused by a leg infection, tho preliminary examinations have failed to disclose the point of infection.

Tho Kohl was reported improved today, Dr. Robert Cummings said he would be held over the week-end at least, so Coach Fritz Crisler must count on Jim Grissen and Walt Kitti to give Evashevski relief.

STOP MICHIGAN PLAYS.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 1 (AP).—Illinois first stringers, back to heavy football workouts after two days of light exercises, stopped freshmen using Michigan plays in an hour long tag scrimmage today.

Capt. Mel Brewer, guard, left for Carbondale, Ill., after receiving word that his stepmother had died. Coaches said he would return for Saturday's game here, but expressed doubt he would see much action.

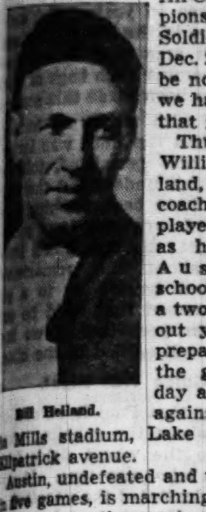
AUSTIN BIDS FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT DIVISION TITLE

Hopes to Compete Dec. 2 for City Crown.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

"We started out early in September with intentions of playing in the All-City championship game in Soldiers' field on Dec. 2. There will be no letup until we have achieved that goal."



Bill Heiland.

Thus spoke William C. Heiland, a football coach who never played the game, as he sent his Austin High school team thru a two hour workout yesterday in preparation for the game Saturday afternoon against Farragut in Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue.

Austin, undefeated and unscored on in five games, is marching toward its fourth consecutive west section championship in the Public High School league. In 1936 Austin won the league title and played a 19 to 19 tie with Fenwick in the All-City game. The following year Bill De Correvont led the west siders to a 26 to 0 victory over Leo. "Rotunno is a hard driving ball carrier and not the elusive, flashy type as DeCorrevont," said Heiland. "Tony, however, kicks better than DeCorrevont did, and his passing is better."

Peifer was a freshman during those happy days at Austin when DeCorrevont, Alf Bauman, Chuck Feingarten, and Sonny Skor were leadng the team to recognition as one of the best in America. WILDCATS HOPE TO KEEP WINNING AGAINST GOPHERS

Northwestern's football team will leave tonight in quest of its third straight Western conference victory and its first triumph over Minnesota in Minneapolis since 1930 when Reb Russell and Pug Rentner led the Wildcats to a 27 to 6 victory.

Altho unsuccessful in their last three invasions of Minnesota's Memorial stadium, the Wildcats have held the upper hand in the games played in Evanston. In five games played in Dyche stadium since 1928, Northwestern has won three, lost one, and tied one.

Always Hard Fought Games.

Past games between the two teams have always been hard fought affairs in which both squads have hit their peak performances. Northwestern is counting on tradition this year in the hope that the squad will be ready for its best showing of the season.

On the strength of steady progress displayed against Wisconsin and Illinois, the Wildcats figure to put up a stiff fight against the Gophers ,who were idle last Saturday. The Wildcast defense has stiffened since the start of the season when Oklahoma and Ohio State scored a total of five touchdowns. In the last two games opponents have scored only one touchdown.

Wildcat Offense Improves.

The offense has also improved. After being held scoreless in their first two games, the Wildcats scored two touchdowns each in their last two games. Better blocking and harder running by the ball carriers has aided the attack.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said yesterday that Northwestern would probably start the same back field which opened against Illinois.

MAROONS LEAVE TODAY.

Altho scheduled to depart at 1:45 p. m. today for their game with Virginia Saturday, 31 members of the University of Chicago football squad are slated to cut classes and go thru a last minute scrimmage session this morning.

Missing from the traveling squad will be Dave Wiedemann, veteran tackle, whose recovery from an old leg injury has not been as rapid as expected. Bob Howard, who suffered a broken tooth in practice Tuesday, will be among the Maroon party. A surprise addition to the Chicago second string was Bob Dean, sophomore understudy to Bob Wasem, half back. Dean, who has been kept out of every Midway game to date because of preseason injury, was playing at right half in yesterday's second team scrimmage.

Maroon players selected to make the trip are;

Dick Lounsbury, Ralph Richardson, John Palmer, Russell Parsons, Bob C. Miller, and Jack Woolams, ends; Don Wilson, Hugh Rendleman, John Stearns, Milton Weiss, and John Keller, tackles; Walter Maurovich, Kenneth Jensen, Baird Wallis, Duncan Scott, and Tony Basile, guards; Dick Wheeler and Morrie Grinbarg, centers, and John Davenport, Bob Wasem, Lou Letts, Bob A. Miller, Bob Howard, Bob Dean, Bob Jampolis, Wallace Ottomeyer, Bill Leach, Bob Stehney, Ted Howe, Bill Kimball, Bob Kibele, backs.

CAVALIERS GET READY.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 1 (AP).—Virginia's Cavaliers defeated a freshman team using Chicago's defense today as the squad prepared for Saturday's battle with the Maroons. The Cavaliers gave their season's best exhibition of blocking. The scrimmage was highlighted by the open field sprints of Mosby Cardozo, and the power drives of LeRoy Neustedter and Bob Lama.

PLAY IN INDOOR POLO TOURNEY TO OPEN NOV. 18

Indoor polo in Chicago will open Nov. 18 with inauguration of the Metropolitan Polo league tournament in the 124th Field Artillery armory. This was announced yesterday by Lieut. A. J. Strak, tourney manager.

The schedule calls for double headers every Saturday, with one game in the junior division and the other in the senior class. Entries have been received from the Detroit Gold Hats and the Meadowbrook Polo club of Milwaukee. Most of the teams in the league will be from the Chicago area.

Ohio Weaves Pass Defense for Hoosiers

Columbus, O., Nov. 1 [Special].—Work on pass defense and the means of stopping the hurling of Hal Hursh, Indiana back, took up most of today's practice session as Ohio State continued preparations for the Hoosier invasion Saturday.

Hursh is ranked high among the Big Ten backs, especially as a passer, and the Buckeyes have been woefully weak on pass defense. Minnesota found that out scoring once by air and Cornell put it to use in its 23-14 victory last week.

Ohio's Not Downhearted.

Spirit, however, of the Ohio eleven is of the best and the sting of the Cornell defeat has passed. Charts pointing out the Buckeyes' errors against Cornell were dangling from every nook and corner in the dressing rooms.

The same eleven men who started all the games for the Bucks this year will open against Indiana. Injuries still are a minor factor, with Thornton Dixon's bruised arm and Jim Piccinini's leg hurt the most serious.

INDIANA DEFENSE DISAPPOINTS.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 1 [Special].—Taking the defensive side in scrimmage, the Indiana football squad experienced difficulty today in stopping Ohio State ground and aerial plays as executed by freshmen and reserve players.

The Hoosiers, who also worked on covering kick offs and punts and blocking for the kicker and passer, will hold a final drill here tomorrow before starting for Columbus.

Princeton Boy's Leg May Be Saved; Injured in Game

Don Herring.

Donald Grant Herring Sr., Princeton, '07, himself a Tiger great, said today there was "just one chance in a million" that the boy's left leg, severely smashed in the Brown game Saturday, can be saved from amputation.

Herring, running down under a kickoff midway thru the first quarter, was badly injured in the ensuing pileup. He tried to rise, but his left knee was smashed. Princeton went on to win, 26 to 12, while Herring lay in the Princeton hospital.

"It was revealed by an operation last night that both main arteries which travel down the left leg had been shattered and now are gone," Mr. Herring said.

"We have one slim hope, the little capillary tube, no thicker than a silk thread which courses down to the calf of the leg but no farther, has not been badly damaged. If, in some manner, this tube can be sufficiently distended to handle the necessary blood to keep circulation alive—we have a hope."

SPENCERS CLOSE SEASON.

The Spencer Coals soccer team will play its seventh and final league match in the first division of the International league Sunday against the Slovak A. A. at 51st street and California avenue.

Arboit Returns to End Job at Notre Dame

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 1 [Special].—The return of Pete Arboit to the lineup today after a week's absence with a leg injury somewhat offset Notre Dame's loss of Bud Kerr, senior end, who definitely will be out of the Army game in New York Saturday.

Dr. James E. McMeel, team physician, said that Kerr will be confined to the infirmary for a week. Kerr's home is in Newburgh, N. Y., 40 miles from Yankee stadium, and his 68 year old invalid mother had made plans to see him oppose the Cadets.

Frank Biagi will start in Kerr's post. Phil Sheridan and Arboit will alternate with him.

It appeared today that Tad Harvey, senior right tackle, might be able to play Saturday despite charley horses developed in both legs in last week's Carnegie Tech battle. Tom Gallagher, junior left tackle, still was on the casualty list. His sprained ankle probably will keep him on the bench this week. He will be replaced by Jim Brutz.

ARMY NEARS PEAK.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP).—Green shirted junior varsity today ran thru Notre Dame offensive formations as Army's varsity sought to perfect its defensive assignments for Saturday at New York City. Jere Maupin, who has been injured, was able to take part in the drill and Coach Bill Wood said his team was near its peak.

DO YOU WANT ALL-WINTER RADIATOR PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1.50?

HERE'S THE WAY many car owners do it every year! They put in a couple of quarts of Du Pont "Zerone" early in the season for protection against rusting and the sudden cold snaps they know will come.

When winter gets down to real business, they add sufficient "Zerone" to protect them to lower temperatures. A total of six quarts, put in as needed, can protect a car with an average size cooling system for the entire winter. And six quarts of "Zerone" cost only $1.50! Just one gallon of "Zerone" protects an average size cooling system (15 quarts) to 1°. Five quarts would protect it to −12°; six quarts to −27°!

You may need a little more or less, depending on the condition and capacity of your car radiator and the severity of winter in your neighborhood. But the unusual efficiency of Du Pont "Zerone" will save you real money.

PROTECTS AGAINST RUST AND CORROSION

"Zerone" in a clean cooling system prevents rust and corrosion, which reduce operating efficiency. It gives better dissipation of engine heat, avoids power losses. Protect your car with "Zerone" this very day! Remember, it's only $1.00 a gallon, 25¢ a quart.

LONGER CHICAGO RACING SEASON ASSURED FOR '40

Aurora to Open April 27 with New Officials.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Sportsman's Park track began running on borrowed time yesterday, making use of the days which became available when the racing law was amended last July. For the first time since the sport was restored to legal standing there was November racing in Illinois. The meeting will continue until Saturday.

Encouraged by an increase in the mutuel handle, six tracks made application for 1940 dates, according to an announcement issued yesterday by the Illinois commission. Aurora plans to re-open under new management.

The commission also released figures showing that the total mutuel handle at the five Chicago tracks up to last Saturday was $33,029,724. The 1938 handle at these tracks was $32,914,424. With Aurora operating, however ,the total handle for the Chicago area tracks last year amounted to $35,366,035.

Arlington Leads in Mutuels.

As usual, Arlington Park is at the top of the standing with a 30 day total of $8,935,482 for a daily average of $297,836. Washington Park did almost as well with $8,714,668 going through the machines in 30 days for a daily average of $290,488. Both of these tracks showed an increase over last season. Hawthorne, Lincoln Fields, and Sportsman's Park all fell off slightly on daily average, but the two last named showed an increase on total because of longer meetings than last year.

The applications for dates forecast another conflict such as that which occurred last spring. Both Washington Park and Hawthorne have asked for Labor day and both Aurora and Lincoln Fields want Memorial day. It is probable that the matter will be settled early this time to avoid the uncertainty and dissention which simmered until last March when the 1939 dates were under discussion.

Longer Season in 1940.

The same amendment to the racing law which permits Sportsman's Park to continue in operation until Saturday will lead to a longer season next year.

Aurora will open the season on April 27 and will run until either May 27 or May 30, depending on the commission's decision on the conflict with Lincoln Fields. The latter track will operate until June 24, when Arlington Park will open, continuing until July 27.

Hawthorne has applied for an August meeting without Labor day or a September meeting with Labor day. Washington Park has asked for an August meeting lapping over into September so as to include Labor day.

Sportsman's Park will run during October, there being a conflict with the Hawthorne application over the first Saturday of the month. The season will close on Saturday, Nov. 2.

The Aurora track will be operated by the Illinois Jockey club, which has been granted an article of incorporation. Frank Thielen of Aurora has been elected president and D. C. Burnett has been appointed resident manager. The incorporators are listed as Burnett, Alva C. Cuity of East St. Louis, Ill., and H. E. Costello of Belleville, Ill.

Billie Day Wins by 6 Lengths.

In yesterday's feature race, the Burnham purse at six and a half furlongs, Billie Day and Cantata took up where they left off in their last meeting, which the former won by a nose. However, Cantata was missing at the finish, for he fell on the turn out of the back stretch when he tried to get through between Billie Day and the rail.

Billie Day went on to win by six lengths, with Mighty Fine second and Entre Nous third. Trim Stepper, the only other horse in the race, also was eliminated when he stumbled over the prostrate Cantata.

Ray Christensen, Cantata's jockey, was carried from the track but Herbert Simmons, who had been aboard Trim Stepper, was able to leave under his own power. Hubert Kees had the mount on Billie Day. Christensen was taken to the Garfield Park hospital suffering head and chest injuries.

Dr. William C. Meacham said last night that Christensen had incurred a collapsed left lung.

As an aftermath of the accident, the stewards fined Kees $200 and suspended him for the remainder of the meeting for continuous rough riding after being warned. Kees was leading the Sportsman's Park jockeys with 26 winners.

the game. At the same time Eddie Rucinski, Indiana end, returned. When this star forward passer and Rucinski reported — Eddie already had caught several passes — the Indiana quarter back incorrectly reasoned that since Indiana now was winning by only three points, the coaches intended for him to riddle Iowa's defenses with a passing attack which had been successful previously. His attempt at mental telepathy not only was incorrect, but led to the interception and subsequent loss of the game.

Ohio Battle All Important.

Perhaps Indiana might have lost anyway, but by winning that game the Hoosiers now would be undefeated, with only a non-conference 7 to 7 tie with Nebraska against them. Indiana has beaten Wisconsin and Illinois.

The battle Saturday against Ohio State is all-important. Victory for Indiana leaves Michigan and Purdue in command, barring a defeat for the Wolverines Saturday by Illinois and a Purdue defeat by Iowa. It also would place Indiana on equal terms with the runners-up, except that those elevens which play a six game schedule have a percentage advantage.

Indiana lost to Ohio State last year, 6 to 0, and by all measurements of efficiency except the score, the Hoosiers had a superior team. In 1937 Indiana surprised Ohio State, 10 to 0, losing only to Minnesota and Purdue in the Big Ten, each time by the margin of a touchdown.

Purdue Seeks Revenge.

Purdue has the unique position of entering November competition without a defeat or victory in the Big Ten race. The tie with Minnesota accounts for the position as well as the grouping of three non-conference games. Iowa kept the Boilermakers from winning the Big Ten title last year, the scoreless tie cutting its percentage below that of the Gophers, who won four games and lost one. Consequently Iowa's appearance in the homecoming celebration Saturday in LaFayette will be the signal for intensive attack to make amends for what might have been and to arrange for what is hoped will be.

Northwestern's improving eleven faces its most severe test since the opening Big Ten game in Columbus when it meets Minnesota Saturday. The Gophers have not played since lcsing to Ohio State Oct. 21. The Wildcats' victories over Wisconsin and Illinois must have restored confidence, but it remains to be seen in this game whether Northwestern's players really have become title contenders. Certainly if Northwestern fails against Minnesota, prospects for victory in the following games against Purdue and Notre Dame will be none too bright.

WHEAT AND CORN ATTRACT RECORD NUMBER OF GEESE

Southern Illinois Offers Hunters' Paradise.

BY BOB BECKER.

Wild goose hunters in southern Illinois enjoyed some of the best shooting between Oct. 22 and Oct. 30 they have seen in years. Not even the old timers in the Miller City and Olive Branch area near Horse Shoe lake can remember such bags of wild geese as have been made this season.

One guide with whom we hunted years ago when the limit was larger and feeding was permitted, told us that he couldn't understand the way the honkers have been pitching into the wheat and cornfields from morning until night. He still was a little incoherent about the remarkable shooting when he led us to a pit blind and warned that we'd be out with our four geese before we had time to get well settled in the blind.

Old Guide Was Right.

Everything that Paul Ryal, our old guide, said about the gabbling geese pouring into the wheat fields from Horse Shoe lake was true. If anything, he understated the situation.

William V. Haerther of Lake Forest and Lyman Barr of Highland Park, moved into a pit blind not far from us about 8:30 a. m. We slid into another blind with Ryal. When we walked across the wheat field there were hundreds of geese flying around the field. Twenty or more hunters who had come out at 7 o'clock already had shot their limits and left. Just one party was staying on to finish out their day's limit of four each. They left before we finished shooting.

The flight of the geese back and forth over the wheat fields and the adjacent cornfields was so beautiful that it was worth $10 [the cost of a day's shoot in any southern Illinois goose hunting field] just to sit in a blind and watch it. They came in flocks of 5, 10, and 20 or more. There were singles, doubles, and all kinds of combinations. The birds filled the air with their sonorous honkings.

Fill Bags in Short Time.

After watching this unbelievable parade of the geese for a few minutes we loaded the 12 gauge for action. Even tho we picked our shots to avoid long range bombarding and tried to kill time, it was all over in 50 minutes. Barr and Haerther dropped three out of one small flock of four birds to fill their limits. It was then only 9:20, but we were thru for the day.

175 SUITS FILED TO COLLECT 1937 PERSONALTY TAX

State's Attorney's Office Pushes Campaign.

The state's attorney's office this week has filed 175 suits in the Circuit court to collect more than $525,000 in delinquent 1937 personal property taxes, Marshall Kearney, assistant state's attorney, announced yesterday. The taxes are owed by individuals and corporations in Chicago and its suburbs in Cook county. The state's attorney's office is filing the suits in a drive to collect more than $20,000,- of 1937 personal property taxes still uncollected. Suits against delinquents on 1938 personalty levies will be started in a few weeks, the office announced.

Allowed Three Weeks.

The suits ask for judgments against the delinquents for the amount of the tax, plus penalties of 1 per cent a month. Notices have been served on the taxpayers, who have three weeks to ask for a tax reduction or to make other defense before the court.

Among the defendants in the suits filed this week, and the amounts allegedly owed, are:

Suits have now been filed against more than half of the delinquents on 1937 personalty taxes, the state's attorney's office said.

County Treasurer John Toman said yesterday the long delayed program of delinquent tax collection on the instalment plan will be put in operation in a week or ten days. If he has paid 1938 taxes in full, a real estate owner will be permitted, under the plan, to pay delinquencies for 1937 and prior years at so much a month.

FORMER SHERIFF WHO HELPED SMASH BIRGER GANG IS FOUND DEAD

Marion, Ill., Nov. 1 [Special].—Oran Coleman, 53 years old, former Williamson county sheriff and president of the Carterville State bank, was found dead in his automobile at Carterville this evening, apparently of a heart attack. Coleman won fame thru his fight against the Birger gang in southern Illinois. He executed Rado Millich, the first member of the gang to be convicted of murder, and helped gather evidence that sent State's Attorney Arlie Boswell, one mayor, a deputy sheriff, and others to the federal penitentiary for their connections with the gang. Coleman was born in Williamson county and lived here all his life. He was principal of the Marion Township High school until he entered the army during the world war. He was unmarried.

FATAL INJURY OF BOY BY PALS HELD ACCIDENT

The death of James Wojda, 7 years old, 1039 North Wolcott avenue, who died Tuesday of injuries received at the hands of a group of small boys on Oct. 4, was an accident, a coroner's jury found yesterday.

Several boys, ranging in age from 6 to 9 years, testified at the inquest at St. Mary's hospital. Each story differed, but all agreed that Theodore Horasinonicz, 11, of 2032 Crystal street, dragged the child 15 feet down an alley, placing his foot on his abdomen. [The child died of abdominal injuries.] Theodore did not reply to questioning, and Edward R. Huber, juvenile officer of the North avenue station, said he was subnormal.

The dead boy was the only son of Helen and Casimir Wojda. After the verdict was returned, the mother cried, "That's not true! That's not true!"

Luther College Sophomore Found Dead in Dormitory

Decorah, Ia., Nov. 1 [Special].—The body of Irving Kalnes, 19, of McFarland, Wis., a sophomore at Luther college, was found in a washroom of the college dormitory early this morning. An autopsy showed death was due to a brain hemorrhage. The boy's father, I. M. Kalnes, is employed by the Madison, Wis., Capital-Times.

IOWA PIONEER'S SON, 82, DIES.

Dubuque, Ia., Nov. 1 [Special].—Eugene P. Laude, 82 years old, former Dubuque county supervisor, died today in Bethany Home after a long illness. The village of Laudeville, on the southern outskirts of the city, was named after his father, Frederick Laude.

BERNARD PORTIS FUNERAL TODAY; NOTED SURGEON

Funeral services for Dr. Bernard Portis, well known surgeon and a member of the staff of Michael Reese hospital, will be held at 11 a. m. today in the chapel at 936 East 47th street. Dr. Portis, who lived at 1023 Hyde Park boulevard, died early yesterday of heart disease. He was 42 years old.

The surgeon was found unconscious in his automobile near his home by his brothers, Dr. Sidney A. and Dr. Milton Portis, both well known physicians. They had been notified by his wife that he had been absent an unusually long time after leaving to call on a patient. He was rushed to Michael Reese hospital, where a fire department inhalator squad worked vainly to revive him. A month ago Dr. Portis collapsed after completing an operation. His widow, Helen, a son, Bernard Jr., and two daughters, Mary Ellen and Jean Carroll, survive.

SPECIAL STUDENT RITES TODAY FOR M. R. M'DANIEL

Student services for Marion Ross McDaniel, principal of the Oak Park-River Forest Township High school, will be held at 10 a. m. today in the high school assembly room. Mr. McDaniel died Tuesday of a heart attack in the Presbyterian hospital. He was 63 years old and had been principal of the high school for 25 years. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church, Oak Park. Burial will be Friday in Rushville, Ind., his boyhood home.

Rabbit Fever Feared

November 1, 1939.

THE mysterious deaths of twelve sheep at the Du Page county farm early in the fall has led the flockmaster to suspect that the animals may have died of tularemia, or rabbit fever, a disease that sometimes is transmitted by rabbits and other rodents to farm animals and human beings.

The sheep died during extremely hot weather in September and their death was attributed to the intense heat. Later sick and dead rabbits were found in the pastures. This led to the belief that rabbit fever may have killed the sheep.

Dr. Robert Graham, head of the department of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois, says that sheep are susceptible to rabbit fever and that he knows of one case in Illinois where infected sheep communicated the disease to the veterinarian who treated them.

Rodents Susceptible.

He says little is known about the susceptibility of other farm animals to the disease, but that ground squirrels and other rodents are known to have it.

Veterinarians say that rabbit fever usually is transmitted from one animal to another by the bites of insects and that it may be carried from infected animals to man in the same manner. Handling the meat of infected animals without rubber gloves is considered the most common means of transmitting the disease to man.

There have been no losses among the sheep at the farm since cool weather. The flockmaster says the breeding flock never looked better. The 97 ewes still are on pasture and have been given no other feed since they were turned out on grass last spring. They are fat and in good condition. The ewes are grazing in bluegrass and clover pasture.

Lambs Fare Less Well.

The lambs have not done well this fall. They came thru the summer in better condition than usual, but many of them have made poor gains since they were put on feed about six weeks ago. There are 74 lambs in the feeding barn. The ewe lambs will be kept and added to the breeding flock and the wethers will be fattended for market.

The lambs are given all the feed they will eat twice a day. They get a mixture of one part shelled corn, two parts whole oats, and one part linseed oil meal night and morning. A little concentrated molasses feed is added to the grain mixture. The proportion of corn may be increased later.

The mixture is fed in troughs. After the lambs have cleaned it up they are given all the red clover hay they will eat. Salt and plenty of fresh water are kept before them all the time. The lambs sometimes are fed in self-feeders, but these are not being used this year.

RABBIT WITHOUT PARENTS AMAZES MEN OF SCIENCE

New York, Nov. 1 [Special].—The first fatherless rabbit in history, a doe born of an egg fertilized in a test tube with a simple salt solution, romped in a cage here today as men of science looked on in amazement.

The rabbit, the first mammalian creature of any kind to be brought into the world as a result of a synthetic parthenogenesis [birth without fertilization by the male of the species], is motherless also in the sense that the rabbit that gave it birth merely served as a living incubator for an ovum taken from another species of rabbit.

SUSANNA MILLER ESTATE WILL PAY $122,112 STATE TAX

County Judge Perry L. Persons of Lake county yesterday approved a settlement of state inheritance tax by the estate of Mrs. Susanna Brown Miller. The tax was fixed at $122,112.

Mrs. Miller, who died in October, 1938, was the widow of Darius Miller, once president of the Burlington railroad. She resided at 1510 Green Bay road, Lake Forest. The gross value of her property was fixed at $1,883,010. Debts and administrative expense, including $390,537 federal inheritance tax, totaled $457,458. Net before deduction of the state tax was $1,425,551.

New Yorker Who Planned Greeting of Lindbergh Dies

New York, Nov. 1 [Special.]—Thomas Raymond Malone, the man credited with having formulated the detailed plans for the elaborate receptions New York gave to such notables as Queen Marie of Rumania, Marshal Joffre, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Admiral Richard Byrd and Gertrude Ederle, back in the days when the city made a specialty of greeting distinguished guests, died of a heart attack in Miami, Fla., Monday, according to word received here today.

A. L. HUMPHREY, AIR BRAKE FIRM EXECUTIVE, DIES

Arthur L. Humphrey, chairman of the executive committee of the Westinghouse Air Brake company and a former resident of Chicago, died yesterday at Pittsburgh, Pa., after an illness of several months. He was 79 years old. Services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Humphrey served two terms in the Colorado legislature and in 1895 was speaker of the house of representatives. In 1903 he was appointed western manager of Westinghouse Air Brake company, with headquarters at Chicago. He moved to Pittsburgh two years later. He was president of the concern from 1919 to 1932. His widow, Jennie, and two sons survive.

PRICES ADVANCE ON HARD COAL, 4 OTHER PRODUCTS

Linoleum, Pennsylvania Crude Oil Affected.

Increases in prices of coal, crude oil, quicksilver, linoleum, and rubber products were announced yesterday. At the same time a Dun & Bradstreet survey indicated food prices declined moderately in the week ended Oct. 31.

Anthracite prices were raised 10 cents a ton for broken, egg, and chestnut coal on the line, and 15 to 25 cents for coal at tidewater, producers announced.

Crude Oil Price Increased.

Pennsylvania grade crude oil was advanced 15 cents a barrel to $1.95 in pipelines by a leading refiner, and others were expected to post similar increases immediately.

Imported quicksilver was raised $1 a flask to $106, not including the $19.15 duty, following a similar increase in London. The domestic price remained unchanged at $143 per flask.

A leading linoleum producer raised prices 5 to 10 per cent on felt base and linoleum lines.

Tire Firm Makes Revisions.

The United States Rubber company announced that small upward revisions had been made in tire prices to conform to higher material costs.

The Dun and Bradstreet report said the average price per pound of 31 food commodities at wholesale dropped 1 cent to $2.43 in the week ended Oct. 31. The new figure, however, was only 3 cents under that of Sept. 26, which was the highest in more than a year.

EDWARD L. SHEA NEW HEAD OF NORTH AMERICAN

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Edward L. Shea, until now executive vice president of Tide Water Associated Oil company, today was elected president of the North American company, big public utility holding company, succeeding James F. Fogarty, who becomes chairman of the executive and finance committees.

Harrison Williams, formerly chairman of the executive committee and one of the largest holders of the company's securities, was elected chairman of the North American board. Shea has been a member of the North American board and executive committee since last December.

The company explained the changes were in furtherance of a plan "to enlarge its executive organization," and to enable Fogarty to devote attention primarily to financial and corporate matters.

Belgian Currency Strong in Trading at New York

Belgian currency gained on the dollar at New York yesterday. The belga advanced 0.03 cent to 16.68 cents. Other principal European monetary units held steady in quiet trading. The pound sterling was unchanged at $3.99⅝.

FOOTBALL BONDS.

I have been offered a $500 par value bond of the University of Pittsburgh Stadium. The bond pays 6 per cent and is due in 1949. Can you give me some information on this issue?—E. A.

Answer: University of Pittsburgh Stadium 6s of 1949 are secured by a first mortgage on the University of Pittsburgh Stadium and the land upon which it is built. All liability of the university is confined to the stadium and the land.

Issued in the amount of $2,100,000, a total of $552,000 of these bonds had been retired by Dec. 7, 1938, the last date for which such information is available. Twenty per cent of gross gate receipts is to be applied to purchase of the bonds annually.

As is the case with most stadium issues, holders of these bonds have preferred seats at all football games. Seats are reserved for application of the bondholders on the basis of two seats for each $500 bond owned.

The times which interest has been earned in recent years:

Year.	Times earned.	Year.	Times earned.
1934	0.94	1937	2.20
1935	1.21	1938	2.64
1936	0.86

These bonds are selling at a price to yield about 8 per cent, which indicates that the financial community considers them speculative.

WHERE IS IT?

I notice a newspaper advertisment recommending the shipping of freight by the Midland Continental railroad in connection with the Northern Pacific and the Milwaukee road. I never heard of the Midland Continental before. Where is it?—J. D.

Answer: Midland Continental railroad is a small line of about 70 miles running from Edgeley to Wimbledon, in the southeast section of North Dakota. It operates in Lamoure, Stutsman, and Barnes counties. Incorporated in 1912, the original plan was to build a line from Winnipeg, Canada, to the Gulf of Mexico. These plans did not materialize.

ON ITS OWN.

What company owns the Central Electric and Telephone company?—A. Z.

Answer: Central Electric and Telephone company is an independent organization, not controled by any other company. It furnishes telephone, electric, gas, and water services to cities in Iowa, Minneapolis, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, North Carolina, and West Virginia.

SEEKS PRICE PROBE.

Creation of a five man congressional committee to investigate the farm machinery business is sought in a resolution introduced by Representative Hare [D., S. C.]. The committee would seek to determine the causes of "unreasonable prices" of farm machinery and implements and recommend legislation to reduce prices.

PUT CHICAGOANS ON STAND IN AUTO ANTITRUST SUIT

Testimony Limited Under Ruling by Court.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 1 [Special].—Eleven Chicago Chevrolet dealers took the stand today as the defense in the General Motors corporation antitrust trial endeavored to put in the record testimony that would show the dealers had not been coerced in the operation of their agencies.

Neither the Chicagoans nor 11 other General Motor dealers were permitted to testify concerning their relations with General Motors except in direct refutation of testimony by previous government witnesses.

Many Questions Asked.

Questions asked by Henry M. Hogan, defense attorney, centered on how many new and used cars each dealer had sold between January, 1934, and May, 1938; what proportion of the sales were made on time; what percentage of the time sales went to General Motors Acceptance corporation; the names of the independent finance companies with which the dealers did business; whether they had ever been coerced into using G. M. A. C. in financing time sales, and whether they ever paid for any national advertising.

To all these questions Holmes Baldridge, chief government counsel, objected, and Judge Walter C. Lindley, following his ruling of yesterday, sustained the objections. Hogan then read into the record, as an offer of proof, the answers the witnesses would have given if they had been permitted to testify.

Witnesses Listed.

Chicago dealers who testified today were Harry L. Lewis, Jacob D. Levin, Samuel D. Ruby, Joseph M. Schatz, Fred Osterman, Joseph A. McInerny, Carl Duefel, Harry E. Miller, James F. McManus Jr., M. J. Osterbeek, and George C. Fritz.

J. J. Hubbard, Francesville, Ind., said he was the oldest Chevrolet dealer in point of service in the United States, having begun business in 1913 before the car was known as Chevrolet.

Hunter was permitted to testify that he had never heard W. E. Holler, Chevrolet sales manager and one of the defendants, say he "had no use for or patience with dealers who did not avail themselves of G. M. A. C." Previous government witnesses had testified that Holler had made the statement at a dealer meeting in Michigan. Hunter said he had attended the meeting.

LAWYERS ARGUE POINT OF ETHICS IN INSULL CASE

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday set Dec. 4 for final arguments on a motion to dismiss a suit for recovery of principal and interest on debentures of the defunct Insull Utility Investments, Inc., from 11 former directors.

He indicated he would rule later on the motion of Attorney Floyd E. Thompson attacking the validity of the suit. Thompson, who represents Samuel Insull Jr. and H. L. Stuart, former Insull Utility directors, contends opposing counsel lack authority to file the suit on behalf of 29 debenture holders.

Roger Q. White and Lewis F. Jacobson, the other attorneys, protested that Thompson's demand for proof of their authority cast a reflection upon their integrity.

"Of course there is no reflection upon your professional integrity," said Judge Wilkerson. "It is only a question of law."

CHICAGO AREA BUILDING IS FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

Permits issued in Chicago during October numbered 277, for buildings valued at $3,712,796, compared with 197 permits for structures costing $1,734,015 in October of last year.

Compared with September, there was a slight falling off in number and a large decrease in value. During September there were 284 permits for buildings costing $7,310,782.

According to Building Commissioner Schmidt home building again showed a large increase over the corresponding month of last year. Permits were issued for 203 single family dwellings last month, compared with 144 a year ago.

United States Steel Export Subsidiary Changes Name

Cleveland, O., Nov. 1 (AP).—The United States Steel Products company, export subsidiary of United States Steel corporation, today changed its name to United States Steel Export company. American Steel and Wire company, also a United States Steel subsidiary, in making the announcement, said: "By substituting the word 'export' for the word 'products' it is felt that the company name will indicate more clearly the business carried on by the company."

EARNINGS OF 14 AIR LINES DROP IN SEPTEMBER

Other Firms Report Varying Results.

Combined profits of fourteen domestic air lines were smaller in September than in August, a compilation based on earnings reports filed with the Civil Aeronautics authority showed yesterday.

Net income, before taxes, of the fourteen lines in September totaled $621,703, compared with $695,300 for the same lines in the preceding month. Gross operating revenues totaled $4,420,587, against $4,487,900, and net operating revenues amounted to $646,738, compared with $738,100.

The figures covered all of the leading domestic lines except three – Boston-Maine, Eastern, and Pennsylvania-Central – which had not yet filed their monthly reports with the authority.

September Revenues Listed.

Results for September were as follows:

Net income after taxes for September was reported as follows: American, $33,060; Braniff, $14,136; Chicago and Southern, $9,218; Continental, $3,410; Delta, $18,600; Inland, $3,507; Mid-Continent, $7,574, and United, $157,315.

The largest quarterly earnings since the third quarter of 1937 were reported by National Steel corporation, the nation's fifth largest steel producer. The company's statement reflected improvement in the industry within recent months.

Earns $1.32 a Share.

Earnings of National Steel for the September quarter totaled $2,903,881, equal to $1.32 a common share. Profit was $1,813,997, or 82 cents a share, in the corresponding period last year. In the September quarter of 1937 earnings were $5,227,071, or $2.41 a share.

National Cash Register company had net income of $1,304,641, equal to 80 cents a share, in the first nine months of the current year. In the corresponding period last year profit was $1,699,616, or $1.04 a share.

September quarter earnings of Bristol-Myers company were $625,159, or 92 cents a share, compared with $828,580, or $1.21 a share in the third quarter of 1938.

Barnsdall Profit Falls.

Earnings of Barnsdall Oil company for the first nine months of 1939 declined to $1,262,466, or 56 cents a share, from $2,602,329, or $1.15 a share, in the first three quarters of 1938. Indicated earnings during the September quarter were $204,427, or 9 cents a share, against $912,290, or 40 cents a share, in the third quarter last year.

Standard Cap and Seal corporation, Chicago manufacturer of milk bottle caps and sealing machines, had earnings of $503,098, or $1.74 a share, in the first nine months of 1939. Net income in the first three quarters last year totaled $489,912, or $1.69 a share.

New Evidence of Industrial Rise Reported

Numerous new evidences of the industrial expansion that started on a broad scale late this summer were disclosed yesterday.

At a meeting at the Palmer House the National Association of Shippers' Advisory Boards revised upward the estimate it made several weeks ago of the number of freight cars that will be required to handle freight shipments in the last quarter of this year.

The board now expects that shippers will now require 6,021,103 freight cars to handle their business instead of the 5,784,468 originally estimated.

The increase over the 5,083,573 cars actually loaded in the fourth quarter of 1938 amounts to 18.4 per cent, instead of the 13.8 per cent originally estimated.

New and Old Estimates Compared.

Iron, coal, steel, and lumber were the products which are expected to show the largest increases in shipments. Among the main increases, together with the original estimates, were: Iron and steel, 51.8 per cent and 29 per cent; coal and coke, 22.8 and 15.8 per cent; lumber and forest products, 17.6 and 11.7 per cent; brick and clay products, 15.2 and 10.3 per cent; automobiles, trucks and parts, 14.5 and 11.2 per cent; paper, paperboard and prepared roofing, 15 to 11.2 per cent.

All of the 13 districts served by advisory boards are expected to show increases. The largest gain predicted was 33.9 per cent for the Allegheny district, which includes Pittsburgh. The midwest district, which includes Chicago, expects a 21 per cent increase.

Largest Output on Record.

E. F. McDonald Jr., president of the Zenith Radio corporation, Chicago, said the company has passed a production mark of 12,500 radio receivers a day.

"This is a mass production record which we have been gradually building up to and which has never before been equaled in the history of radio manufacturing," McDonald said.

"In October Zenith shipped the largest number of radio receivers it has ever shipped for a single month. Even with our enormous production we will not be able to fill our backlog of orders by Dec. 1."

International Agricultural Chemical corporation, a leading fertilizer producer, announced plans for a $1,500,000 additional development of its potash resources near Carlsbad, N. M., by the Union Potash and Chemical company, a subsidiary.

The Yellow Truck and Coach company, a division of the General Motors corporation, submitted the low bid for the manufacture of 1,155 new trucks for the United States army. The bid was $1,107 per truck.

NEWSPAPER ADS GIVEN CREDIT IN ICE SALES BOOST

Extensive use of newspaper advertising has boosted sales of ice and ice refrigerators this year, Hurley G. Hust, advertising director of the National Association of Ice Industries, said yesterday at the organization's annual convention in Chicago.

Hust told delegates at meetings at the Hotel Sherman that the association's advertising campaign next year, totaling more than $500,000, will be the largest in its history. The 1940 appropriation originally was $50,000. An exhibit of 50 newspaper campaigns used by ice companies in 1939 is on display at the convention.

CONSUMERS EXPAND BUYING 1.7 BILLION IN NINE MONTH PERIOD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 [Special].—Consumer purchasing volume in the first nine months this year was about $1,700,000,000 larger than in the corresponding 1938 period, the department of commerce reported today.

The volume of retail trade for the period, the department said, amounted to $26,900,000,000, or about 7 per cent more than in the corresponding 1938 period. Business in 1939 being at a lower price level, the gain in physical volume was even larger, the department said.

July and August retail trade showed a moderate slackening in the rate of gain over 1938, as compared with the year to year increase reported in April, May, and June, the report said, but a pickup in September brought the gain over 1938 to about 8 per cent for both quarters.

Stocking up of commodities by consumers during the early days of the European war apparently was confined largely to the retail food field and was not pronounced there, the report said.

EDISON GROUP'S POWER OUTPUT BREAKS RECORD

The Commonwealth Edison company yesterday reported that production of electric power by units in its system totaled 164,191,000 kilowatt hours in the week ended Oct. 28, an increase of 20.1 per cent over 1938.

An analysis of figures issued by the company in the last two months indicated that output for industrial use in October established a new 1939 record. The company on Tuesday reported September industrial production was the best of the year.

The following table shows power output for September and October, and each week's percentage increase over 1938. Both total output and weekly increases were larger last month than in September.

The nation's power production in the week ended last Saturday established another all-time peak at 2,538,779,000 kilowatt hours.

CHICAGO TRAFFIC GAINS SHOWN BY BUS, 'L,' TROLLEY

October traffic of the Chicago Motor Coach company increased 1.26 per cent over last year, the company reported yesterday. Passengers numbered 4,966,078, against 4,904,481 a year ago. In the first 10 months of 1939 the company's buses carried 47,971,118 passengers, against 47,507,368 a year earlier.

The Chicago Rapid Transit company reported that October traffic on the elevated lines was 1.77 per cent larger this year than last.

Nation's Steel Rate Pushes Still Higher

The nation's active steel industry is operating at 93 per cent of theoretical capacity, the highest operating rate attained since the postwar boom days of 1929 and 1 point above last week's rate.

A survey issued yesterday by Iron Age, trade publication, said output will approximate 1,270,000 tons this week, topping the all-time weekly peak of 1,193,284 tons recorded in May, 1929, when the industry operated at its full theoretical capacity of that date.

Another Peak Predicted.

When the figures are compiled, October production is expected to establish a new all-time monthly high, exceeding the May, 1929, record of 5,286,246 tons. The industry's production facilities have been greatly enlarged since 1929.

Meanwhile orders for steel to be delivered in the first quarter of 1940 are piling up with increasing rapidity, and Iron Age said that all production for those three months will be sold out within a few weeks if sales maintain current levels.

Prices Delayed Further.

The delay in announcement of first quarter prices, originally expected about a month ago, is unexplained, the magazine said. It added that there may be no horizontal increase on all steel lines, but adjustments of some prices which are out of line with costs.

Steel companies are expected "to exercise restraint" regarding first quarter prices, Iron Age said. Nevertheless, raw material prices are moving upward again after a three week reaction and this will tend to boost production costs, the magazine added.

HINT MEXICANS WON'T RESTORE SEIZED OIL LAND

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1 (AP).—A proposal that the Mexican petroleum industry "be totally and completely nationalized" was placed before delegates of the PRM, administration political party, at the opening session of a three day national convention today.

The proposal was contained in a platform submitted by the executive board of the party. This proposed party policy for the next six years is to be discussed at tomorrow's convention session.

The draft of the platform also proposed that "in case it is found absolutely necessary to compensate [the foreign oil companies whose property was expropriated a year ago last March] because of the nationalization, and always with the proviso that the concessions had not been of a vicious origin or expired, the laws should prescribe that compensation never should be more than the amount not yet regained from the just investments which may have been made."

REVEAL SLUMP BLOCKED 2D GIANT IN STEEL

2 Leaders Tell How Merger Failed.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The federal monopoly investigating committee heard today that the business depression of the early 1930s frustrated a proposal to merge a group of "little steel" companies into a giant corporation second only in size to the 2 billion dollar United States Steel corporation. The committee opened a study of the iron and steel industry.

E. B. Greene, president of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, and Crispin Oglebay, president of Oglebay, Norton & Co., both of Cleveland, outlined the merger proposal. Among the companies expected to participate, they said, were Wheeling Steel corporation, Otis Steel company, Republic Steel corporation, Inland Steel company, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

Both Firms Sell Ore.

The two presidents, both of whose companies are engaged in selling iron ore, said they had brought their competing companies together in hopes of playing a part in the consolidation that failed.

Greene and Oglebay said that their companies were "substantial competitors" when Cleveland-Cliffs acquired control of Oglebay, Norton stock in May, 1930, and that they tried to avoid publicity on this transaction.

With both executives testifying at the same time, A. H. Feller, justice department attorney directing testimony, submitted a letter from files of the Cleveland-Cliff Iron company which said the affiliation would help minimize "tendencies which have prevented iron ore producers from getting a fair price for their product."

Warns Against Publicity.

The letter also warned that too much "publicity might result in opposition on the part of the public or the consumers to a move which they may construe as tending towards an undue control of prices."

"The merger failed to take place, and our two companies have acted as tho there was no ownership of one in the other, and have operated independently," Greene said. In response to questions, he said the failure was "largely due to the depression."

He agreed with questioners that formation of Republic Steel in 1930 was a step in the proposed merger when it acquired Central Alloy, Donner Coke, and Bourne-Fuller Steel.'

Greene denied he was influential in selection of Tom Girdler as board chairman for Republic Steel. Feller read Cliffs corporation memorandums stating that Eaton and W. G. Mather, former president of Cleveland-Cliffs, had urged selection of Girdler.

The committee room was filled with leaders in the steel industry and their staffs. Among the executives were E. R. Stettinius, chairman, and B. F. Fairless, president of United States Steel.

Plan Big Mart in America for Our Neighbors

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—Latin American diplomats and United States business men met today and opened a campaign to stimulate this country's purchases of Latin American goods. They agreed to establish a huge market place in New York City.

The proposed merchandizing center, probably to be located in Rockefeller center, would afford business men from both continents a place to meet, show their wares and discuss business.

Edward J. Noble, undersecretary of commerce, discussed the project at a press conference after the meeting, which was sponsored by the department of commerce.

He said United States purchases from Latin America were emphasized because a big volume of orders from Latin America—estimated by some at $250,000,000 — had been switched to this country because of the European war.

Urges Balance Be Kept.

Noble said business between the Americas would be seriously disrupted if the United States sold a great deal more merchandise in Latin America without balancing the sales with purchases.

He described the meeting as a "down to brass tacks" session in which 13 prominent United States retailers told 20 invited delegates from 16 Latin American republics exactly what the retailers might purchase. They exhibited more than a dozen samples of merchandise formerly bought in Europe which now might be taken from Latin America.

The retailers said that Latin American manufacturers had concentrated too much on specialty items, particularly souvenirs, and ought to turn instead to more valuable items including some types of handbags, sweaters, special types of glassware, fancy linens, rugs, and some rayon and woolen items.

Countries Represented.

Countries represented in the conference were Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

Among retail representatives were George Artamonoff, Chicago, president of Sears International; Edwin W. Bruno, New York, president of the E. W. Bruno corporation; T. J. Burns, New York, merchandise director of the W. T. Grant company; Saul Cohn, New York, president of the National Retail Dry Goods association; David R. Craig, Washington, president of the American Retail federation; F. J. Emmerich, New York, vice president of the Kresge department stores, and Donald M. Nelson, Chicago, representing Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Pullman-Standard is transferring its wheel manufacturing operations from Houston to Hammond and American Brake Shoe is transferring its wheel operations from Hammond to Houston.

INLAND, BALDWIN BATTLE NLRB OVER UNION CASES

Steel Firm Tells Court It Was Unfairly Treated at Hearing; Locomotive Maker Files Bias Charges.

Accusations of biased conduct and violation of constitutional rights were flung at the National Labor Relations board in two labor controversies yesterday. The NLRB, acting in a third case, ordered dissolution of a union that has been in existence for 20 years.

Inland Steel company told the United States Circuit Court of Appeals that the NLRB examiner who heard its case deprived the company of a fair hearing. Baldwin Locomotive works filed with the board a brief accusing a labor board examiner of biased handling of its hearing.

Western Union Telegraph company was ordered by the NLRB to disestablish an employés' organization as a bargaining agency.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia today charged a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations board with biased conduct and denial of the company's constitutional rights in hearings involving the company.

Dismissal of the complaint against the company was asked in a 440 page brief in answer to the 94 page report of the examiner, Robert N. Denham, who last August recommended an injunction against the company. The brief was filed with the board by Gilbert H. Montague of New York City, counsel for the Baldwin company.

Company Domination Alleged.

The complaint against the Baldwin company was instituted on Dec. 21, 1938, and charged the company with dominating an independent union and interfering with organizing activities of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee, a branch of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, headed by John L. Lewis. The company denied the charges.

The company's brief accused the trial examiner of the following acts:

1. Refusal to issue subpenas requested by the company.

2. Protecting the board and SWOC and the board's witnesses as contrasted with his manner toward the company's witnesses.

3. Allowing the board's counsel wide latitude in asking leading questions as contrasted with strict limitations imposed upon the company's counsel in asking alleged leading questions and examining witnesses.

4. Interference with conduct of the case by company's counsel when the board's counsel failed to object.

Declares Burdens Excessive.

5. Abusive treatment of company's counsel.

6. Imposition of excessive burdens upon company's counsel in his conduct of the case.

7. Acting as counsel for the board in examining witnesses.

8. Calling witnesses on behalf of the trial examiner to bolster the board's case.

9. Reserving ruling upon the company's motion to dismiss the complaint.

All of these actions, said the brief, are "ghastly contradictions" of the board's statements about fairness of its proceedings, contained in an official release on Dec. 3, 1938, and the board's first annual report.

Referring to nearly 4,200 rulings made by the trial examiner in the trial, which lasted more than five

Attorneys for the Inland Steel company in oral arguments before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday reiterated their statements that the company was "unjustly" treated in a hearing before the National Labor Relations board in 1937. They declared further that the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, C. I. O. affiliate which had filed charges against the company with the labor board, was not a labor union and consequently was not a proper bargaining agent for the company's workers.

Examiner Wood Assailed.

His company is asking that the court set aside a labor board order entered Nov. 12, 1938, which directed Inland to bargain collectively with the S. W. O. C. and withdraw its support from the Steel Workers Independent Union.

Attorney Frederic Burnham told Judges Evan A. Evans, Will M. Sparks, and J. Earl Major that the actions of Charles A. Wood, examiner for the labor board, in the four month hearing two years ago, were "so biased and prejudiced as to deprive the Inland Steel company of a fair hearing.' Burnham was joined in the attack on Wood by Attorney Ernest S. Ballard.

Attorneys Ernest A. Gross and Richard C. Barrett, counsel for the NLRB, took up the cudgels for Wood. Gross attacked the conduct of Burnham at the hearing.

Cites Ejection of Court Reporter.

Burnham, in assailing Wood, said the examiner's conduct was so prejudiced that it deprived the company of the entire "due process of law" as guaranteed by the constitution. He declared the company's rights "were taken away from it" and said "it was not accorded the rudimentary elements of fair play."

He said that the examiner had ordered ejected from the hearing room an unofficial court reporter brought in by the Inland Steel attorneys for the purpose of taking down

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 1.—Irregularly lower prices ruled at the close of trading on the stock market today. Trading lacked vigor and only 794,370 shares were sold, against 1,011,582 yesterday.

Opinion was general in Wall Street that questions arising out of the European war continue to be the chief restraining factors. Altho further study of the Russian premier's speech removed any impression here that the soviets desired to end the war, peacefully, the absence of any real fighting news and the protracted congressional action on the neutrality bill tend to make raders cautious, according to observers.

Steel shares opened higher, gave ground, then moved up again. United States Steel added ⅛ of a point. Youngstown also gained, but Republic, Bethlehem, and Crucible closed lower. Motors continued depressed by union labor troubles. Both Chrysler and General Motors slipped fractionally. Motor truck shares steadied around previous finals, with Yellow Truck fairly active.

Oil stocks closed uniformly higher in more active trading. Standard Oil of New Jersey climbed a point. Aviations also gave a relatively good performance, Douglas, Sperry, Aviation corporation, Glenn Martin, Curtiss-Wright, and North American Aviation displaying a firm trend. Rails were fractionally lower.

Fractionally lower prices ruled in copper and merchandising issues, altho in the latter Sears Roebuck bulged a fraction. Leading rubbers worked fractionally higher. Chemical shares closed little changed.

Another stock exchange seat was sold today, this time for $62,000, an increase of $2,000 over yesterday's sale.

New York Bonds.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—The main trend in today's bond market was downward, but low yield corporate issues and foreign dollar loans made wide gains.

Traders thought the positions of many of the foreign loans had been strengthened as a result of the persistent selling in the last two months.

In the low yield field fractionally higher prices were paid for Firestone Tire 3½s, Goodrich 4¼s, Chesapeake and Ohio 3½s, New York Steam 3½s, Montana Power 3¾s, and Standard Oil of New Jersey 2¾s.

United States government issues lost momentum after a higher opening. A few treasuries held on to gains ranging to 16-32ds, but a larger number closed 1-32ds to 8-32ds lower.

Chicago Stocks.

Most issues on the Chicago Stock exchange declined fractionally to a point or more yesterday. Trading was light. Several volume leaders resisted the downward movement with gains ranging from ⅛ to 1¼.

Commonwealth Edison, most active issue, finished unchanged at 31 on a turnover of 4,800 shares. Loudon, Middle West, Aviation and Transportation, H. W. Gossard, Aviation corporation, and Zenith Radio ended on the up side. Armour and Advance Aluminum were slightly slower.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois National stock was bid up 3½ points to a new 1939 high of 83½ in yesterday's unlisted trading in Chicago bank stocks. The former high mark was 82½. Brokers said demand for the issue was based on rumors that the $25,000,000 cumulative preferred stock issue will be retired soon. Part of the issue is held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Fourth quarter tin export quotas yesterday underwent their second revision since they were originally announced at 60 per cent of standard tonnages by the international tin committee. The committee boosted the quotas to 100 per cent from the 80 per cent level prevailing since Oct. 11.

The revision, made to relieve the tight supply situation in London, is expected to release an additional 3,000 tons of tin for export from producing countries each month.

Cash tin at New York dropped 1 cent to 55 cents a pound, down 19 cents from its war-boom peak and only 6 cents higher than at the end of August. Tin futures closed ⅛ cent higher to 1¼ cents lower.

Sugar futures pushed upward, with the world contracts lagging slightly due to reports that Britain will not ration sugar because of sufficient supplies. Final domestic futures prices were .07 to .08 cent a pound higher, and world futures advanced .02 to .03½ cent. The nominal raw sugar quotation was raised .05 cent a pound to 3.25 cents, but an actual sale occurred at 2.95 cents, up .05 cent from the last sale.

Cash silk came down from Tuesday's nine year peak, dropping 5 cents to $3.52½ a pound. Futures sank as much as 3 cents a pound. Other commodities were uneven.

Deliveries of butter and eggs on November contracts yesterday depressed prices of both commodities on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Egg futures closed unchanged to 0.20 cent a dozen lower, with Novembers at 17.10 cents a dozen. Butter futures lost 0.05 to 0.15 cent a pound. The spot contract finished at 27 cents a pound. Deliveries of butter totaled 537,600 pounds, and of eggs, 204,000 dozens.

STANDARD OIL DECLARES EXT[RA] 25 CENT DIVIDE[ND]

Deere Votes 75 Cent[s] Common Stock.

Directors of the Standard Oil [com]pany of New Jersey yesterday [de]clared an extra dividend of 25 [cents] a share on common stock, along [with] the regular semi-annual dividend [of] 50 cents and a stock dividend [of] three shares for each 200 shares [held]. All are payable Dec. 15.

Last year the company adopted [a] policy of paying dividends partly [in] stock to conserve cash, and [three] shares for each 200 held were [paid] Dec. 15, 1938. During 1938 a total [of] $1.50 in cash was paid, including [a] 50 cent extra on June 1. On June [15] this year the semi-annual 50 [cents] was paid, plus two shares for [each] 200 held.

Deere to Make Payment.

Deere & Co. declared a dividend of 75 cents on the common, payable Dec. 1, the first dividend on [the] issue since $1.35 was paid Oct. [1] 1938.

Phelps Dodge corporation declared a year-end dividend of 75 cents a common share, payable Dec. 8. With three 25 cent dividends previously paid this year, total 1939 payments will amount to $1.50, compared [with] $1 last year.

International Shoe company [de]clared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock, payable Nov. 27. Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company resumed payments on the common with the declaration of $1 [a] share, payable Dec. 1. Archer-Daniels-Midland company raised the usual payment on the common when directors voted 35 cents a share, payable D[ec.] 1. In preceding quarters this year the company paid 25 cents a share.

WHEAT FUTURES SELL LOWER IN LISTLESS TRADE

Wheat prices moved listlessly yesterday within a range of slightly less than 1 cent a bushel. There was a little buying early in the session based on continued drouth reports from the west and southwest, but the market eased later on scattered selling. Closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were ¼ to ⅝ cent lower.

The wheat market is regarded by brokers as in a rut with some new incentive needed to bring about a decided change in prices.

Intimations of further export business in corn and light offerings by farmers failed to have much influence on that grain and futures closed ⅛ to ½ cent lower.

Soy beans were unsettled with futures closing ¼ cent lower to ½ cent higher, the latter on May. Shipments from Chicago Tuesday aggregated 490,000 bushels, including 53,000 bushels direct to Denmark, and 235,000 bushels to Canadian ports.

BUSINESS GROUP CONSULTS SEC ON LOAN FACILITIES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—New York business men discussed with Securities and Exchange commission officials today various proposals for providing additional facilities for small business.

One plan considered was a bill introduced by Senator Mead [D., N. Y.] to establish a government industrial loan corporation and a system of insured small loans.

Representing business were W. C. Hardesty, president of the Smaller Business Association of New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut, Inc., and Henry Modell, chairman of the association's small loans committee. Chairman Jerome Frank and Commissioner Leon Henderson spoke for the SEC.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The largest Wednesday receipts of hogs in six weeks weakened prices at the stock yards yesterday. However, demand expanded sharply after prices had declined 5 to 10 cents, and the clearance was the best in some time.

Best grades of steers and yearlings held firm, while those lacking some in quality were off 10 to 15 cents.

A seasonal increase in the marketing of live stock swelled October receipts at the Chicago stockyards to the largest volume since May. However, supplies ran well below a year ago. Combined receipts of cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep totaled 717,932 head, compared with 819,161 during October of last year.

RIGHTS IGNORED BY NLRB, SAYS INLAND STEEL

Charges C. I. O. Affiliate Was No Labor Union.

"The examiner took an extremely hostile and partisan attitude, both in regard to the witnesses for the board and to the witnesses for the Inland Steel company," Burnham said. "He attacked and badgered the witnesses for the company and otherwise injected himself and his opinions into the record so that a reflection of his views was stamped on it for any one else who might read or review the proceedings."

S. W. O. C. Is Challenged.

Ballard said that, a few days after the "little steel strike" against Inland began in 1937, when formal demand was made on behalf of the S. W. O. C. for collective bargaining, the latter was in effect not a labor organization; was not the proper unit for collective bargaining under the national labor relations act, and did not have a majority of the company's employés as members. He said Inland acted in good faith in its refusal to accept recognition to the S. W. O. C.

Ballard explained that according to the company's records on June 8, 1937, the S. W. O. C., or the unions its represented within the C. I. O. organization, had a membership of 6,181 out of the company's 12,928 employes, or less than a majority.

Defends Inland's Stand.

"Inland would have violated the national labor relations act if it had bargained with the S. W. O. C. when it was far short of having a majority of the employés in its membership," Ballard said, "because the act not only provides for collective bargaining with an organization representing a majority of its employés, but specifically provides that a concern must not bargain with an organizatoin that has no majority."

Ballard told the court it was his opinion that if the labor board wishes Inland Steel to sign a written agreement with the Steel Workers Organizing committee it had better appeal to congress, not the courts, for an interpretation of the law. The signing of a written agreement was the principal point at issue in the controversy between the company and the labor board.

Denies Written Pact is Required.

Ballard insisted that there is nothing in the law, or in decisions interpreting it, that requires an employer to reduce to writing a labor agreement he has reached with his employés.

Attorney Gross had argued that the written agreement is the essence of union agreement. "Hence we may assume," he said, "that congress required it as a means of establishing industrial peace."

Later in the hearing Attorney Gross for the labor board attacked the conduct of Burnham at the labor board hearing, but declared that the conduct of the examiner was not an important point in the case.

750 MILLION GAS PROFIT SUIT TRIAL DELAYED

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 1 [Special].—Trial of a suit involving 750 million dollars in profits from the sale of ethyl gasoline was postponed today until Dec. 4 after Vice Chancellor Malcolm G. Buchanan, the presiding judge, commented that the case is a "stupendous fraud on one side or the other."

The action was brought by the now defunct Howard-Vaughan company of Buffalo, which charges that a secret formula for the manufacture of ethyl gasoline was obtained by theft. The defendants, who deny the charges, are the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, General Motors corporation, the Socony-Vacuum Oil company of New York, the Ethyl Gasoline company of New York, and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. of Wilmington, Del.

Charles S. Mackenzie of New York, counsel for the plaintiff, told the court the two key witnesses had been kept from appearing by the "pernicious machinations" of the defendants.

NLRB EXAMINER CALLED BIASED IN RULING FOR C. I. O.

Baldwin Locomotive Co. Asks His Reversal.

months and produced nearly 16,000 pages of stenographic minutes, the company charged in its brief that the examiner disregarded the requirements of the constitution in the kind of evidence which he accepted and in the limitations which he placed upon the company in the presentation of its evidence.

Nearly 250 pages of the company's brief are devoted to detailed examples of violated requirements which the Supreme court has ruled are the essence of the due process clause of the fifth amendment to the constitution.

"The trial examiner, over respondent's objection and exception, struck from the [company's] answer every defense that invoked the constitution of the United States and a number of defenses which invoked the requirements of the national labor relations act," said the brief.

Says No Precedent Exists.

"No precedent exists—outside of Hitler's Germany and Stalin's Russia, it is believed—for any such license to indulge in 'bias or prejudice' as the trial examiner has here claimed for the board. This totalitarian assumption that any 'bias or prejudice' on the part of the board can never be challenged, and that the board can do no wrong, and that the Supreme court decisions hereinabove quoted do not apply to the board or the trial examiner or any of the board's representatives . . . animated the trial examiner's rulings thruout the hearing."

"Day after day, thru 21 weeks of hearings, the trial examiner badgered the respondent's [Baldwin's] counsel with continual threats of exclusion from the hearing," the brief related.

ORDER UNION DISSOLVED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The National Labor Relations board today ordered the Western Union Telegraph company to disestablish its 20 year old Association of Western Union Employés as a bargaining agency, and reimburse its employés for association dues deducted from pay envelopes since July 5, 1935.

The board said its order was based on a finding that the association was "supported and dominated" by the company. The National Labor Relations act designates the support of so-called company unions as an unfair labor practice.

The board also ruled that the company discouraged membership of its employés in other labor organizations by giving employment preference to those who were willing to join the association.

The case against Western Union was field by C. I. O.'s American Communications association.

Labor board officials estimated that between 30,000 and 35,000 Western Union employés were affected by the order.

WORKERS OF TWO FIRMS GRANTED EXTRA PAYMENTS

Special distributions to employés were announced yesterday by two corporations and another increased wages. The International Shoe company, St. Louis, said that it will make an extra payment equal to one week's pay on Nov. 27 to all factory, warehouse, and office employés with continuous service from Jan. 1 of this year, with a maximum of $50 for one worker. The payments will total about $600,000.

The New York Ice Machinery corporation announced a 10 per cent increase in the hourly wage and adoption of a 40 hour week for employés in the corporation's plant at York, Pa.

The Humble Oil and Refining company informed its employés that a special contribution of $430,000, plus $25 to each employé who has been with the company one year or more, will be added this year to the employés account with the Humble annuity and thrift plan.

COURT TO RULE ON DISPUTE IN MAJESTIC CASE

Whether reorganization of the Majestic Radio and Television corporation should proceed under section 10 or 11 of the Chandler act was at issue yesterday before Federal Judge John P. Barnes on a motion of creditors for appointment of a receiver for the corporation.

James B. Duggan, counsel for the Securities and Exchange commission, filed an intervening petition asking dismissal of the Majestic petition and argued a corporation with publicly owned stock must file under section 10, which gives the SEC the right to enter the proceedings.

James A. Sprowl, who filed the bankruptcy petition on Oct. 24 under section 11 on behalf of Majestic, contended the company could act under either section. Judge Barnes, deferring appointment of a receiver, told both sides the court would designate the proper section on Nov. 4.

RESTRAIN TAX COLLECTION ON JERSEY RAIL

Newark, N. J., Nov. 1 [Special.]—Attorney General David T. Wilentz, of New Jersey was restrained by an injunction signed in federal district court here today from attempting to enforce tax claims against the Central Railroad of New Jersey pending final action on the railroad's petition in reorganization proceedings.

The writ prevents the attorney general from including the Jersey Central in the group of railroads against which he is to seek, in the state supreme court in Trenton tomorrow, summary judgments for unpaid taxes for 1932 and 1933. The state has a claim of $7,229,610 against the Jersey Central for those years.

Local Loan Gives You the Service You Want

75% of our loans are Signature Only Loans to employed men and women. LOCAL LOAN originated and perfected this salary loan service because the great body of employed people—young or old and regardless of occupation—are entitled to a simplified loan method.

Our aim is to offer you whatever plan will enable you to borrow most easily. LOCAL LOAN makes liberal Furniture and Auto Loans, but if you are steadily employed we prefer to make you a loan On Your Signature Only without mortgages or endorsers. You may borrow $25 to $300—

On Your Signature Only

You make your own repayment terms [repaying any time within 20 months], and you are charged only for the actual time you have the money.

When you deal with LOCAL LOAN you borrow without the knowledge of your employer, friends and relatives.

We cannot tell you all about our service in our advertisement. Just phone one of the following offices. Your loan request can be taken over the telephone so you can obtain the money more quickly when you call in person.

A Loan Plan for Everybody

Reduced Rates

Monthly rate reduced to 2¼% on loan balances of $150 or less and 2% on loan balances above $150.

LOAN	AVERAGE MONTHLY PAYMENTS* [including interest].
$ 50	$ 3.16
100	6.32
150	9.47
200	12.59
250	15.67
300	18.73

*Based on 20 months. Other amounts from $10 to $300 in proportion. 1 to 20 months to pay.

Save the Difference

Commonwealth's charge is less on all loans than the maximum permitted by law. Our monthly rate of 2¼% on loan balances of $150 or less and only 2% on loan balances above applies to ALL TYPES and CLASSES OF LOANS. Any one who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course, persons whose incomes are above average can afford to make larger payments and thus make substantial reductions in their loan cost.

No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Applications received by personal call, letter, or telephone will receive immediate attention.

As little as $2.00 to $2.26 a week repays in full, including all charges, a $150 loan over 20 months at America's largest loan company. No salary assignments.

$2.00 a week on the average is all you need to set aside for every $150 borrowed on Personal's new amazing "Special" loan plan of only 1¼% per month on the actual balance owed. This plan is for persons with a steady income or salary sufficient to meet payments promptly without undue credit strain and a good credit record. You don't need co-makers, life insurance, or bankable securities.

For persons without established credit and employment ratings and who wish to carry a loan larger than 8 to 12% of annual salary or income, Personal offers its "Regular" loan plan. On this plan an average of $2.26 set aside per week takes care of everything on a $150 loan—the charge is based on 3% monthly on unpaid balances of $100 and less and 2% monthly on unpaid balances over $100.

Loans up to $300 on either plan on your personal note, or with furniture or auto. Co-maker loans are also available on "Regular" plan. Seize this opportunity to save on loan costs. Come in or telephone today.

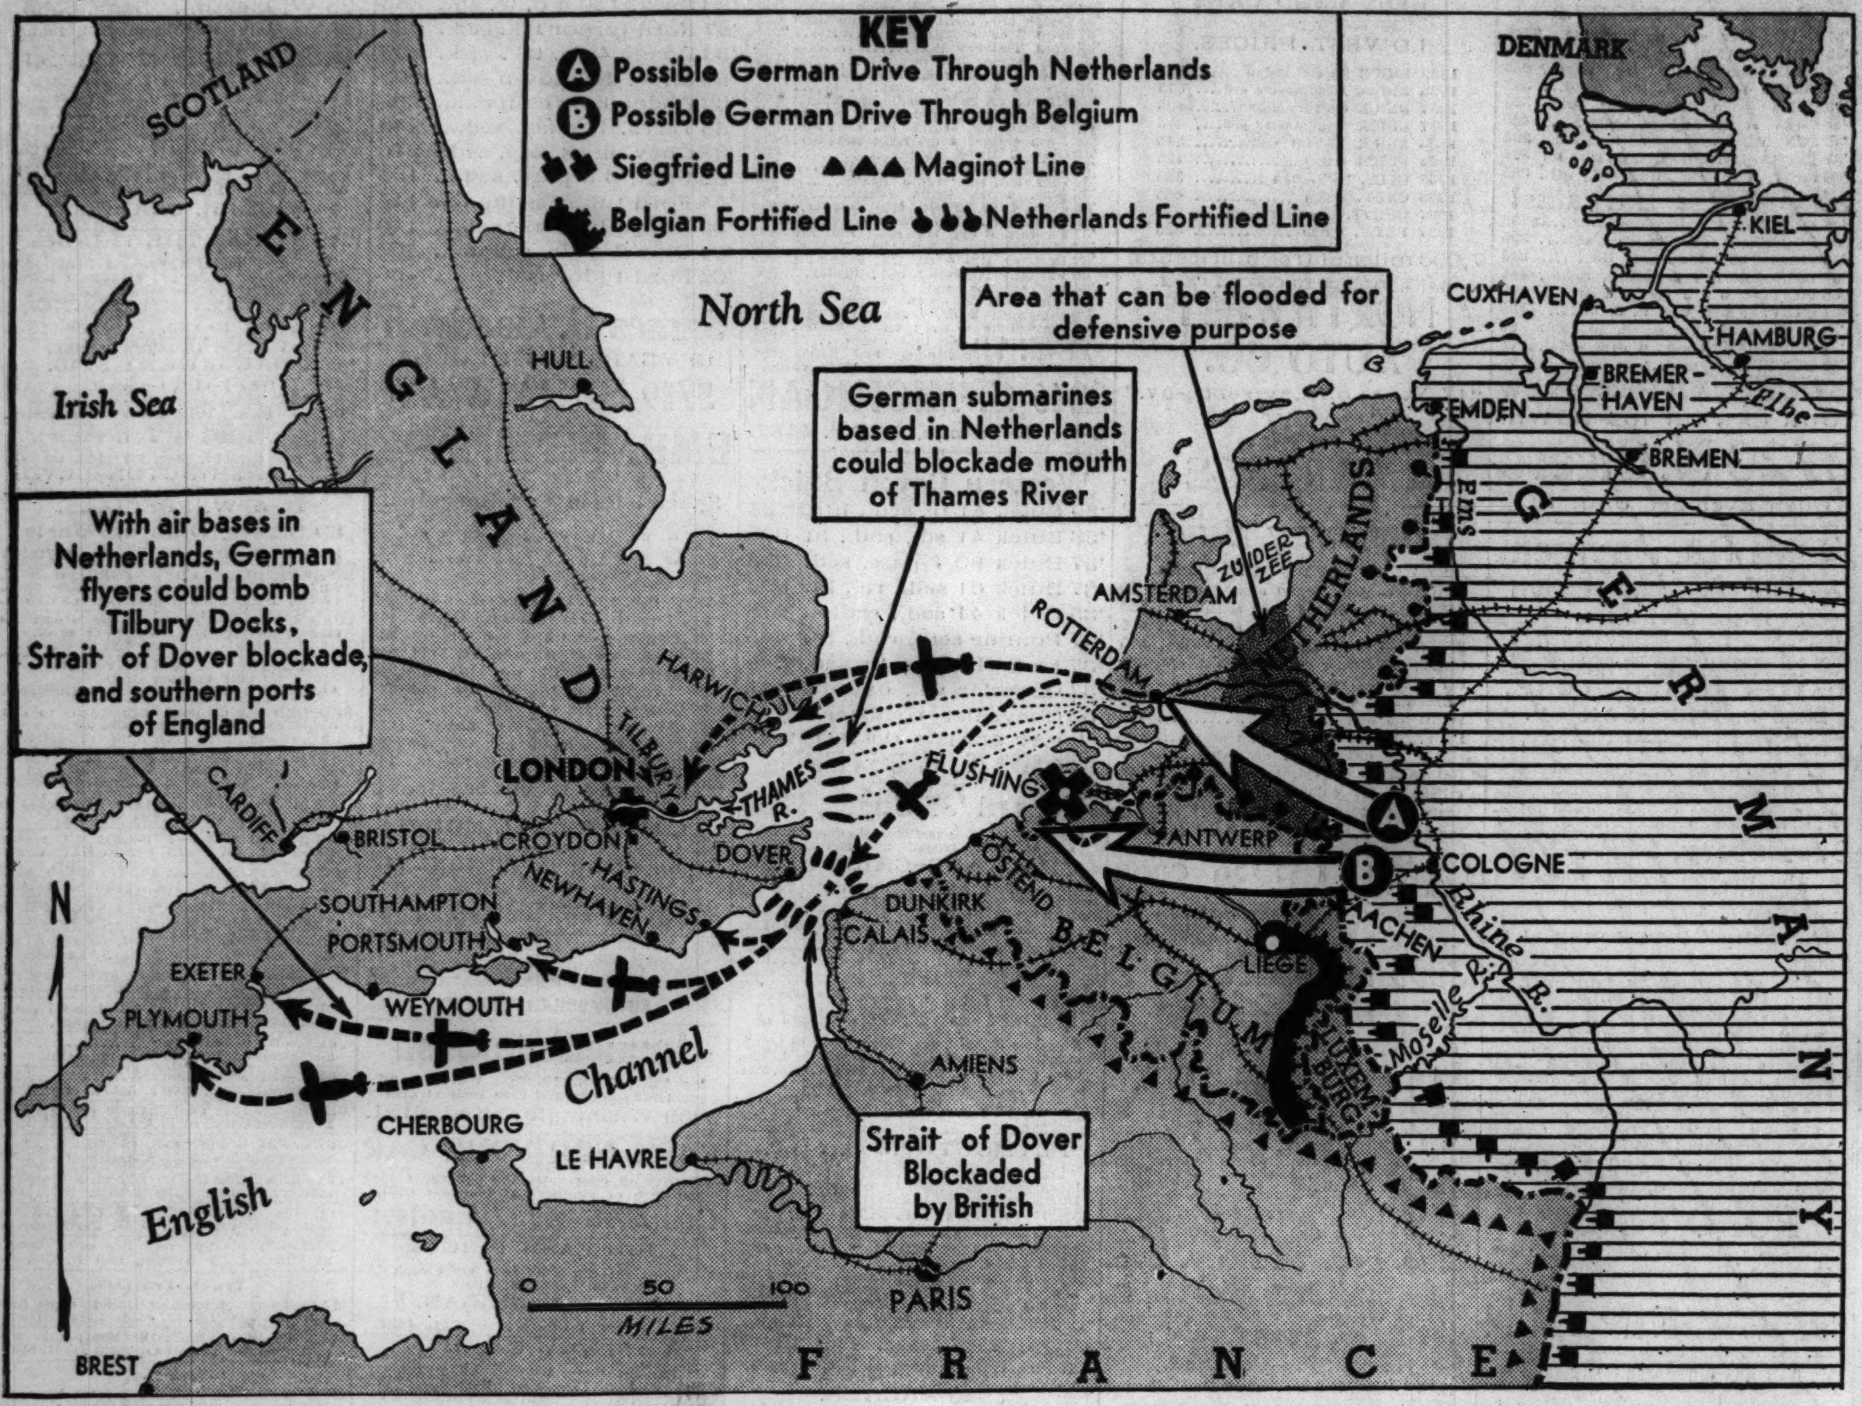
Martial Law Declared in Key Defense Communities of The Netherlands—Entire Family on Trial for Fraud



If the Germans should strike thru the Netherlands or Belgium and gain lodgement on the coast, the map shows how their attack on England might be waged with planes and submarines. Rotterdam is 140 miles closer to London than the Nazi base at Emden, and Flushing (X) is the closest point to England on the coast which the Germans could reach by rail. The Netherlands yesterday declared martial law in key defense areas.
